Gallagher Quits Post; Troops Invade Howard

CCNY President's Action Is Surprise

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, president of strife-ravaged City College of New York announced today he is resigning effective Monday morning.

Gallagher said "politically motivated outside forces" had made it impossible for him to "carry on the processes of reason and persuasion."

Gallagher was first chancellor of the California State College System, following its reorganization. He took over the job in April 1961, but resigned later, being replaced by the present chancellor Dr. Glenn S. Dumke.)

ROCKS, BRICKS

Two days ago City College was the scene of a bloody racial clash and yesterday fighting continued and a major fire heavily damaged a campus auditorium.

At Howard University in Washington, D.C., riot police sent tear gas rockets into a dormitory after federal marshals, putting an end to a two-day six-building sit-in, were pelted with rocks, bricks and cans.

CCNY's Gallagher read this statement to newsmen in his office this morning:

"My own functions as a reconciler of differences and catalyst for constructive change have become increasingly difficult to carry out. And with the intrusion of politically motivated outside forces in recent days, it has become impossible to carry on the processes of reason and persuasion.

COLLEGE OPEN

"Confronted today with the final impasse, I must relinquish my post to another man, possible one of different temperament. The City of New York and its great college deserve a future which it had been my hopes to realize more fully.

In March, Gallagher, 65, had submitted his resignation to the Board of Higher Education to protest proposed cuts in the City University budget, to be effective at the end of this term.

"Men and events have made this earlier separation necessary," Gallagher said in the surprise announcement.

City College remained open today, despite a faculty senate recommendation that the school be closed in the wake of the two

ABAG Home Rule Group Asks .5%

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

BERKELEY — A surcharge on state income taxes paid by citizens throughout the nine-county Bay Area, including Marin, was proposed last night to the Association of Bay Area Governments to finance regional government.

The association's special committee on regional home rule recommended that the levy be limited to one half of 1 per cent, which would come to 50 cents per $100 paid in state income taxes.

Without providing specific details, the committee also recommended to the executive committee that there also be some form of business privilege tax "of a proportionate rate."

The executive committee, meeting in the Hotel Claremont, deferred action on the special committee's proposals to 7:30 p.m. Thursday, when its regular monthly meeting will be in the hotel. After that, the proposals, which include a host of details of ABAG's plan to transform itself into a strong regional governmental body, will go to its General Assembly on June 11 for final ratification.

The final action will become part of a skeleton bill introduced by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, designed to carry out ABAG's transformation. The vice president of ABAG, Sonoma County Supervisor Ignazio A. Vella, conceded last night, however, that it was unlikely that the ABAG proposal could become law before next year because the Legislature is expected to adjourn by July.

The piggyback income tax probably would start out at three tenths of 1 per cent, then gradually work up to the maximum, according to the chairman of the special committee, Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort.

He noted, however, that such regional needs as sewage treatment could mean "you might come to the area where you might have to raise the limit a little bit." But he predicted it would be five years "before there would be any pressure" to hike the limit.

The special committee's consultant, Victor Jones, a government professor at the University of California, added that Bay Area city governments probably soon will have to start levying surcharges on income taxes.

The special committee agreed that regional government should consider turning to use of the property tax only to finance subregional projects for too small an area to use the surcharge.

Bagley's bill, which would set up a Regional Home Rule Agency, would empower the successor to ABAG to "develop as nec-

Nixon Sets Talk At Ohio University

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — The Florida White House announced today that President Nixon will venture onto one of the nation's largest campuses June 7, delivering the commencement address at Ohio State University.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon has received "quite a number" of invitations to appear at commencement exercises and has chosen OSU, with an enrollment of 41,000 at its Columbus headquarters. There are 4,458 members of the graduating class.

Ziegler said he did not know whether Nixon would make a new statement on campus disorders in his address. The President will appear earlier the same week at two other schools —Gen. Beadle State College in South Dakota on June 3 and the Air Force Academy on June 4.

A graduation exercise of a different sort, Ziegler announced, will take place in the East Room of the White House on May 28. At Nixon's request, he said, the White House will be the setting for the graduation of the 83rd class of the National Academy of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The 100 members of the class were drawn from the ranks of federal, state, county and local law enforcement agencies for a 12-week special course.

In another action, Nixon said he will nominate John William Middendorf II of Greenwich, Conn., a member of the New York Stock Exchange and major campaign contributor, to be ambassador to The Netherlands.

Nixon also will nominate

Cong Plan Summer Drive Aimed At Forcing A Saigon Coalition

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong's high command has called for a summer offensive in South Vietnam to force the Saigon regime to agree to a coalition government and compel the United States to withdraw troops from the country, according to a captured document made public today.

The U.S. mission said the document was issued by the Central Office for South Vietnam, the Viet Cong's supreme headquarters.

"The importance of the summer (offensive) should be clearly pointed out," the document said. "It is a very important phase intended to compel the enemy . . . to accept serious negotiations with us, to withdraw troops, to recognize the National Liberation Front, and to accept a coalition government."

The National Liberation Front (NFL), political arm of the Viet Cong, put forward a 10-point peace program at the Paris talks yesterday. It included a coalition government and withdrawal of all American forces.

The Viet Cong document made public in Saigon outlined these requirements for the summer offensive:

It must be more aggressive stronger and more painful to the Americans and the South Vietnamese than the spring offensive launched Feb. 23.

It must succeed in destroying, wearing down, and disintegrating more American potential, more main force South Vietnamese troops, and especially more South Vietnamese village and hamlet officials.

It must include strong attacks on allied rear bases.

The document also called for incitement of a general uprising among the population, and "liberation of hamlets and wards when the situation is favorable."

The document said the Communists "do not intend to attain the (final) victory overnight or in a single phase . . . The victory will not come to us in such an easy way, but it will come in a difficult and complicated way. It will be a limited victory and not a clearcut, complete victory."

The document claimed 45,000 allied troops were killed in the spring offensive, half of them Americans. Official allied figures for the first five weeks of the offensive—which U.S. experts now feel was the effective period—show 1,718 American, 1,799 South Vietnamese, and 24,361 enemy troops killed in action.

Meanwhile, informed sources said the U.S. Command has received no orders from Washington to scale down offensive operations.

Meanwhile, military spokesmen also reported a half a dozen shellings last night, the worst against two South Vietnamese infantry battalions preparing a night bivouac 42 miles northeast of Saigon.

The mortar barrage caught the troops at dusk, as they were beginning to dig in. Five South Vietnamese soldiers and two American advisers were killed, 82 South Vietnamese were wounded and another 12 South Vietnamese soldiers were reported missing.

In scattered fighting yesterday ranging from 17 miles northwest of Saigon to a mile and a half below the demilitarized zone, American forces reported killing 56 North Vietnamese. Three Americans were killed and seven wounded.

South Turns Down Red's Alliance Government Call

SAIGON (AP) — The Saigon government today rejected the new Viet Cong call for a provisional coalition government but said it is willing to discuss several other points in the 10-part peace program the Communists put before the Paris talks Thursday.

A Foreign Ministry communique said discussions could be held on such questions as exchange of prisoners of war, the re-establishment of the demilitarized zone and respect of the 1962 Geneva agreements on Laos.

This was expected to be unacceptable to the Viet Cong, which had termed its 10-point proposal an "integrated whole."

The communique was in response to the program presented in Paris by Tran Buu Kiem, head of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front delegation.

"On many essential points, the Communist stand, which is still based on the five-point program of the so-called NLF, and Hanoi's four points, has not at all been changed," the statement said.

The communique declared that on other points "the Communist side only reproduces the proposals submitted by our own delegation, namely the reestablishment of the demilitarized zone, the respect of the 1962 Geneva agreements on Laos, and the fundamental principles of the 1954 Geneva agreements

Postal Clerk Gets Theft Term

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal judge sentenced a San Jose postal clerk to a year in prison yesterday for misappropriating funds.

Louis Luna Jr., 37, had pleaded guilty before Judge William T. Sweigert to obtaining $15,000 by altering postal money order receipts.

After selling an order for, say, $100, he would alter the receipt to show a lesser amount and pocket the difference, officials said.

Dolwig In Surprise Bay Action

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A surprising switch by a powerful Senate committee chairman brightened conservationists' hopes today for strong legislation to preserve San Francisco Bay from fill projects.

Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, R-Atherton, head of the Governmental Efficiency Committee, strengthened his own "Save The Bay" bill yesterday, adopting provisions advocated by conservationists.

Previously his measure would have delayed strict controls. He had been the target of heavy criticism from opponents who said he favored commercial interests who want to fill in the swampy bay shores for subdivisions. The bill will now be heard by his committee, probably on Tuesday.

Dolwig's action immediately drew strong praise from a colleague whose own tough bill has been resting in Dolwig's committee without much hope of approval.

"I'm flabbergasted in a pleasant sort of way and I'll be glad to support him," said Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland.

Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, whose tough bay fill control bill was approved by the lower house Local Government Committee Wednesday night, was hopeful but cautious.

"My initial impression, just from reading the press release, is that Senator Dolwig's proposal looks like it is very good for the bay," he said.

But he said "to make sure," he was submitting it to attor-

Bay Agency Shoreline Curbs Urged

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — The Association of Bay Area Governments executive committee last night voted unanimously that the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission should be continued in existence — but with no power over shoreline development.

"Overlapping of jurisdiction of the bay agency into such shoreline areas would constitute conflicts with local jurisdictions and would create an expensive administrative monstrosity," the committee's resolution declared.

Noting that shoreline control by BCDC now was favored by the chairman of the senate committee considering BCDC bills, Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort said this "would be the complete elimination in the very near future of local government."

Asserting that the BCDC would be dominated by the state under the amended bill by Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, R-San Mateo, Bort said "that wouldn't even be regional government.""

The resolution also called on the Legislature not to adopt the BCDC's proposed master plan for the bay. This would make the plan "frozen into law," ABAG said. Instead, the plan should be left to BCDC to adopt and enforce so it could be amended by any regional government that is formed, the resolution said.

ABAG's proposal for a regional government envisions taking over the duties of the BCDC, Bort noted, and the power to change the master plan should not rest with the Legislature.

While the resolution condemned BCDC's proposal that it regulate shoreline development, it adopted BCDC's proposal that it have jurisdiction over salt ponds. The Leslie Salt Co., with about 50,000 acres of salt ponds in the bay, has objected to this proposal by BCDC.

Under current law, the BCDC will go out of existence late this year.

IMPEACHMENT UNLIKELY

Senators Listen For Fortas Reply

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several senators—Republicans and Democrats alike—say Abe Fortas should answer allegations about his financial conduct, but few appear eager for an official inquiry unless the Supreme Court justice volunteers to testify.

"The Senate and the nation are waiting for Mr. Fortas to indicate that he would like to come," said Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield endorsed a suggestion yesterday that the Senate Judiciary Committee offer a forum for Fortas if the justice should decide to reply to allegations that he received a fee after joining the Supreme Court.

"The situation has created a state of unease in the Senate and a state of concern," Mansfield said of the Fortas case.

He said it was up to Fortas and the committee to decide whether they would do anything.

Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Senate's No. 2 Democrat, initially proposed that the committee make itself available so Fortas could discuss the alleged $20,000 fee from the family foundation of Louis E. Wolfson, a financier now serving a prison term for selling unregistered stock.

Life magazine said Fortas received that amount and returned it after 11 months. Fortas himself said he was tendered and returned a fee from the foundation. But he did not mention the time or the amount involved.

Kennedy said yesterday he had word the Judiciary Committee would not initiate an inquiry unless Fortas asked to be heard. Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., is said to feel any investigation is a matter for the House to initiate.

But Sen. Paul Fannin, R-Ariz., proposed the Senate create a special committee to look into the Fortas case.

"The American people need to know from absolutely authoritative and official sources what the facts are," Fannin said.

Mansfield, opposed to the creation of any special committee, said the Judiciary Committee would be the proper forum if there is to be an inquiry.

Griffin agreed. "It's entirely appropriate that the Judiciary Committee stand ready," he said. "If Mr. Fortas were to indicate that he'd be willing to come before the Judiciary Committee, I'm sure they'd be willing to listen."

Fortas declined a committee invitation to testify during the nomination battle on the matter of the lecture fee.

Fannin said if the Wolfson fee controversy should require impeachment proceedings, the special committee he proposed could make findings of fact for the Senate.

In impeachment proceedings, the House would, in effect, bring an indictment; the Senate would serve as trial court.

Griffin said there is nothing to prevent the Senate from looking into the matter, but "At this point, we're not talking about impeachment proceedings."

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said President Richard M. Nixon has advised congressional leaders to go slow.

Pope Revises Saints To Be In Liturgy

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Nearly 30 saints were dropped today in a drastic revision of the liturgical calendar of the Roman Catholic Church.

Among those dropped were St. Christopher, patron of travelers and the figure in millions of St. Christopher medals; St. Barbara, and St. Susanna, for whom the American Roman Catholic church in Rome is named.

The new calendar was issued under a decree by Pope Paul VI titled Paschalia Mysterii (Of the Paschal Mystery). It said the deleted saints were removed from the listing because it is doubtful that they ever existed.

A Vatican liturgical expert, the Rev. Pierre Jounel of Paris, told a news conference the cancellations from the calendar of many popular saints "will pose an extremely delicate problem" for many Catholics.

Cancellation from the calendar means that henceforth the saints involved are not considered subjects of churchwide devotion.

Their day Masses will no longer be said by priests throughout the church. Wherever they are traditionally esteemed locally, however, thew may still be revered. But there will be no official encouragement for this.

Churches already named for them may continue to bear their names, but their names will not go to new churches.

In Rome, the Church of Santa Susanna, just a few blocks from the American Embassy, is currently in titular possession of Richard James Cardinal Cushing of Boston. All cardinals have a titular church in Rome as sign of their rank.

JUSTICE ABE FORTAS

Fortas Mum On Wolfson Fund Issue

BOSTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas pushed aside the questions of newsmen last night about his acceptance and later return of a $20,000 fee from the family foundation of imprisoned financier Louis Wolfson.

Fortas, making his first public appearance since disclosure of the fee last Sunday in a Life magazine article, delivered an address at Northeastern University on the generation gap and campus unrest.

He did not refer to the fee controversy, but said at the outset his speech was "just an ordinary lecture."

'CAN'T IMAGINE'

"I just can't imagine why all this interest," he said.

About 50 newsmen and photographers stood below and in front of the stage from which Fortas spoke.

After his address, Fortas answered questions from the estimated 1,400 persons in the audience, but with the stipulation that they deal only with the issues covered in his address.

'DANGEROUS'

He said it would be "dangerous, very dangerous," to ignore the issues which breed dissent. Society is attempting to find solutions to these issues, he said and in many instances the solutions are coming from the "establishment," which so many members of the younger generation seem to resent.

"The problems and imperfections are here," Fortas said. "We must accept it . . . we are less than perfect people in an imperfect nation."

Totem poles were used to tell the history of Indian families and tribes.

Chief Takes Job

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) —Police Chief Bernard Garmire, who previously had turned down bids to head the departments in Philadelphia and Chicago, has resigned to become chief of police of Miami, Fla.

Garmire said yesterday his resignation would be effective June 15.

Carpenter Quits

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Navy Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter, who has been both astronaut and aquanaut, says he is retiring from the service July 1 to enter private business.

Carpenter, 44, is one of the original seven U.S. astronauts and became the second American in orbit when he piloted Aurora 7 on May 24, 1962. In August 1967, he left the space program to take part in the Navy undersea living experiment called Sealab.

Lawmaker Freed Of Driving Count

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A misdemeanor hit-and-run driving charge against Assemblyman John V. Briggs, R-Fullerton, was dismissed yesterday by Municipal Court Judge Thomas Wallner.

The action was recommended by Dist. Atty. John M. Price, who told the police department in a letter "there is more than a reasonable doubt that any criminal act was done" in a collision April 15 between a state-owned car driven by Briggs and a parked auto.

Briggs was accused of leaving the scene without reporting the accident. But he said he was not aware his car had damaged the other auto when he attempted to leave a parking space near the Capitol.

Sonoma's Soules On State Council

Dr. Eugene Soules, chairman of the Sonoma State College English department, has been elected to a two-year term as president of the English Council of the California State Colleges.

As council president, Soules will serve on the executive committee of the California Association of the Teachers of English. He has been on the Sonoma State faculty since 1965.

Czechs Hail Russ

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak leaders hailed the Soviet army today as the liberator of their country and ignored or excused its 1968 role as invader and occupier.

Oscar Changed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gregory Peck, president of the Motion Picture Academy, says the film "Young Americans" which won the Oscar for best documentary of 1968 last month was ineligible because it was released in 1967.

The ballots were rechecked and "Journey into Self" was found to have run second in the voting for best documentary. It was declared the winner and producer Bill McGaw was handed an Oscar in a special ceremony Thursday.

Shots On Border

HONG KONG (UPI) — Communist Chinese border guards Thursday opened fire on two persons trying to dash across the border into this British crown colony.

One of the would-be refugees, a woman, was shot in the back. The other, a man, ran into the woods.

The woman fell in a paddy field and military and police posts on the British side saw her being dragged away by Chinese soldiers.

Queen Throws Party

NEW YORK (AP)—The maritime community's newest debutante — the Queen Elizabeth 2 —made the New York curtsey before society last night with a lavish party thrown by her sponsors for 950 persons.

The Cunard Lines, owner of the $72 million liner which arrived in New York Wednesday after her maiden voyage, invited the guests "to see and enjoy as much of the Queen Elizabeth 2 as possible and to sample everything she has to offer."

Although the ship remained at her pier in the Hudson River, the party was designed to give the impression she was at sea.

Gun Recovered In Police Death

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The gun used to kill a San Francisco policeman last week has been recovered a few blocks from the scene of the shooting, homicide inspectors said today.

The .41-caliber Magnum revolver used to shoot plainclothes burglary detective Joseph Brodnik, 41, during an attempted arrest in the Mission District was found in a hedge eight blocks away.

The gun had been grabbed from Officer Paul McGoran, 43, who was clubbed and badly injured.

Black Youth Apprentice Drive Opens

About 20 youths from Marin City met with about 20 representatives of labor and management to discuss the Bay Area Construction Opportunity Program, an effort to develop a manpower pool of black youths for training in construction trades.

"There is now a thrust and a definite effort on the part of labor and management," to induce black youths to become apprentices, Banks said.

Several youths already in the apprenticeship program joined in the discussion, Banks reported.

The next step will be to establish headquarters in Marin City, with a move to the Village Baptist Church scheduled in about 60 days, he said. Headquarters are now at 1368 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

Hub Trustees Eye Reserve Dip

The San Anselmo School District reserve fund should be reduced in order to find funds for 1969-70 salary increases and other needed budget items, the citizens budget advisory committee has decided.

The committee suggested the fund, which was $264,000 at the beginning of the current year, be reduced to about $150,000, but could not decide how the reserve money should be partitioned, Dr. Elmer A. Weden Jr., district trustee and a committee member, reported.

The committee, which met Wednesday, will discuss the subject again as well as commitments it would like to recommend on curriculum and portable buildings at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Red Hill School.

12,092 Eligible To Cast Ballots

The Marin County Elections Department announced yesterday that 12,092 persons are eligible to vote in the Mill Valley School District's 75-cent tax rate increase election and that 3,603 voters are registered for the 95-cent tax increase election in the Fairfax School District, both on June 3.

The school tax rate in Mill Valley would rise to $3.210 per $100 of assessed valuation and Fairfax' to $3.965.

Burglars Take $610 In Cash

Neat burglars, who use a towel to remove any telltale fingerprints, struck two San Anselmo homes Wednesday taking $610 in cash and household items, police said yesterday.

C. Marcel Schneider of 251 Sequoia Drive reported to police at 4:40 p.m., Wednesday, that between 2:15 and 4:10 p.m., someone entered his unlocked house and stole 40 silver dollars, $5 in 50-cent pieces, 10 two-dollar bills, a tuner amplifier, jacket and 60 seconal tablets, with a total value of $300. Police found a white hand towel, removed from the kitchen, in the living room.

Edith Toulouse reported at 6:20 p.m. that someone entered her home at 1554 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard through an open window and took a 12 gauge shotgun, a radio and camera, the total value being $310; police reported. A towel, believed used to wipe areas touched, was found outside the rear of the home, officers said.

Calistoga Quake Is Hardly Noticed

BERKELEY (AP)—An earthquake, so mild that it was barely noticed, was centered 30 miles northeast of Calistoga yesterday, the University of California seismographic station said.

It registered 3.5 on the Richter scale at 3:11 p.m.

Ford Calls For Less Trade Curbs

DETROIT (UPI)—The future growth of the U.S. auto industry has been pinned by Henry Ford II, board chairman of the Ford Motor Co., to the rapid growth of the world automobile market.

Ford, however, told the annual Ford stockholders meeting yesterday, that U.S. government negotiations were needed to eliminate a variety of restraints on trade put on by other governments, including tariff and other barriers, local content requirements and restrictions on capital investment.

The growth of the auto business outside the United States was much more rapid than the domestic growth, Ford said. This year he predicted total free world car and truck sales would exceed 26.5 million units, a new record. Ford said about 11.5 million would be sold in this country.

Single Youths Cut Off Welfare

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Unmarried persons under 21 and employable single men have been struck from the welfare rolls in an emergency cut by the San Francisco Social Services Commission.

The commission said yesterday the cut was necessary because a U.S. Supreme Court ruling which banned residence requirements for welfare has depleted the available funds.

Born said the cut was necessary because the Board of Supervisors had ordered a $345,000 slash in the current budget for the Social Services Commission.

Teen Bound Over To Marin Court

Michael John Pereira, 19, of San Rafael, yesterday was bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of burglarizing a Sausalito home March 20. A co-defendant, Gregg James Adams, 21, of Greenbrae, was released.

Judge Peter Allen Smith of municipal court decided after a preliminary hearing there was insufficient evidence to hold Adams.

Pereira is to appear in superior court May 19.

DOLWIG

neys and an Assembly consultant.

If the bill is as good as it looks at first glance, said Knox, "I think chances for the bay are good in the Assembly and the Senate."

As introduced, Dolwig's bill would have wiped out the Bay Conservation and Development Commission plan for the bay, which sharply restricted shoreline development.

A new plan would have had to be prepared within five years —enough time, opponents said, for subdividers to complete their fill projects.

As amended, it adopted most of the features advocated by opponents of bay filling. The commission would be made permanent and it could limit developments on the shoreline, salt ponds and wet lands around the bay.

Commission policies restricting development are approved by the bill and the BCDC is given permission to develop a regional plan for parks and open spaces around the bay.

If adopted, it would mean the commission would have power to limit developments proposed by the Leslie Salt Co., the Santa Fe Railway and the Westbay Community Associates.

All three are opposed to give the commission control over shoreline areas.

The new Dolwig bill is similar to Knox' proposal and is much tougher, on the surface, than the one advocated by Gov. Ronald Reagan. Reagan favors merely extending the life of the bay commission and continuing its present power to prevent filling of the bay.

Ardent conservationists in Dolwig's district have been criticizing him. But when asked if concern about his political future affected his decision, he replied "absolutely not. I've been running for office 23 years and I've managed to survive politically. This isn't the first controversy I've been in."

Boating Accidents Cause Of Drownings

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—One out of six drownings in America results from a boating accident, warns the National Automobile Club.

Boating enthusiasts should carry at least one serviceable life preserver for each person aboard, the club recommends, and all children and nonswimmers should wear a life preserver at all times.

Apartment Theft

A portable stereo and portable television set valued at $400 were stolen from her apartment yesterday afternoon, Valerie Gray of 99 Cole Drive, Apt. 14, Marin City, told sheriff's deputies.

Theft Reported

John O. Swann of 340 Ferndale Avenue, Homestead Valley, reported to the sheriff's department that a stereo set, tape deck and portable television set were stolen from his home Wednesday.

Burglary Found

Carol A. Sheritt of 10 Milland Drive, Mill Valley, told sheriff's officers that between April 28 and Monday someone stole a portable television set, leather coat and antique gold mirror from her apartment, officers said today.

ABAG

essary and to implement a comprehensive regional plan, a regional solid waste disposal plan, a regional airport system, a regional open space and regional parks system, a plan to conserve and develop the bay and its shoreline, a regional air quality control board, a regional water quality control plan, and a balanced regional transportation system."

Bagley introduced his bill after ABAG objected to a bill by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, to set up a regional government run by directors elected directly by the voters. It would ignore ABAG, which is run by city and county officials.

Unlike the Knox bill, which would require a vote of the people of the Bay Area to set up a regional government, the ABAG proposal would require no vote of the people, just approval by the Legislature and signature into law by the governor. The governor, however, made it clear to Knox that he could sign his bill only if the referendum were left in it, so he very well could want the same provision in the Bagley-ABAG bill.

One of the few objections raised last night was by Thomas Mellon, chief administrative officer of San Francisco. He asked if a city or county could be forced under ABAG's plan to help pay for a regional facility if it wanted to build its own.

To Mellon's obvious displeasure, Bort answered that in such a case the city or county could be forced to pay for a regional facility, but of course still could go ahead and build its own — and pay for that, too.

Mellon acknowledged after the meeting that he had in mind his city's opposition to joining a regional sewage system.

But any construction of a regional facility such as a sewage system would require approval by 60 per cent of the city representatives to a general assembly representing cities with at least 60 per cent of the population of the Bay Area, and by 60 per cent of the county representatives representing counties with at least 60 per cent of the population of the Bay Area, according to the special committee's recommendation.

Bort said this provision "puts a brake on this agency going out and grabbing other functions."

The same requirements for a 60 per cent vote would apply if the regional government wanted to overrule objections by a city or county to condemnation of property in its jurisdiction.

The special committee also proposed that the regional government's executive committee consist of 32 city councilmen and county superviosrs — thus ensuring ABAG's control — and of four appointees, one from the federal government, one from state government, one state senator and one state assemblyman. The other two would be the president and vice president.

Any qualified voter in the Bay Area would be eligible for election as president or vice president. Election would be by secret ballot of all city and county legislators.

Also propoesd were advisory commissions for each of the functional areas. For example, the Bay Conservation and Development Commission would become an advisory commission, and function like a planning commission for the bay and shoreline.

The special committee recommended that officers and members of the executive and advisory committees be paid $50 a day while on business for the regional government. The maximum pay would be $200 a month for each member and officer.

Finally, the special committee recommended that a 60 per cent vote by the electorate of the Bay Area would be empowered to authorize the regional government to issue general obligation bonds. Under current law, a two thirds vote is necessary.

"Our objective was not more government, but better government," Bort said.

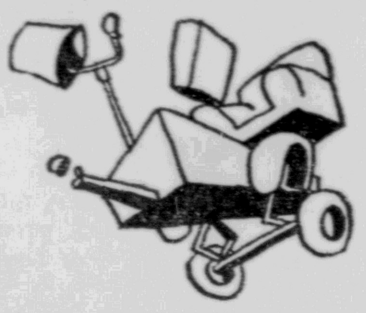
LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Trailer Hitch Proves Costly



The California Vehicle Code sets standards of care for just about every kind of vehicle on the road. Failure to meet them becomes "negligence;" and if someone is hurt as a result of negligence, he has a claim against the person to blame.

Recently John and Mary, who were moving some furniture, borrowed a friend's pickup truck and rented a trailer to haul their furniture.

The rental place had a youngster hook the trailer. As instructed he tested the hookup by jumping up and down on the trailer hitch and bumper.

As it turned out the bumper bracings were too weak. For, when moving, the loaded trailer swayed. John didn't know this until the pickup went out of control. The trailer flipped the truck over, and hurt John and Mary.

The pickup owner was penniless. John and Mary sued the trailer rental for improperly hitching the trailer's flimsy bumper to the pickup. Under the vehicle code a trailer must be securely hooked, and the hitch must be strong enough to prevent frame distortion.

So the court ruled for John and Mary. The trailer rental people should have sound standards for testing trailer hitches and bumpers before hooking a trailer on. Failing in this, the rental people were liable.

Not all vehicle code violations lead to liability. Through his own fault, a person sometimes helps to bring on an accident and his own injuries. If so, he has no legal claim for damages. Thus, if John had been speeding when the pickup whent out of control, he could not have collected damages, despite his otherwise good claim.

which our government unceasingly demands that the Communist side must respect, and which they always interpret in their own way."

The Foreign Office statement noted that some other problems are mentioned in the front's 10-points "which do not raise any difficulties." These are the exchange of prisoners, reestablishment of the demilitarized zone and respect of the 1962 agreements on Laos.

"Discussion should have already been taken on these problems in the framework of the Paris meetings or following the procedures which the government of the republic of Vietnam has proposed," the communique said.

The Saigon statement also said the front "sticks to its own account of the Vietnam War, refusing the principle of mutual withdrawal of external forces from South Vietnam and asking for a unilateral unconditional withdrawal of allied forces."

Reagan Appoints Seeger To Seat

Gov. Ronald Reagan today named William R. Seeger, manager of Marin Municipal Water District, to the California Advisory Committee to the Western States Water Council.

The post pays necessary expenses. Seeger, a 56-year-old Democrat, will serve at the pleasure of the governor. He succeeds Jerome B. Gilbert of Novato, who resigned.

Seeger, a 1935 graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, has been employed by the district since 1947.

He lives at 147 Dominican Drive, San Rafael.

Northern Ireland's Minister Wins Test

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Northern Ireland's new prime minister, James Chichester-Clark, won a massive vote of confidence today from more than 300 delegates of his ruling Protestant-based Unionist party.

They also pledged to support him in introducing universal suffrage at local elections. At present, a property qualification prevents many of Northern Ireland's Roman Catholics from having the franchise in local elections.

Modesto Hit By $750,000 Fire

MODESTO (UPI) — A spectacular fire just south of the Modesto city limits last night destroyed two warehouses and caused an estimated $750,000 damage.

The blaze was discovered about 8:20 p. m. by a Stanislaus County deputy sheriff who spotted smoke pouring from the Modesto Builders Supply Co. warehouse. An adjacent warehouse owned by the Rice Furniture Co. also burned.

The sheriff's office closed Ninth Street in front of the two buildings as thousands of persons flocked into the area to watch the blaze. The flames could be seen for miles.

Swedish Doctors Barred From War

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — The Swedish Government has turned down a Defense Command request that Swedish military doctors be allowed to volunteer for service in Vietnam in order to get first hand experience in war surgery.

The Government was said to consider it "out of the question" that Swedish doctors should perform active duty in another country's armed forces.

Coins, Pearls Taken

Burglars took $40 in coins and a string of pearls from the home of Mrs. David Eugene Valente at 65 Homestead Boulevard, Tamalpais Valley, Wednesday, sheriff's deputies said today.

Point Reyes Bill Passage Is Predicted

Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, today predicted passage of legislation in Congress to complete the 55,000-acre Point Reyes National Seashore.

Only 29,000 acres have been acquired from private owners thus far and federal funds have run out.

McCarthy said he has spoken to Reps. William H. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, and Don H. Clausen, R-First District; Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel and President Richard M. Nixon's office to urge passage of a bill appropriating $38.1 million to complete land acquisition.

He said he was confident the bill would pass after conversations with these officials. Mailliard and Clausen are sponsores of the legislation.

A hearing on their bill will be held Tuesday before the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee.

Meanwhile, Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, who is in Washington, D.C., coordinating the drive in favor of the bill, said supporting letters and telegrams should be sent to Clausen and Mailliard or to him at the Hotel Sheraton Carleton, 923 16th Street NW, Washington, D.C., 20006.

Marin Superivsors Louis H. Baar and West Marin rancher Boyd Stewart will join Maloney in Washington Sunday.

Baar, whose supervisorial district includes the seashore, will represent the county supervisors because Chairman John F. McInnis is vacationing in Hawaii. Baar said rancher Stewart will represent residents of West Marin.

"I've also been talking with Jack McCarthy," said Baar. "He's interested and will use his offices and also talk to Governor Reagan and others in Sacramento to urge federal acquisition of seashore land. The response is terrific and encouraging."

Baar said he hopes to take to Washington eight to ten resolutions from the Marin Property Owners Association, Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau, Marin Conservation League, and other organizations, all urging federal acquisition of the seashore.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said he does not have a list of organizations supporting the federal appropriation but predicted that Marin organizations would be almost solidly in favor of completion of federal acquisition of seashore land. "I don't know of any opposition," said Bruce.

Hike Along Bay

A hike along the Richardson Bay shoreline will be sponsored by the Tiburon Parks and Recreation Department tomorrow. Hikers will meet at 10 a.m. in the Reed School parking lot. Hike leaders will discuss land uses of the area, recreation facilities and transportation problems as the hike proceeds to its end in Richardson Bay Park.

Home Looted

Burglars who entered the home of Judith Elias at 61 Morningsun Avenue, Mill Valley, on Wednesday took a movie projector, movie camera, another camera, wrist watch, diamond engagement ring, portable stereo, a speaker and two Beatle albums, sheriff's deputies said.

Richard Funkhouser, 51, a career foreign service officer, to be ambassador to the Gabon Republic. Funkhouser will replace David M. Bane, who is getting a new, unannounced assignment.

In a military personnel change, Nixon designated Vice Adm. Ralph W. Cousins to succeed retiring Vice Adm. John B. Colwell as deputy chief of naval operations for fleet operations and readiness. Rear Adm. Maurice F. Weisner will be nominated for two-star rank and will replace Cousins as commander of Attack Carrier Striking Force, 7th fleet, and commander of Carrier Division Five.

Nixon went yachting on Biscayne Bay during the morning with his Florida friend and neighbor, C. G. (Bebe) Rebozo. First the two men spent some time aboard the Rebozo houseboat, The Coco Lobo at her Key Biscayne Yacht Club moorings, then went aboard the presidential yacht Julie for the cruise.

While boating, Ziegler said, Nixon read working papers, apparently dealing with the administration's plans to revise public welfare programs.

About 200 police moved on to the Howard campus, fired six rockets into the dormitory—where about 1,000 students live—then pulled back.

About 100 marshals armed with helmets, nightsticks and a court order entered the campus at 3:30 a.m. and began clearing the six buildings. At first there was little resistance, but soon they were being pelted with debris. One marshal suffered a deep leg gash.

Police Chief John Layton said 21 persons were arrested. Earlier estimates ranged from 18 to 60.

A university spokesman said there was "extensive damage, theft and vandalism" in the six buildings occupied. He said no decision had been made on when classes would resume.

President James M. Nabrit Jr. closed Howard after the sit-in began to demand a larger role for students in running the school of 8,200 and a voice for community residents in school affairs.

In Bloomington, Ind., the negotiating session over student demands on the 47,000 student campus to rescind a tuition increase set for the fall term was interrupted, prior to settlement, by black students who entered the conference room and said no one could leave or enter until trustees arrived.

JULES CHOURRE
Veteran teacher dies

OBITUARIES

Jules Chourre Dies At 77

Jules Chourre, 77, retired Tamalpais High School printing teacher, was pronounced dead at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael yesterday after collaspsing at his Mill Valley home. Death was apparently due to natural causes, the coroner's office said.

Chourre's son, Richard, who lived with him at 105 Locust Street, returned home yesterday afternoon and found his father on a couch. Chourre lapsed into unconsciousness moments later and pronounced dead at 4:10 p.m.

Chourre taught printing and vocational arts at Tamalpais from 1926 until his retirement in 1962. He also spent several summers as master printer aboard Matson Line Ships. A native of San Francisco, he was graduated with honors from the University of California at Berkeley and received his master's degree at San Francisco State. He taught in Coalinga and in Alameda County for 10 years before coming to Marin in 1926.

He is survived by two sons, Jules E. Chourre of Sleepy Hollow and Richard Chourre of Mill Valley, and by two daughters, Jane McCrary and Marianne Cavanaugh, both of Southern California.

Funeral is pending at Russell and Gooch mortuary, Mill Valley.

LONA PROWSE

Lona Prowse, a retired school teacher who taught in the San Anselmo elementary school system for 16 years, died at a local convalescent home yesterday after a long illness.

Mrs. Prowse lived in Marin County for 20 years. She retired several years ago.

She is survived by a son, Albert M. Prowse of San Anselmo.

A Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

Opera Canceled

"The Duenna," an opera by the College of Marin music and drama departments set to open tonight, has been canceled, directors Robin Jackson and Scott Merrick announced today. One reason for the cancelation is that Jackson suffered an injury during rehearsals, college publicist Earlene Jones said.

ELSIE JURGENSEN

Elise Anna Schlake Jurgensen, 98, of 2300 East Washington Street, Petaluma, died yesterday at her home after a long illness.

Born at Mount Eden, Alameda County, Mrs. Jurgensen had lived in Petaluma since 1885. She and her husband, the late Herman Jurgensen, operated a ranch for many years.

Mrs. Jurgensen is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Dora M. Eldredge of Petaluma, a member of the Old Abode School Board.

Funeral will be at 1 p.m. Monday at the Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

L. STEWART HINCKLEY

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Former Assemblyman L. Stewart Hinckley of Redlands, who died with his wife in an Arizona airplane crash yesterday, today was saluted as "an outstanding leader" by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Hinckley and his wife, Bertha, were killed when their light plane crashed on landing at the Page, Ariz., airport.

The Assembly met for a short period today, then adjourned in Hinckley's memory.

Reagan said Hinckley "was a dear, personal friend whose tragic death is a great loss." He said the former lawmaker "earned the high respect of his colleagues for his legislative ability and integrity."

Hinckley, a Republican, served in the lower house from 1947 to 1954 and from 1963 to 1968. Reagan this year had appointed Hinckley, a pilot since 1948, to the state Aeronautics Commission.

DEATHS

ERB — Of Novato, May 6, 1969, Robert Thomas Erb, beloved husband of Ann M. Erb, devoted father of Mrs. Richard D. Huntwork of Kentfield, loving son of Bertha Erb of San Francisco and the late Charles H. Erb, loving brother of Charles A. Erb of Corte Madera and Mrs. Charles Lienau of San Francisco. A native of San Francisco, aged 61 years. A lifetime member of Musicians Local 6, San Francisco, and the California State Employees Association.

Friends are invited to attend the funeral Friday, May 9, 1969, at 9 a.m. at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, thence to St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo, where a mass of requiem will be offered commencing at 9:30 a.m. Interment, Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Recitation of the rosary Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Chapel of the Hills. (5/7-8)

GET HIGH ANYWAY

Marijuana Smokers Fooled By Fake Pot

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Ten regular smokers of marijuana got the same effects from dummy cigarettes in a laboratory experiment as they did from the real thing, two medical researchers reported today.

At times during the test the young men smoked real marijuana cigarettes. At other times, in the same laboratory, they smoked cigarettes that looked, tasted and smelled exactly the same but lacked the active chemical ingredient in marijuana.

And they could not tell the difference.

Both kinds of cigarettes gave them the feeling of being mildly "high" or slightly intoxicated.

The experiment shows, among other things, the unreliability of trusting smokers to judge the potency of the marijuana they use, the researchers said in a report to the convention of the American Psychiatric Association.

In another phase of the experiment, the same young men were given, at different times, pills containing the active chemical in marijuana, or pills that looked and tasted the same but which had none of the chemical in them. The real pills contained 20 times the amount of the active chemical as found in marijuana cigarettes.

In these comparisons, the men could detect the difference. And the real pills boosted their pulse rate and altered their perceptions of time and space relationships as the smoking of real marijuana cigarettes can do.

The experiments were reported by Reese T. Jones, M.D., and George C. Stone, PhD, both of the Langley Porter Neuropsychiatric Institute and University of California School of Medicine, San Francisco.

Private Study Challenges Safeguard Cost Figures

WASHINGTON (AP) — A private study indicates the Safeguard antimissile system's ultimate cost may top $13 billion—66 per cent more than official estimates.

Disclosure of the study yesterday prompted immediate assertions, notably by Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., that the ma- created a credibility gap for the Nixon administration."

The study, by the Defense Marketing Survey, a McGraw-Hill Service for industrial firms, estimated the cost of Safeguard between 1969 and 1975 at more than $11 billion.

The study did not include $1.2 billion to be spent by the Atomic Energy Commission on nuclear warheads and its cost estimates for Safeguard's radar and Sprint missiles were more than $1 billion less than calulated by other experts.

Critics were quick to point out that adding in these figures than $13 billion, compared with the current official a dministration estimate of $7.8 billion.

"In a program as complex as Safeguard," the study concluded, "historical experience indicates costs in the long run are likely to be considerably higher."

Senator McGovern, a leading critic of Safeguard, said "It has not reached the stage yet of the Johnson administration's credibility gap on Vietnam, but it's reaching toward it."

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, who has been speaking in favor of Safeguard around the country, told Republican governors in Lexington, Ky., last week: "The decision is in your interest as governors—if for no other reason than it isless expensive than the Sentinel system proposed by the previous administration."

If the $13 billion-plus figure is correct, it would put Safeguard costs nearly 50 per cent higher than the $9.4 billion estimated by some Capitol Hill experts as the real cost of the Johnson's Sentinel antimissile system, officially pegged at $5.8 billion.

Defense officials, in appearances before congressional committees, have repeatedly used a $6.6 billion figure as the cost of deploying Safeguard.

But last Monday, the Pentagon, in response to queries, said this failed to include the $1.2 billion for warheads which is carried in the budget of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The Defense Marketing study envisioned $7.9 billion for the 12 continental Safeguard sites plus $2.4 billion for research and $700 million for operations and maintenance.

But its estimate of $800,000 for each of 700 Sprint missiles is well below the $2 million estimated earlier in the week in a report by Profs. Jerome Weisner and Abram Chayes.

Many Bills In Congress To Honor Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is considering a growing pile of bills to memorialize Dwight D. Eisenhower. Proposals range from naming the first moon landing site in his honor to putting his picture on the dollar bill in place of George Washington's.

Legislation to honor the World War II commander and 34th president who died March 28 are stacked in Capitol Hill hoppers with 25 bills introduced in the House alone. All are still in committee.

Some call for naming a dam after Eisenhower as well as two airports, the interstate highway system and the moon landing site.

Eisenhower's family says it has no favorite among the plans.

"We've been very honored by all the proposals," said his son, John, by telephone from his Phoenixville, Pa., home.

"I don't think it's up to us to recommend anything. I can't see a hunk of marble somewhere, though."

Eisenhower seldom publicly discussed his wishes on memorials.

"That would be the last thing Dad would ever talk about," John said.

But in a speech at the dedication of Eisenhower Park in Newport, R.I., July 22, 1960, President Eisenhower told the crowd: "I am deeply touched by this kind of gracious incident and thought for the simple reason that a name given to a place like this endures."

Gallstone Attack Halts Mutiny Trial

FORT ORD (UPI) — The trial of 14 Army prisoners, charged with mutiny for a sitdown demonstration at the San Francisco Presidio stockade, was recessed indefinitely yesterday because the president of the court-martial board was hospitalized.

Lt. Col. Richard J. Potter, head of the five-man jury panel, suffered an attack of gallstones. The court said he would be hospitalized for a minimum of seven days and might require surgery.

Inscription Traced To 4th Century

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Israeli archeologists today announced the discovery of an ancient Hebrew inscription dating back to the Fourth Century scrawled on the Wailing Wall in the Old City of Jerusalem.

The inscription was written in Hebrew characters peculiar to the Talmudic period and is part of a prophecy by the Jewish Prophet Isaiah about the return to glory of Jerusalem.

Prof. Benjamin Mazar, who is directing excavation along side the southern part of the wall, said the inscription was found on one of the giant stones of the wall, the last remnant of King Herod's Temple and Judaism's holiest place of worship.

The inscription said, "And when ye see this, your heart shall rejoice and your bones shall flourish like an herb."

The words are from the last chapter of the Book of the Prophet Isaiah, (Chapter 66: Verse 14) concerning the new Jerusalem.

Mazar said the stone on which the inscription was found was located near the Robinson Arch, named after the 19th Century archaeologist who uncovered it, which links the upper and lower cities of the biblical city of Jerusalem.

With all your heart

"ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart. And I will be found of you, saith the Lord." It's a promise that has never been broken. But it does require all the heart. Christian Science church services are devoted to this kind of searching. You are always welcome.

A TURNABOUT IN MARCHES

While some schools, both high school and university level, across the U.S. have been carrying on massive demonstrations this spring, placard-carrying cadets at New England Military School in Byfield, Mass., did an about face yesterday. In a march to the administration building the cadets presented a resolution of loyalty in support of the school and its philosophy of education. The school is a semimilitary boarding school for boys of grades nine through 12. (AP Wirephoto)

Councilman Miskimen Wins Annexation

San Rafael City Councilman John A. Miskimen last night won his battle to get his new home in Bayside Acres annexed to the City of San Rafael, thus paving the way for possible annexation of all of Bayside Acres.

The Local Agency Formation Commission voted 3 to 2 to permit San Rafael to annex Miskimen's new home at 185 Oak Drive, even though it is connected to San Rafael boundaries by water only.

Michael Wornum moved for annexation. He was seconded by J. Wayne Womack and supported by chairman Hugh G. Marchant. Jan Paul Dyk and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. dissented, saying it was spot annexation.

Miskimen argued that fire protection for his new home was his primary concern. The San Rafael city charter requires that councilmen live within the city limits. Miskimen got neighbors on both sides to agree to the annexation, although the Bayside Acres Property Owners Association continued to oppoise it.

The swing in Miskimen's favor came when City Manager Dan E. Andersen announced that San Rafael will accept annexation, without requiring that water lines conform to city standards prior to annexation.

A surprised Wornum said he was under the impression San Rafael always required water lines to be standardized before annexation would be considered. When Andersen announced that was not the case, Wornum moved for annexation.

The Local Agency Commission Also:

PARADISE DRIVE — Approved the annexation of homes on Paradise Drive, from Robin Drive to Old Landing Road, to Corte Madera Sanitary District.

LUCKY DRIVE — Postponed for one month a request by residents on Lucky Drive, on the south bank of Corte Madera Creek, to annex to Corte Madera Sanitary District. In September last year, the commission had required Lucky Drive residents to annex to the town of Corte Madera first. Commissioners asked Executive Officer John F. Barrows to check the legality of that order.

RICHARDSON BAY — Continued for two months a request by the City of Mill Valley that 58 acres of tidelands of Highway 101 be detached from Richardson Bay Sanitary District, but with service provided by the sanitary district under a contract with Mill Valley. The area includes Sabella's Restaurant, Shelter Bay Apartments, and several other commercial establishments.

ANNEXATIONS — Approved the annexation of A. F. Willat's property at the corner of Sky Road and Bay Vista Drive, to Richardson Bay Sanitary District; and one lot in Pleasant Valley Unit 2 off Stasia Court to the City of Novato.

'Crime Check' Described By Petaluma Police Chief

Petaluma Police Chief Larry D. Higgins last night outlined his local crime prevention program before the Sonoma County Mayors' and Councilmen's Association, saying it is showing good results.

Higgins said the "crime check" program, borrowed from the International Police Officers Association, uses a simple tool — enlisting the aid of the community. "If you see it, report it," is the message of the program, he told the association meeting in Sebastopol.

He said a speakers bureau was set up within the department with officers assigned to present the program in all local schools. The officers show a film called "Every Hour, Every Day," that demonstrates the work of police officers and the many problems they face daily.

Higgins said it is hoped that through speaking to children and adult organizations, the public can be educated to help police to prevent crime by reporting suspicious persons or occurrences.

Admitting the four-month-old program is too young to show definite results, he said, however, that in that period, the department received 269 reports by suspicious residents. He compared that with the total of 230 calls received in the entire 12 months of 1968.

"Of course, this had made extra work for us, but we think it's worth it," Higgins said. He reported that the majority of reports are unfounded, but said that several have led to arrests and convictions.

The program is financed through a $1,700 allocation made by the Petaluma City Council last fall.

Sonoma Mayors And Councilmen Also:

NAPA SUIT — Heard report that legal steps concerning the suit brought by Napa County against the association regarding the increased county representation on the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board will be discussed next week. Petaluma Mayor Helen Putnam, association president, said the attorneys from the various cities will meet at Lake Tahoe, Nev. next week to plan what legal steps might be necessary.

BYLAWS — Heard a motion to amend the bylaws so that each city will have one vote on the association board of directors, which is made up of mayors. Under the present rules, the mayor serving as chairman only votes in the event of a tie. The association will vote on the change at the July 10 meeting in Cloverdale.

BRIDGE TOURS — Heard William R. Lucius, the association's representative to the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board, invite each city council to tour the bridge facilities with him. The Petaluma Council will make the trip on Wednesday.

Complaint Points To No Fingerprints

The Independent-Journal erred Wednesday in reporting that attorney Hugh G. Lawrence had complained to the Marin County Board of Supervisors that prominent citizens arrested in connection with the Tamalpais Creek protest had not been booked.

Lawrence complained only that the residents were not fingerprinted or photographed. All of those arrested were booked.

Students Win Bank Awards

One Marin County student won a second place award and two others were runnersup last night in the finals of the Bank of America Achievement Awards competition in San Francisco.

Michael K. Magill of Novato High School won $500 as one of four second place winners. Finishing among 15 runnersup were Shirley A. Meyer and Nancy L. Wilkinson, both of Terra Linda High School. Each won $150.

A total of $10,000 was distributed to 27 winners, who earlier had won local and regional competitions.

The 27 were selected by a panel of judges which included Wishard A. Brown, publisher of the Independent-Journal. The students were interviewed and their academic records and extracurricular achievements reviewed.

Competition was in four study fields: vocational arts, science and mathematics, fine arts and liberal arts. Magill, of 450 Ridge Road, Novato, competed in fine arts; Miss Meyer, of 639 Bamboo Terrace, San Rafael, vocational arts, and Miss Wilkinson, of 24 Elena Circle, San Rafael, liberal arts.

Carl R. Terzian, chairman of the board of Carl R. Terzian Associates in Los Angeles, spoke at an awards banquet attended by about 600 persons in the Hilton Hotel. A. W. Clausen, executive vice presdient in charge of lending for Bank of America, presented the awards.

Tornadoes Hit Ohio: Two Dead, 50 Injured

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent spring weather that earlier triggered flooding rains in Colorado and Texas erupted into damaging tornadoes yesterday and left two dead and as many as 50 injured in Ohio.

More than 40 homes were destroyed and some 400 persons were left homeless in twisters which hit the Dayton suburb of Kettering and the community of Tappen Lake, near the West Virginia line.

In the West, skies cleared over the Colorado Rockies, but the danger of large-scale flooding remained strong because of heavy runoff expected from foot-deep snows which fell in the mountains and foothills. A storm which began Sunday also dumped up to seven inches of rain on parts of eastern Colorado.

Hardest hit in the Ohio tornadoes was Kettering where 30 houses were demolished and an estimated 185 were damaged. Although 25 persons were treated for cuts and bruises, no serious injuries occurred and there were no known deaths.

Half way across the state a man was killed near Columbus when a tree, split by lightning or wind, fell on his car.

A dozen houses were destroyed in the twister that dipped into Tappan Lake. A woman was killed and her husband and four children were ininjured as their home near the lake was smashed.

Early estimates of damage in the Colorado storm and flooding ranged up to $1.2 million, much of it due to washed-out highways and bridges. No serious injuries had been reported.

Torrential rains continued to be a part of the violent thunderstorms which hit hard at Texas Tuesday and Wednesday and spilled across most of the South yesterday. Downpours up to four inches soaked sections of Alabama, Florida and Georgia during the night.

Bike-Car Crash Hurts Youngster

An 11-year-old Fairfax girl suffered scrapes and bruises after her bicycle collided with car as she was riding her bicycle at 7:45 p.m. yesterday near her home at 160 Ridgeway Avenue.

Sanja Lunde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Lunde, of 134 Ridgeway Avenue, was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Police said the car was driven by William Allen Lester of 150 Ridgeway Avenue.

Professors Hold Dinner-Lecture

The Sonoma State College chapter of the American Association of University Professors will hold its annual dinner-lecture today at 7 p.m. at Los Robles Lodge, Santa Rosa.

Honored as the recently elected distinguished faculty speaker will be Dr. Warren E. Olsen, philosophy professor and director of the newly established Robert Maynard Hutchins School of Liberal Studies. He will speak on "The Meaning of Work: The Existential View."

Average Home Cost: $37,500

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The average cost of a new home in the San Francisco Bay Metropolitan Area is $37,500— and people keep buying them.

He said outstanding residential mortgage loan commitments of all California savings and loan associations were 34 per cent higher in the first quarter of 1969 than in the same period last year.

Davis noted that monthly payments on a loan of $30,000 under a 30-year mortgage were about $220, an increase of $21 because of increased interest rates.

But even at 8 per cent interest, he said, "today's mortgage rates are still a bargain."

Panel Backs Labor Union Bargaining

The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District's rules and policy committee recommended yesterday that the district recognize labor unions as bargaining agents for its employees.

The only objection came from the district's attorney, Jerome B. White of San Francisco, who said the action would be "a step toward putting our head in the noose.

"If you start making contracts, there'll be all kinds of troubles, I'm sure," White warned.

Bur director Daniel F. Del Carlo, a San Francisco labor leader, shot back that White, as an attorney, belonged "to the strongest union in the world, only you have what they call ethics instead of union bylaws."

The committee's recommendation will be considered by the full bridge board for official action.

Recognition of unions by public districts was permitted under a 1968 state law, which specified mediation procedures in case disputed, but made no provision of the right to strike.

The district traditionally has paid prevailing union and wage benefit scales.

Del Carlo cited the district's 1967 fight over the firing of two Negro painters as "a lot of crud that never should have happened." Under the committee's recommendation, the general manager would work out such disputes with the union, Del Carlo said. Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring spoke in favor of union recognition.

Selling of Christmas seals for charity is said to have originated in Denmark where in 1904 a postal clerk thought of the idea of selling a special stamp for the benefit of a children's hospital in Copenhagen.

College Minorities Fund Lack Deplored

A Sonoma State College spokesman yesterday joined four other state college representatives in calling for increased state aid for minority students, warning that economic opportunity programs will collapse otherwise.

Greene Farmer, coordinator of the Hidden Talent project at Sonoma State, joined his counterparts from San Francisco State, CalState at Hayward and San Jose State, at a press conference in San Francisco.

All called for more state aid to make up federal funds that have been cut drastically. "Governor Reagan is responsible for cutting out additional EOP funding which had been provided in the state college chancellors budget," Farmer charged.

"The chancellor recognized the vital need for these programs on state college campuses, but the governor bluepencilled them," he said. "Even what the chancellor had proposed for the 18 state colleges was inadequate."

The Hidden Talent program that Farmer directs at Sonoma State allows minority students who show promise to be admitted although they don't meet the minimum entrance requirements.

Reporting the frustrations of the students on the low budget program, Farmer implied that if more funds are not made available, a mass march on Sacramento may be organized.

Antinarcotics Classes Slated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Starting Monday, students at six San Francisco junior high and high schools will take experimental courses dealing with narcotics.

George Canrinus, who coordinates the health, physical education, athletic and recreation programs for the school system, said yesterday: "Our whole approach is preventive . . . In the long run the kids will have to decide for themselves."

In another move against narcotics, the system has trained a teacher at each school to be a drug expert.

Sets Rummage Sale

The Fairfax Lions Club will hold a rummage sale from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. May 17 and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. May 18 at the Fairfax Pavilion. Proceeds will go to Lions eye care projects.

Townhouse Idea Held Too Costly

Marin Development Co. was handed some harsh words at last night's Marin City Council meeting, receiving a suggestion that it be found in default of its contract to develop the community and getting rapped for its plans to build 17 townhouses.

The default issue — raised as a result of postponed action — drew regretful acknowledgment that at this time Marin Development, formerly California Development Corp., is the only developer interested in Marin City.

Objections to the townhouses ranged from a charge that they wouldn't meet the need of the community to the contention that they wouldn't provide the feeling of home ownership.

There were protests that the cost of the homes would be too high for Marin City residents, and a call for the developer to cut his profits.

Attorney Richard M. Adams, representing Marin Development, explained preliminary plans to construct the homes.

Two, three and four-bedroom homes would be constructed on a four-acre bluff along the north side of Donahue Street, opposite Buckelew Street, overlooking Richardson Bay.

Adams estimated the homes would cost about $20,000 or $21,000 for the smallest units to about $23,000 for largest units. Down payments for the smallest units would be around $600 or $700 and for the largest units, $1,400 to $1,500, he estimated.

If they were approved by the Marin County Redevelopment Agency, work could start this summer, but first the firm wanted to get the community's reaction, Adams said.

Residents complained that the houses were "jammed up" on small lots and, with one side yard for each owner, wouldn't give the owner the feeling of owning a home.

"It doesn't spell home to me," said Councilman Collie Gaines. "If the obligation is to serve the people in Marin City, I don't think it's going to work.

Several residents expressed a desire for tract-type homes on larger lots, but Adams replied that this would drive the costs up.

Architect Karl Treffinger explained that the houses would be constructed "in pairs" but there would be space between the pairs.

The intent is not only to build homes for Marin City residents, but also to attract buyers into the community from outside, Adams said. "If they were successful, we'd build more and expand the community," he asserted.

Gabe Jackson of 732 Drake Avenue said on a mass level the people of Marin City couldn't afford to buy the proposed houses.

Donald O. Stutsman, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority, noted that housing is needed for persons in public housing whose income rises enough to disqualify them for public housing.

Mrs. Gaines replied that usually the gain in income was enough to enable such persons to pay $150 a month plus taxes.

Stutsman said the intent is to offer home ownership to residents, and "this is a pilot project" offering it at the lowest possible costs. It's not a solution to the housing needs of the community, but a chance to test the market for such housing, he contended.

Jackson said the townhouses plan wasn't acceptable, and the firm should construct housing that fits the income of Marin City residents.

Adams said he needed to know how much more housing is needed by residents of Marin City, what they can afford to pay and what housing programs are available to meet the need.

"We don't want to proceed if we don't have community support," Adams commented.

Jackson said lots should be offered for sale "so the community would have a fair shake to make arrangement to purchase them. He also called for tract homes, at not more than $20,000.

After firm's plans for the 17 townhouses were riddled with criticism, the role of the firm itself was challenged.

Councilmember Ronald Foster felt the Marin County Redevelopment Agency should dissolve the firm's contract "and start from zero."

The council voted unanimously to ask the agency why Marin Developmetn Co. hasn't been found in default of its contract.

Action came after Stutsman reported that the firm has been granted four extensions of the dates scheduled for it to buy land.

Under the current schedule, the firm is scheduled "to take" land, outside two commercial parcels, next month, Stutsman said, but he couldn't recall the exact date.

Foster asked why the firm hasn't been found in default in the past.

James O. Quiett, redevelopment agency chairman, said: "I'm as perturbed as anyone else about delays, but we haven't had anyone else who wants to develop Marin City."

If Marin Development Co. was ruled out, "then we have nobody," Quiett said. He conceded it was a mistake to be limited to one developer, and would have been better to have two developers available. "I'm in favor of seeing anybody go ahead and develop."

Alvis Allen, a resident, said he was bothered because development was being planned by people from outside the community and felt community residents should be involved.

Attending the meeting at the Manzanita Center were Marin City Community Services District directors Douglas J. Quiett, Alvin C. Bynum, Dorthea Mitchell and Frank Phillips Sr., who is also a member of the Marin City Council.

Travel Crisis By 1990 For Marin

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — Bigger highways and new transit systems will be needed between Marin and San Francisco by 1990, or new jobs and new residents will go elsewhere, the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission said yesterday.

"Person trips" across the Golden Gate corridor for work purposes will jump to 145,000 a day by 1990, up from 46,000 in 1965, and from 87,000 in 1965 to 297,000 in 1990 for all purposes, the commission agreed in adoption of a chapter of its final report.

Widening Highway 101 and improving bus and water transportation would be "perhaps adequate ot 1990 if there is unexpectedly high usage of transit," the BATSC report concluded. But it added transit "will have to be considerably more attractive than many believe possible" to carry the load if no new highways are built.

To illustrate that most Marinites will continue to work outside the county, the report noted by 1990 Marin will have 800 residents per square mile, but only 200 employees per square mile.

Yesterday's adoption of the chapter on "network evaluation" was the last in a series of chapter-by-chaper reviews of the final report, due before the legislature next month. A final review of the complete report was set for June 3 at the Hotel Claremont, Berkeley.

New Area Chief For Marin CHP

Lyons, a native of Tacoma, is a former Marin resident. He was a real estate man in San Anselmo from 1949 to 1951. He also served in the Marin highway patrol office from 1955 through 1957 as a traffic officer. In 18 years in the patrol he has also served in East Los Angeles, Crescent City, Fresno and Indio, his last post.

He replaces Capt. Robert M. Hartman, who took over the command in January. Hartman, who has spent much of his career in the central valley, has been reassigned to Modesto at his request.

Lyons, who is single, served as a Coast Guard radioman for five years during World War II.

Cambodia To Raise Cong Relationship

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian Foreign Ministry announced today it has been agreed to raise diplomatic relations with the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front to embassy level.

At a news conference later, Nguyen Van Hieu, the NLF representative in Phnom Penh, avoided a direct reply to questions about the presence of Viet Cong forces in Cambodia, and their eventual evacuation, saying that relations between the NLF and Cambodia are very good and could develop even more after the end of the war.

Peace-Marching Airman Challenges Air Force Ban

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Attorneys for Airman Michael R. Locks, 25-year-old former San Anselmo resident who was sentenced to a year at hard labor for wearing a uniform in a peace march, yesterday asked a federal judge to remove him from custody and rule on the constitutionality of the Air Force order Locks violated.

U.S. District Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli heard the case and took it under submission. A ruling is expected after Monday.

Locks has been confined since being convicted Feb. 8. His attorneys argue that the Uniform Code of Military Justice says that the punishment of any military man sentenced to more than one year in confinement must be suspended until the higher military appeals courts review his sentence.

In addition to the year at hard labor, Locks was sentenced to forfeiture of all pay and allowances, reduction to airman basic and a bad conduct discharge.

His case is now in the hands of the military board of review in Washington, D.C., his attorney, Richard J. Werthimer, said yesterday.

Locks has also joined two other Hamilton Air Force Base airmen as plaintiffs in another case, Werthimer reported.

A petition was brought by Locks, John R. Bright and Charles A. Williams on behalf of all uniformed men who want to protest in uniform. Bright and Williams wish to march in uniform in a May 30 peace march in San Francisco.

Old Petaluma Mansion Built In 1904

The classic Victorian mansion at 400 Washington Street, Petaluma, torn down this week to make room for a service station, was originally the home of the late D. J. Healey, owner of a semipro baseball team in Petaluma.

The mansion, which in later years housed the Sorenson Funeral Home, was built by Healey in 1904, the last surviving member of his family reported The Independent-Journal had reported the mansion was a century old.

Earl F. Healey, the last of five children of D. J. Healey, recalled the house was built by day labor and took a year. It originally had five bedrooms, two dining rooms, two living rooms, and, to the delight of the children, an attic large enough to roller skate in.

Healey, who now lives in San Francisco, said it was the family residence for many years and later was leased to the Sorenson Funeral Home. Later, the mortuary bought the property. It is now owned by the Union Oil Co.

Florist Looted

Burns Florists of 1230 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, was burglarized of $200 between 10 p.m. yesterday and 7 a.m. today, police reported. Thieves gained entrance by prying open a sliding foor on the east side of the building.

Ross Hospital Sets Student Career Day

More than 100 Marin County high school students who are interested in health care careers will visit Ross General Hospital Tuesday for information on specialized fields.

A barbecue luncheon will open the afternoon and students will talk with department heads and other hospital personnel. Tours of hospital will follow.

AN EMERGENCY CALL FOR HELP!

THE HUSKIES OF INTERIOR ALASKA ARE FACING STARVATION

THIS CALL comes from Alaska . . . from the natives who are watching their faithful huskies die of malnutrition because the fish runs in the rivers on which they depend are sapped and depleted—from March until June—by the great salmon fisheries along the coastline and the Russian and Japanese fishing fleets in the Arctic Ocean and the Bering Sea.

Now the interior villages are snowed in, some completely isolated and practically immobilized by paralyzing cold reaching 50 and 60 degrees below zero. Supplies are running low, the dog food long gone, and the natives must ration their own food as they wait out the days. Some dogs have died, many have that lean and hungry look. The time is again at hand for their friends to come to the rescue—to fly tons and tons of dog food to these villages—and save the lives of the huskies! Will you help? Will you send your mite to keep alive some of the finest breed of dog that ever lent its strength and loyalty to mankind?

PLEASE!

Special Mother's Day Menus Ready At Marin Restaurants

May 2 came and passed by before I realized Ramona Stallings had entered her 10th year at 1025 C Street, San Rafael — so I am a week late in mentioning it.

And with all the people crowding her tables these days it's a wonder that she even thought to say something about it. Anyway she deserves congratulations for nine years well done.

There have been a few changes since her little Mexican restaurant opened in 1960. And all the changes have been improvements. A thriving restaurant in Marin County isn't built in a day and even those few that seem to take off in a flying start usually have to make an adjustment to the long haul sooner or later.

That good looking young fellow now waiting tables is Pablito Castro, the son of Pablo Castro, Ramona's talented troubador. From Chile, Pablito studies at the College of Marin.

AS I HAVE MENTIONED before, the two biggest days of service for restaurants during the year are Easter and Mother's Day. They are about equally divided on which gets the biggest turnout.

At the Peacock in Novato, owners Walt and Jae Soon Del Rose have their busiest time on Mother's Day. It's quite possible this Sunday will surpass the records of prior years.

Chefs Lom Hin and George Yin will prepare prime rib of beef and all the accessories for the American taste at $3.95 and there will also be a child's special. If your taste is for Eastern fare, Lom is featuring a Cantonese dinner with soup, sesame chicken (breast of capon dipped in special butter, deep fried and appropriately garnished), sweet and sour pork, chicken almond, fried prawns, barbecued pork, fried rice, dessert and beverage at $3.75. Other menu listings will be served, too — both American and Chinese. Reservations are strongly recommended.

And as part of the atmosphere, I'm sure you won't miss the new waitress here who looks as though she might have stepped off the screen from Sayonara, leaving Red Buttons behind her.

MOTHER'S DAY HOURS at Rubini's in Fairfax this Sunday are a little earlier. Cocktail service starts at 3 p.m. and dinner at 4.

HOURS FROM 1 to 9 p.m. will be observed for Mother's Day dinner at Lin Fa Gardens, Northgate Shopping Center. Regular menu will be served, with no change in prices. And Lin Fa will then close Monday, May 13.

IF YOU WANT A DRIVE in the country on Mother's Day, but not too far, consider the relaxing qualities of Oak Tree Inn at San Geronimo.

Owners Dee and Ray Brunal will depart from their regular menu this Sunday and offer roast beef, ham and chicken as specials. Complete dinner is $4 and children's menu is $2.

FEATURED Mother's Day dinner entree at Jean's Kitchen in Ross is prime rib of beef. For two persons, with homemade soup, salad and some of Jean Dobson's homemade apple pie, the tab is $6.25. Dinner service from 2 p.m.

Jean will also serve a special breakfast this Sunday from 9 a.m. at $1.50.

ANJO'S at 535 Fourth Street, San Rafael will serve dinner from 3 p.m. from the regular menu. There'll be a big Mother's Day cake on hand — baked by Patti.

CAFE BON VIN in San Anselmo will serve this Sunday from noon, with a number of culinary surprises for visiting mothers and wives. And with an appropriate gesture, Fred Cherry has dubbed his specially created wine cocktail for this day "The Whistler." Recipe is a secret. Even his own mother won't tell the recipe — and it was her favorite.

Next California Night is May 29 — not May 22, as I said last week. I thought it was the fourth Thursday in the month and forgot that May has five. This time the wines of Buena Vista Winery will be featured, with head chemist and enologist Rene Lacasia doing the commentary. Price for all wines and banquet is $8.50. Reservations are going fast.

THE UNFORTUNATE flash fire which damaged the kitchen at Sabella's last Sunday evening has closed the restaurant for this Mother's Day. But Lou Sabella hopes he'll be able to make a reopening between next Tuesday and Thursday. Special custom replacement equipment is being flown in from Chicago.

SAN ANSELMO'S NEW DINERY, Senior Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant at 115 San Anselmo Avenue, will celebrate its grand opening Tuesday through Sunday next week. For the occasion, champagne will be served with each dinner.

Owner Al Barthel has gone to great lengths to make this a cozy, attractive place with the standard manu favorites from south of the border. If you don't see what you want, ask for it.

OUT AT THE COAST, Mike Considine has withdrawn from the Marshall Hotel, leaving Tom Storer as the principal in this operation. He has taken on as manager and co-proprietor Sheila Dempster, who has been with the Glad Hand for about 10 years.

Dinners continue on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, ending at about 10:30 Friday and Saturday and at 8 p.m. on Sunday. Dining room is open both Saturday and Sunday for lunches. The hotel dining room is being used, but there are times when there is a dinner overflow, which is accommodated in the tavern dining area.

John Stewart and Buffie Ford entertain on Friday and Saturday nights.

MEANWHILE, STEWART, whose latest recording is "Mother Country" on Capitol Records is performing with Miss Ford at Gatsby's in Sausalito on Monday and Tuesday nights. Their show starts at 9 p.m.

Also performing at Gatsby's is the Jeannie Hoffman Trio Wednesday through Sunday nights, starting at 9:30. Jeannie is playing with Nat Johnson (who won the largest vote for representation on the Sausalito School Board) on bass, and Al Pimentil, formerly with the George Duke Trio, on drums.

THE FRESH CRAB SEASON draws to a close May 15, and Franchini's Chateau, which makes a specialty of fresh crab cioppino, will take it off the menu after tomorrow night. After that you'll have to wait until November.

Franchini's, as mentioned last week, will give full observance to Mother's Day, with family brunch and dinner.

FAMILY BURGER DRIVE IN, San Rafael, is still celebrating its opening where King Cotton used to be on Francisco Boulevard. This weekend it is offering free pony rides to youngsters, free tickets to the circus (while they last) and free baby burgers and cokes to children under 12, accompanied by parents ordering dinner.

Campbell County, Wy., claims the distinction of having the world's largest antelope herds, plus an abundant supply of mule deer and small game.

$24,000 Is Outlay For Health Unit

A budget of about $24,000 for the fiscal year beginning in July has been approved by the Marin County Comprehensive Health Planning Council.

Most of the money will be asked from the board of supervisors, though attempts may be made to raise part of it privately, according to Dr. Arthur Ablin, council chairman.

He said most of the budget is for salaries, for a health planner and a secretary. Neither has been hired and the council will not actively seek any employees until funding is approved, said Dr. Ablin.

In other business at a meeting Wednesday, the council learned it must remain in the North Bay Comprehensive Health Planning Council for at least another year, Dr. Ablin reported.

He said the local council had hoped to be individually funded, but agreed that for the present, more could be done by remaining with the larger group which has a public health grant.

The health planning council is designed to coordinate use of federal health care dollars.

To Ask Removal Of Three Trees

Larkspur Park and Recreation commissioners have voted unanimously to ask removal of three eucalyptus trees at the corner of Magnolia Avenue and Dartmouth Drive, because with the present widening of Magnolia to four lanes they constitute a menace.

Ninety persons had signed a petition opposing the cutting, commissioner Arnold M. Mayer reported.

The resignation of chairman Robert V. Golden was submitted at city hall prior to Wednesday's meeting and so commissioner James Lienkaemper assumed chairmanship at the session.

Fishing Fines

Lt. Col. Victor C. Taylor, 47, of 631-B, Fort Baker and Glenn S. Alley, 50, of San Leandro, were fined $50 each in Northwest Marin Justice Court Wednesday for taking an over limit of abalone from a Point Reyes beach on May 4, court clerk Stella Phillipscheck reported yesterday. The abalone limit is five.

Ross Brings Its Dogs Somewhat To Heel

Ross councilmen last night indicated they will adopt a watered-down version of the proposed countywide animal control ordinance in an attempt to curb the flood of complaints to the council in recent months.

The new ordinance will include raising the annual license fee from $4 to $5 (except for spayed females which will be $2.50), will make animal control officers "peace officers" and will raise redemption fees for animals picked up to $7 for the first offense and $10 thereafter.

The new ordinance, however, will not include a fourth recommendation by the county that all animals must be under the direct control of a responsible person.

"We don't want a leash law," councilman Roy Farrington Jones protested. "In fact, I don't see any need for a new ordinance at all. What we need to do is enforce the old one."

Jones was joined in opposition to the fourth proposal by councilmen Ralph Walker and W. James Dawson. Mayor Frederick S. Allen and councilman Natalie Lewis favored it.

The new ordinance will also reduce the number of persons it takes to make a complaint against an animal from three to one.

"In the past it has just been impossible to get three people to sign a complaint," Eliott said. However, in addition to the person making the complaint, the violation must be verified by a public servant such as a policeman or animal control officer, under the new ordinance.

The new ordinance will also require that females in heat be kept under control.

Even as the council labored over the new ordinance, complaints continued to pour in.

Mrs. Bobbie Goldenberg told the ouncilmen that "six to eight dogs broke through my fence and tore apart my back door trying to get to my female."

Mayor Allen took time out from deliberations to suggest that Mrs. Goldenberg's dog "be put on the pill" which is supposed to somewhat lessen its attraction to males.

The issue was even more dramatically called to the council's attention when a medium-sized dog burst through the council chamber's door twice during the meeting and disrupted the session for nearly 10 minutes.

The Ross Town Council also:

APPROVED FUNDS — Approved allocation of $550 to the summer recreation program, headed by Mrs. John H. Robinson. The money has been allocated each year, but has not been spent by the program since 1966.

SUBDIVISION — Approved the subdivision of 6.6 acres of land bordered by Shady Lane and Lagunitas into five separate lots. The land is owned by A. Crawford Greene, Jr. Approval was 4-0 with Mrs. Lewis abstaining since she is involved in the land transaction.

ROOM ADDITION — Approved a variance to allow Henry E. Martens to construct an extra room onto his residence at 35 Spring Road.

HOSPITAL REQUEST — Held over action on a request by Ross General Hospital to add to its present facility by building on adjacent property now zoned residential.

OPEN HOUSE — Decided to hold open house at the town's fire station Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., weather permitting.

APPOINTMENT — Named new councilman Ralph Walker to replace Jack Carny as the town's representative on the City-County Planning Commission.

Mia's Brother Is Held For Drugs

MALIBU, Calif. (UPI)—Actress Mia Farrow's brother, John Charles Farrow, 22, was arrested early today on narcotics charges.

Sheriff's deputies said they went to Farrow's home to serve a traffic warrant on a man who had been staying with Farrow.

Deputies George Grap and Ray Wilkie said Farrow invited them inside and told them his friend was not home. However, the deputies saw what they said were peyote and marijuana plants growing in the home and arrested Farrow.

Farrow, a self-employed writer, was booked on possession and cultivation of marijuana and peyote.

Sniper Wounds Freeway Driver

OAKLAND (AP) — A sniper's bullet seriously wounded a San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce vice president as he was driving along MacArthur Freeway.

Doctors at Highland Hospital said today that Lemuel G. Buster, 26, was in serious condition and that they had removed a .38-caliber slug from his head.

Sgt. Roy Anderson of the police homicide detail, said his men had not been able yet to determine from where the bullet came when it hit Buster late Wednesday near Beaumont Avenue.

Buster's wife, Lonnie, 23, grabbed the steering wheel as her husband slumped on his seat, but was unable to prevent the car from striking two others before coming to a halt.

Freeway Widening Is 25 Per Cent Done

The Highway 101 widening project in San Rafael is expected to be completed late this year or early next year, the state Division of Highways has reported in its District Four newsletter.

The job to widen the freeway from four to six lanes for a two-mile stretch from Third Street to North San Pedro Road is 25 per cent complete, the division reported.

In addition to the highway widening, a collector road is being constructed from Third Street to Mission Avenue, a pedestrian overcrossing will be built near Coleman School and improvements are being made to the North San Pedro Road interchange.

The job of constructing a southbound viaduct in San Rafael is tentatively scheduled to go to bid June 11, with $3.2 million budgeted for the project, the division noted.

"Two years will be required to complete this contract (the viaduct) which together with other projects underway will greatly ease the congestion now occurring on Highway 101 through San Rafael."

When completed the new viaduct, built for four lanes, will be used for three southbound lanes of traffic while the existing viaduct will carry three northbound lanes.

Reporting on Shoreline Highway projects, the division reported that $49,000 has been budgeted for safety modifications a half mile east of Muir Woods, cutting back of curves and installation of a guard rail for a half-mile stretch.

Bids are scheduled to be opened Wednesday on widening of Shoreline Highway and installation of a half-mile guard rails about a mile south of Stinson Beach.

Additional work along the route will include widening and constructing left turn storage lanes at Panoramic Highway and the main entrance to Stinson Beach State Park.

Work is nearing completion on the $138,000 project to construct a bridge and approach across Novato Creek on Novato Boulevard, two miles west of Highway 101.

Petaluma Police Dog On Display

Tours and a police dog demonstration Sunday will highlight the Petaluma observance of National Police Week.

Police Chief Larry D. Higgins said "arko," a department dog, will show his skills Sunday at 4 p.m. in front of City Hall and again May 17 at 4 p.m. The dog is handled by officer Al Fambrini.

Tours of the department and jail are planned Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m.; Monday from 7 to 9 p.m.; May 16 from 7 to 9 p.m. and May 17 from 1 to 4 p.m.

Linguist Links Breathing To Learning English

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A linguist says Spanish speaking children have to learn a new way of breathing before they can speak English properly.

Leonard Olguin told the state Board of Education yesterday that Mexicans do not exhale as much air speaking Spanish as English-speaking persons do.

"English - speaking people gush all over," he said.

However, he said Mexican-American children have to learn to exhale more to properly make such sounds as "pd" "b" and "ch."

Setback Sought For New House

The Larkspur Planning Commission will hold a hearing at 8 p.m. Tuesday on the variance application from Robert Le Vesque for a 11-foot, three-inch setback for his proposed dwelling and no setback for his garage at 16 Ardmore Avenue. The setback requirement is 25 feet.

A change of zoning from light industrial to commercial will be sought on the R. C. Doherty property at 1 Doherty Drive and the Pell Development Co., San Rafael, will request a grading permit for its proposed 316-unit apartment complex on Skylark Drive.

City Should Call Bids On Francisco Property

The City of San Rafael, which for nearly two years couldn't get an offer for its Francisco Boulevard corporation yard property, now is suffering from an embarrassment of riches.

No sooner had one pair of auto dealers offered a bid for part of the property, through a real estate broker, than along came another pair — who already have their salesrooms on Francisco Boulevard and perhaps would like to keep out competition — with a higher offer.

The result was that the city council, which had rather too hastily accepted the first bid and might have already sold the property except for objections by City Atty. David Menary to some of the terms of sale, put the whole thing over until May 19.

THE COURSE the council should now follow appears pretty clear: The property should be put up for bid at public sale, divided into several saleable parcels which may be bid on separately or combined. Any other approach is likely to leave the council open to charges of favoritism.

The city council first considered sale of surplus corporation yard property when planning for the new city hall was under way. Councilmen throught the money might be needed to finance the new hall. When it was not, nothing further was done on the sale, but meantime all of the city-owned property along Francisco Boulevard and the canal which was not in use by the city itself had been put under short-term lease, to make its sale possible.

ON NOV. 22, 1966, the city offered to swap corporation yard property to the county for the courthouse square. The then-board of supervisors made no response to the offer.

Two months later, the council decided to put the property up for sale. An appraisal was ordered, and on May 15, 1967, the council by 3-2 vote listed the property with the Marin County Real Estate Board. Interestingly enough, the two dissenters to that plan were Harry A. Barbier and John A. Miskimen, both of whom were ready to grab the first offer from two auto dealers when it was made in March of this year.

That first offer came on the heels of a "feeler" from the county board of supervisors, which — with four new members — thought talk of a courthouse square swap might be worthwhile. Perhaps a little heady over receiving a more-or-less cash offer, councilmen this time were as lofty about talking swap as supervisors were in '66.

THE QUICK AGREEMENT to the first offer brought some immediate objections, however. When councilmen pointed out the land had been on the market for nearly two years, there were several who reported there had been no indication the city was willing to sell it off by parcels — as was proposed in the auto dealers' offer for only about half of the total 7.8 acres.

This, coupled with the quick follow-up offer from two other auto dealers, makes it appear the city would be unwise to sell any part of the property without first calling for public bids on all of it — and allowing subdivision which would enable various potential buyers to bid on the pieces they want.

Incidentally, the price offered for about half the property indicates the trade of the courthouse square for all of it might not be a bad swap.

Seismologists And Seers

Glory be! We made it through April without a major earthquake in the urban areas of California, despite the dire predictions of the dealers in occult phenomena.

California probably will suffer another quake of the same order of intensity as the 1906 tremblor sometime. Most seismologists say it could come any time in the next 30 years. That's a far cry from the seers, who profess to know the exact time.

We are skeptical of psychic calamity howlers. They take a perverse pleasure in frightening people.

The scientists most knowledgable about earthquakes state that at present there is no way of predicting quakes.

Legislator Proposes Way Out Of School Finance Bill Maze

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—What may turn out to be an improvement in procedures for school financing is contemplated in legislation being introduced by Assemblyman John Quimby, D-Rialto.

Quimby says there is an "overwhelming assortment" of legislative proposals which only tend to confuse the problem.

"AT PRESENT," Quimby said, "there are more than 50 measures facing the legislature, all of which propose to solve education's fiscal crisis, yet all these bills are doing is slowing the legislative process.

"Each bill must be considered by legislative committees, and since there are similarities in each measure, the committees are delaying passage on individual proposals to come up with a final plan.

"Apparently some lawmakers don't realize that school districts must have their budgets approved by mid-year, and any major delay in state legislation will not give the schools time enough to include whatever relief the state offers in their budgets."

QUIMBY'S SOLUTION is creation of a special joint legislative finance committee to develop school finance bills, which would be introduced at the beginning of each session. Only those bills would be considered during the general session.

"There is no reason why the legislature cannot establish a firm program based on previous interim hearings so that school financing can be accomplished in the first months of each legislative session," he declared.

"Instead, we're being engulfed with numerous proposals throughout the session, and in the final days, the legislature must rush through a financing program which, in most instances, has problems.

"The tragedy of the thing is that when the programs are implemented, inequities are discovered which should have been found if there had been time for serious study."

STATE AID, Quimby said, is becoming increasingly important to the school districts as school taxes are skyrocketing and voters are rejecting local financing programs.

"But what good is state aid if it comes in piecemeal sizes, with flaws, and at times when districts already have approved their budgets?" he asks.

He points out that a somewhat similar procedure is followed in relation to the executive budget, which is prepared and ready for introduction during the first 30 days of the legislative session.

At least, the Quimby proposal if adopted, would end some of the confusion encountered by the school districts.

Muir Beach Owners Oppose 'Happenings'

It seems that if you don't listen to the radio nowadays you have no idea what might be happening, even in your own backyard.

My husband and I are two of the owners of Muir Beach Resort. Saturday evening we were told that KMPX was announcing a rock concert to be held at Muir Beach Sunday, April 27. So we tuned in to KMPX and found it was true, "Sounds Unlimited Presents —."

We had never heard of Sounds Unlimited, had not been contacted by them, had not agreed that the concert should be put on. Saturday evening we did everything we could to try to prevent it, but it was too late, the word was out.

Sunday, Muir Beach was a mess. The usual sunny-Sunday crowd, augmented by thousands lured to the beach via KMPX, created a record traffic jam, and a really bad scene for many beach residents.

I want your readers to know that it was not the owners of Muir Beach who promoted this rock concert. It was advertised without our knowledge or permission, and we are making every effort to prevent any other such happening.

Interest Rates And Bond Issues

Thank you for your editorial of May 5 in which you point out the failure of high interest rates to control inflation.

In a credit economy such as ours, interest is probably the most pervasive of all costs. Interest is, itself, a price; and it has always seemed strange to me that raising a price which virtually forces a rise in other prices should be relied upon to reduce prices.

The same thing may be said of raising taxes. Taxes are a cost factor — ask any businessman. And, since the various governments invariably spend the taxes they collect, how on earth can it be argued that taxes reduce demand?

The result of our high interest policy has been the enrichment of banks and other financial institutions, along with the tragic effects it has had at all levels of government, as you pointed out in your editorial.

Right now, interest alone ranks very near the top of all federal expenditure items. And it is higher on the lists of state and local governments than many of us realize.

Still, government officials, high and low, seem powerless to resist the lure of bond issues.

A local case in point is the current campaign for an $800,000 bond issue for the Tamalpais Valley Fire District. Even a county supervisor, brought to a recent meeting as a neutral moderator, could not hold himself back from enthusiastically endorsing this issue.

Yet, if that bond issue is passed, the cost to the Fire Protection District will not be $800,000. Assuming a 5 per cent rate and a bond-life of thirty years, the cost will be $1,400,000. . . .

Since both interest and principal must be paid, the average cost of servicing this bond issue will be $46,666 per year. For the next 30 years. . . .

Still, improvements are needed. In the Tamalpais Fire District and elsewhere. Your suggestion that governmental spending be cut has its limits, too.

Necessary maintainance and improvements, if delayed, only cost more when finally they must be financed.

There is an answer, it seems to me.

By levying exactly the same tax which would be necessary to retire the proposed bond issued described above, the Tamalpais Fire District Board could amass in less than 15 years an amount large enough to pay for the proposed improvements.

To say that 15 years is too long to wait is to gloss over the fact that such a reserve-building program could easily have been started 15 years ago. It is also to ignore the fact that the more pressing jobs could be done on a priority basis — the job need not wait until the entire sum is amassed.

Flood Problem Simply Solved

After too long a time of wonderment, I finally understand the Army Engineers (and I hesitate to use the term engineers).

Marty Kent Jones and her valiant co-workers were doomed to failure in their brave effort to save a lovely wooded stream. Because, in order to perpetuate available jobs, this department of the (not our) government must continue to denude the countryside, and thus create more flood areas. With the removal of century-old trees and their attendant vines and native shrubs, and replacement with concrete and cyclone fences (threaded with green vinyl) there is naturally a further runoff, and so the beaver complex is once again demonstrated.

In this past winter of double the normal rainfall, minimal flooding occurred. There were no treacherously high tides coinciding with a high level in our streams. So there always was a way for the rain-swollen creeks to empty into the bay.

If a catch-basin were provided, so that potential flood waters could be safely contained until the tide was low (as the marshlands used to function) and then released into the ocean, there would be no problem.

But, how could the army provide a career for their engineers (?) with a one-shot treatment of a simple problem? So, we in Marin must pay the terrible price of being in their busy-work area.

(Editor's note: The Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project, which includes concreting of the lower portion of Tamalpais Creek where it flows into Corte Madera Creek, was not proposed nor promoted by the Army Corps of Engineers. It was undertaken at the behest of Marin County, and through the efforts of Rep. Don H. Clausen — at the request of the county — in obtaining appropriation of funds.)

THE DRUMMONDS

Poll Shows Less Populous States Favor Direct Election

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — There is new evidence that direct election of the President could virtually be assured if Congress submits the amendment to popularly elected state conventions, as it has the right to do.

The new evidence is that public support for direct election is even higher in the smaller states — where many persons expected greater opposition — than in the big population states.

THE SITUATION is this:

But there are honest doubts as to whether three-fourths of the state legislatures — especially those in the smaller population states — would approve and this has caused some, including President Nixon, to turn away from the best solution to a second-best solution.

It is evident that no thorough consideration has been given to submitting a direct-election amendment to state conventions instead of to the state legislatures. Article V of the Constitution gives Congress that choice and it's been done before.

THE REASON Congress would be well advised to use the state convention method is that popular opinion is more likely to favor direct election of the Presdient than state legislative opinion, at least in the smaller population states, of which only 13 would have to oppose the amendment to defeat it.

But there has been one doubt on this point and now this can be cleared away. The doubt was this: even though the Gallup Poll shows that, nationwide, 81 per cent approve direct election, might not public opinion in the smaller population states, which get some advantage in the present system, be more evenly divided and more inclined to keep the electoral college?

After the Gallup Poll showed that the nation as a whole supported a direct election amendment by 81 per cent, we asked the Gallup organization if they had a sufficient state-by-state breakdown to determine whether 81 per cent national average varied greatly between larger and smaller states. They provided us with the following information:

Question: Would you approve or disapprove of an amendment to the Constitution which would do away with the electoral college and base the election of a President on the total vote cast throughout the nation?

National: Approve, 81 per cent; disapprove, 12; don't know, 7.

Twelve most populous states: Approve, 79; disapprove, 13; don't know, 8.

THIS REPORT resolves the central doubt about the advantage of submitting a direct-election amendment to popularly elected state conventions. The doubt was that public opinion in the smaller states might not parallel that of the nation and prove to be so divided as to exert little impact on state ratifying conventions.

This is now shown not to be the fact and makes the case for utilizing the state convention method of ratification impressive. It would seem that the supporters of direct election in Congress would be doing their own cause a great disservice by neglecting this approach.

AN EDUCATOR'S VIEW

Hiring Plan Forces Out Strong College Presidents

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
Professor of Education
San Jose State College

College presidencies are going begging these days. With the office virtually emasculated very few qualified candidates are willing to submit to the indignities required for survival in the job. Consequently, the number of vacancies in the position reported across the nation has reached an all-time high.

Deterioration of the office should not come as a surprise to anyone, who, through the payment of his taxes, defrays the salary of a college or university president. It has been obvious for several years that many of the chief administrative officers of the nation's colleges and universities have been unable to cope with their responsibilities. And for good reason.

TRUSTEES of these institutions of higher learning have increased the responsibilities of the presidents, but have gutted the office of president of the necessary authority. In fact, the authority has been given to or assumed by the tenure-sheltered faculties. Therefore, because they cannot overcome the handicaps of the vulnerable position in which they have been placed by trustees, college and university presidents, in droves, are abandoning their ships.

It takes no unreasonable stretch of the imagination to conclude that much of today's campus turmoil can be traced to the system by which chief school administrators are selected. The corrupt procedure has become widespread over the nation.

The plan is set in motion by a board of trustees authorizing a college faculty to elect members to a presidential selection committee. This is tantamount to giving the faculty authority to hire its own boss. And, where the system has been applied, the faculties have also presumed they have authority to fire a boss they have hired if he departs slightly from the faculty line.

PROPONENTS of the plan defend it with the pious platitude that a chief college administrator secured by a faculty screening and selection committee will thus become the faculties' president. But in practice he becomes the faculties' lackey.

A board of college trustees has no other function more important than that of hiring its chief school administrator. Its success in converting the public's mandates into reality depends on the quality of performance and degree of loyalty of the school executive they employ. However, in permitting faculty representatives to serve on presidential selection committees the trustees force the president's allegiance to the faculties. And when disputes develop, presidents cast their lot with the faculties — against the trustees. Thus, a crucial link in the chain of command between the trustees and its employees is broken. And the college campus soon becomes an enclave of anarchy.

IN ADDITION to faculty demands for representation on presidential selection committees, students are clammoring for the same privilege. Unless college and universi5y trustees and regents learn from the lessons of history, all of us will be forced to relive it.

No doubt an abrupt departure from the current hiring practice would elicit faculty weeping and wailing. But the alternative is continuation of campus subversion, revolution, and a general state of anarchy. After all, would it be unreasonable to expect school employees to channel all their energies and talents into the jobs for which they were hired? That is, would it be unreasonable to expect administrators to administer, teachers to teach, and students to study?

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By ANNE BARDWELL

Never Ask A Tennis Player To Give Up Use Of The Court

The pundits say the 20th Century will go down in history as the space age. In reference to America, it should go down as the public opinion poll age. Today you can't sit down, stand up, get on or off a bus, buy a cereal, watch a television show, vote, not vote, get married or die without someone trying to collect a sampling of your opinion.

This seems to be particularly true this year in Marin County where organizations and public bodies are obsessed with obtaining the public's opinion, no matter whether it's valid or not.

AN EXAMPLE is the Reed School District, where three public opinion (or parent opinion, if you will) polls are currently underway. One is the long-planned, scientifically tested poll prepared by Mervin Field (of the California Poll) to be distributed by the district's citizens' committee on programs and finances. The second poll, nearly completed now, is being conducted by the Reed District Parents Club to determine parental attitudes toward the district and its programs. The third is a simple questionnaire to be distributed by the staff to find out whether parents are willing to pay school bus fares.

To one who resents questions categorically (particularly those that begin "is that your child?" or "is that your cat?") and believes the federal census is taken far too often, this obsession with opinion taking is nothing more than a waste of a lot of time and money.

However, one poll which, at least to me, appears valid and had interesting results (from the standpoint of idle curosity) is a questionnaire recently distributed to members of the Tiburon Peninsula Club asking attitudes on allowing club facilities to be used for community service projects, particularly by the Boys' Club of Southern Marin.

Of the 216 ballots returned, 60 per cent favored allowing the boys' club to use the peninsula club's swimming facilities and instructions for lessons. Members also supported having the boys club use the baseball diamond but refused them the use of the tennis courts.

THIS VOTE does not indicate any sort of weird discrimination ("We'll let them in the pool but not on the courts") but rather a practical response by tennis players to the problem of crowding of tennis courts, not only at the Tiburon Peninsula Club, but throughout the county.

Few things as quickly raise the passions in the human beast as threatening a tennis player's starting time. The only thing that comes close would be a conservationist's response when told the state has decided to pave over Mount Tamalpais and turn it into a parking lot for tourists going to Sausalito.

THE MILL VALLEY City Council was the cliche user's heaven Monday night as some of the worst cliches of the current group were uttered repeatedly throughout the evening.

"At this point in time" was by far the winner, with a Southern Marin supervisor whom we shall leave unnamed, using the phrase 12 times in a half-hour discussion with the council. The actual total use was higher because the mayor, at least two councilmen and a few members of the audience also got in their share of the phrase.

Others which cause this reporter to shudder are "I just have a couple of questions" (the favorite of audience participants), "guesstimate," and that old, all-time favorite" . . . wise" (planningwise, discussionwise, educationwise, etc.).

Let's everyone get off the dime at this point in time and get squared away, clichewise.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Fusselman

There are a number of clippings before me as I start to write. These particularly stand out and grab ones attention: "County Costs May Toughen Tax Bite," "Mitchell Claims Muzzle Attempt," "Manager Named For Fair-Marin," "Fair Marin To Rent Temporary Office Space," "County Planning Improvements Noted" (a letter to the editor by the lady member of the planning commission, which at first glance seems to be a reasoned defense of Paul C. Zucker, but which on second reading falls rather flat).

The threads running through the group of clippings are the silken ones you can see in the long green when peeling it off at tax time.

Last Friday Auditor-Controller Mike Mitchel tells it like it is or quite likely as it will be. The I-J carried an item recently that Mike was sitting in on the budget preparation with County Administrator Alan Bruce, so knowing Mike and his projections on these things, I would guess that he is pretty close to right, when he says there could be a hike in the tax rate of 21.5 cents, on the $100 valuation, over last year.

COMES IT THEN Bruce with a virtuous statement that it is "irresponsible and very misleading to the public to estimate a tax rate until there is solid information for an estimate to be made, and I am not going to participate in any such estimate." He played a different tune in former years. You know, some of us do remember things that are said from time to time.

He listed some "unknowns on which the tax rate must be based," such as the assessor's estimate of assessed values for the year which will not be known until later this month, and even when this is available, "the assessed values of the utilities, which are done by the state, will not be available."

He should know by now that the taxpayers are wise to his constant harping on tax rate and assessed values. One year he was crying that the assessments were not going to be as high as in former years, so he couldn't keep the rate down.

He is still refusing to talk factually about the dollars you have to pay in. The budget is what is important. If he okays ever higher budgets. You pay more dollars, irrespective of the rate. Then he talks about a carry-over. This year you can ask him "vas ist das?" It ain't. He also talks about budget review by the board and new legislation pending in both the Legislature and Congress — just doesn't want to admit that he is recommending more spending.

THEN FAIR-MARIN is having a manager at $16,000 per year (you know, like transit). And they are renting an office for six months at $128 a month and will hire a secretary. (There just isn't enough room in the administration building?) This is all new this year. Are they paying it, or are you? And $500,000 is needed to complete the auditorium building. (More on that soon.)

Fair-Marin has committed itself to raising $455,000 for seats and stage fixtures. If they pass the hat for that, it will be interesting to watch, after what happened in the attempt to raise funds for the Kent Woodlands creek bit.

Wat Takeshita in his Reporter's Notebook; "The one big hope for some tax relief is the sale of the old courthouse square, as the supervisors have assured that the proceeds would be applied to reduce taxes."

The promise was also made in '58-'59 that no tax money would be used to build and operate the fair grounds on the 80 acres out at Brasilia.

Creek Comment 'Ignorant Barrage'

Your editorial of April 30 has caused my wife, myself and, I sincerely hope, a sizeable number of Marin County residents a great deal of concern and aggravation. It is difficult to determine which specific statement of that obviously ignorant barrage of unthinking verbiage was most offensive. Surely the great mass of it was inaccurate and ill-advised.

I have lived in Marin County for eight years and have been appreciative of its natural beauty for much longer than that. In that eight years I have seen much of that natural beauty shorn away by bulldozers and replaced by concrete and asphalt and much worse than second rate architecture. . . .

Why is it necessary to destroy the great natural beauty which, to our benefit, God has lavished upon this very small portion of our earth?

The residents of Kent Woodlands (regardless of social status) have nothing more in mind than to preserve that beauty and when people such as the students of the College of Marin are called "confused" for volunteering their assistance in that crusade I say that you are violently remiss in your criticism.

Compulsory Water Fluoridation Feared

It is my understanding that Assemblyman John Vasconcellos of San Jose plans to introduce legislation in Sacramento to compel all Californians to drink fluoridated water.

Tooth damaging candies, soft drinks, sugar coated cereals, cakes and cookies, and all refined foods must share the blame for the mounting rate of dental caries.

I would like to ask why must the entire water supply be flouridated?

Why must we use fluoridated water for filling up our many swimming pools, for washing our clothes, our dishes, for watering lawns and shrubs and for fighting the numerous fires that occur? The water commissioner of one of our large cities, claims that for every $1,000 spent to fluoridate the water, only 56 cents worth is used for drinking purposes and only a portion of that by the children whose teeth it is supposed to benefit. . . .

Washington, D. C. water is fluoridated but a great quantity of spring water is delivered regularly to the state buildings.

Reader Uptight On Flood Control

It is simply impossible for me to imagine a more simplistic and destructive attitude than that expressed by the I-J in its editorial of April 30 headed "Creek Affair Exposes Shallow Student Causes." Instead of investigating such pertinent questions as (1) How did this concrete monstrosity come about? (The San Anselmo City Council was right — we were conned into it) (2) What can we do to see that this desecration of our lovely creek be halted immediately? The I-J chooses to bravely launch an attack against Marin's conservationist leaders and Marin's only natural resources — our environment and our children — the students! We should thank the good Lord that we have citizens who care enough to fight to save a few of the beautiful areas that were preserved for them by many of the early Marin Conservationists — such as the Livermores, Kents et al. and that we have a senator, Alan Cranston, who is brave enough at long last to take a stand against the concrete minds and plans of the Army Engineers.

As for your stand against the College of Marin students and your statement that "today's campus demonstrators really have little more deep social commitment than did the panty raids of yesteryears collegians," I can only say, you had better get with it! As the song says: "Something's happening, and you don't know what it is."

As a graduate student returning to U.C. after graduating from Stanford 20 years ago, I can assure you that I have never been more impressed with the utter seriousness and dedication of this generation of students. . . .

Car Theft Report Disturbs Mother

On the night of 28 April our son John George Smith was apprehended by the police in a stolen car. I cannot express the grief this act caused our family and John, because up to that time we had no problems with this boy or any of our seven children. John's humiliation was great and his punishment on his release was to be taken care of by Mr. Smith and I. On returning from the detention home we were deluged with telephone calls by people who had read your article printed in your daily paper. Most of the calls from young people from his school making a joke of this event.

Is news so scarce that a young person's address needs to be printed in a daily paper? You might also have printed that the citizen whose car was stolen had left it unlocked, ignition in the "on" position, and in gear, actually inviting a youngster to steal it. Did he not break a law also? . . .

BEATRICE SMITH
Alto

(Editor's note: Suppose the name John Smith was printed without an address for further identification? How many John Smiths who had stolen no car would thus be wronged?)

Who Are You To Judge Commitment?

Your editorial ("Creek Affair Exposes Shallow Student Causes") hit a new I-J low in the opinion of our family.

There are several false implications in your editorial, which suggested that members of what you call the social "upper crust" led College of Marin students on a dubious conservation effort to save a streambed in a "privileged" area.

You are really out of touch with things in this decade. There is no "social register" worth mentioning in these days—just a people register. That some of these people have a commitment to preserve their environment deserves our deepest gratitude — whether their efforts protect poor or affluent sections of our country.

Your suggestion that College of Marin students are substituting a "shallow" interest in their community for the panty raids of the 40's also shows how retarded your thinking is. Who are you to judge the depth of others' commitments? . . .

Recruiting Students 'Bald-Faced Lie'

I wish to register a vigorous objection to your scurrilous editorial of 30 April, 1969. This opinionated and undocumented diatribe revolves around a bald-faced lie. The kernel of the attack is stated in the second paragraph, namely: "a few wealthy residents of Kentwoodlands have recruited College of Marin students for demonstrations against the Army Corps of Engineers' flood control project".

None of us older people, in what you describe as the "social upper crust", recruited any of the young people at the College of Marin in any way. . .

I am not a lawyer, so that I do not know my legal rights, but I am sure that I am justified in demanding from you a retraction and apology, to be inserted in a prominent place in your paper. Such smear tactics are deplorable in a newspaper and are, in fact, the reason that I have never subscribed to the Independent-Journal in twenty-eight years of residency in Marin County.

JOSEPH B. WHEELWRIGHT, M.D.
Kentfield

(Editor's note: If Dr. Wheelwright were a subscriber and regular reader of the Independent-Journal, no doubt he would have read the stories in the April 17 issue of Marty Kent Jones's appearance before a student group at the college to seek their assistance for the Ad Hoc Committee To Save Tamalpais Creek, and later of her appearance April 25 at a campus rally called by the Black Students Union for the same purpose. Reporters were present at both gatherings, and Mrs. Jones then and since was quite open in recruiting support from the students.)

Logic Attempt Takes Odd Trail

The logic used in your April 30 editorial, concerning the Tamalpais Creek affair was so fascinating I thought I'd try my hand at it. Let's see now — it goes something like this. . . .

If someone decides to use my back yard for a garbage dump, that's my problem. Besides, think of the money they save by not having to make that trip all the way to the dump.

If they want to fill in the bay or litter the freeways with advertising signs and beer cans, that's not my problem. After all, I don't happen to have a bay view, nor do I live next to the freeway.

Let them line our creeks with concrete. I don't have to look at it. While we're at it, why not string Mt. Tamalpais with colored neon lights? I can't see Mt. Tam from my window, and why should a privileged few get to enjoy its natural beauty? Besides, think of all the tourist revenue it would attract to beautiful Marin!

There Has To Be A Better Way

The I-J's editorial of last Wednesday (April 30) re students, residents of Kentfield and the flood control issue exposes its shallow understanding of the beauty of this county.

People stake their lives in Marin because of the trees, the trails, and creeks teeming with small life for children to explore. Those brave "militants" as you call them, like Marty Jones, have risked ridicule for all of us who love Marin. If there were more ridiculous people in the "over-30 generation" today's youngsters would be able to raise their families near something more than a concrete ditch filled with paper trash nine months of the year. (Why doesn't this concern students?)

Flood control, yes. But not at the expense of a major part of our ecology here. There has to be a better way. The Army Corps of Engineers has made a gross error and is in the process of cementing it for posterity . . .

Creek Protest For Benefit Of All

It saddens me to see your lack of sensitivity to the deeper meanings in the current events. You have the power to influence, and the means of expression in your press; you also have a responsibility to investigate why the people act as they do, to probe deeply and respond to man in his struggle to be a part of the formation of his own destiny.

There is something going on down here that is beautiful. The souls of Marinites have met, regardless of age, for a common good. There is no tangible benefit to any one of those people protesting. We are all trying to save something for the future, for the benefit of mankind. The longterm consequences of this controversy and potential benefits of mankind. The longterm consequences of this controversial and potential benefit to mankind (when we succeed) are enormous. From a mere handful of people this cause has been taken on by hundreds of concerned individual citizens. I can't (nor can anyone) force another person to do what he doesn't believe in. A good cause grows faster than the wind; it exhilarates and is joyful in the face of obstacles. Were the average reporter to report, instead of editorialize and distort by omission, democracy would be smoother. The people get frustrated when they feel they can't be heard.

We are an ad hoc committee of individuals. My name is there as secretary-treasurer to provide a contact for offers of help and suggestions; and also it necessarily is there for detractors to use as they will. Use it as you will, but get down here and talk to those human beings who have made a moral committment and who bore witness to the fact by being arrested. Seek the meaning of this. Beneath the cause there is love of nature; there is concern for humanity; there is brotherhood in action. This is creation, not destruction, and it drives people to take a stand and be counted. Listen and feel and delve without fear, open your eyes to both sides and take the risk of finding the truth from both sides before you detract. You too can create and have the means of the press to do so. We have only the one-to-one approach, but watch it soar!

Sausalito Critic Hides Behind Alias

In a letter which you published on April 16, one "Arthur Mentor," Sausalito, claimed to have been a member of the Sausalito Citizens Council. He went on to attack both the organization and our president, Arie Slikkerveer.

No "Arthur Mentor" has appeared on the membership records of this organization since it was founded in 1947; neither does such a person show on current or recent lists of registered voters in Marin, we are told by the county registrar of voters.

We will appreciate your help to set the record straight and to indicate hereby our support of our president.

Sausalito.

(Editor's note: "Arthur Mentor" apparently does not exist, and someone signed a fictitious name to a handwritten letter to the Independent-Journal. The address on the letter was 100 South Street, Sausalito, which is the Cote d'Azure Apartments. Thorough investigation has disclosed no "Arthur Mentor" living in those apartments. While Arie Slikkerveer, president of the Sausalito Citizens Council, is not a citizen, he does not hide behind an alias, as does the writer who signed his letter "Arthur Mentor.")

Marin City Fence Should Come Down

From the story which you did on the fence in Marin City passover to Sausalito, I think you had a very full report on the subject of the fence.

I think the fence should be taken down because it doesn't look good on the face, because students who live in Marin City don't like the fence. When they walk past they don't like the feeling of being fenced in like they are in a prison camp. . .

Nobody of Marin City was told that the fence was going to be put up . . . If everyone would have had some say about the putting up the fence there wouldn't have been arguments. The people in Marin City pay taxes and the money they used came out of their pockets without the advice or consent of the people of Marin City. . .

So now the fence is still up and they haven't started to take it down. They said that they were going to take it down, but haven't. So I wish that the working of taking down the fence would begin so that the students would feel a little better about walking to school.

Transportation Need Well Set Forth

I'm sure that the thousands of readers who read your editorial in Saurday's (April 26) I-J — those forgotten citizens of Marin County who have been without intra-county transportation for many years — were deeply grateful to you for your keen understanding of their problems.

It is beyond my comprehension how Marin County can, for example, erect such a beautiful Civic Center but make it accessible only to those citizens who have private transportation — what on earth did they have in mind.?

I am acquainted with many housewives who do not drive. Many who, even if they did, cannot afford a second automobile, I know other people with very realistic needs to supplement the family income who cannot because they simply cannot get to where the job is, I have friends whose lives would change considerably if they only had a way to get around — these are people who want to do volunteer work — call on sick friends, etc., etc. I could go on raving about this problem but it seems to me you hit the nail on the head so anything further that I could add would only be repeating what you so adequately expressed.

On behalf of all the people who are without transportation, I wish to thank you sincerely for your sensible editorial. Let's hope it reached the right persons and that they will really get the wheels in motion.

Antipay TV Film Resented

I willingly pay $2 to see a good film, but this week at two Blumenfeld theaters (Sequoia and Lark) I was forced also to sit through a commercial, anti-pay-TV propaganda in poor taste, calling pay-TV "a monster about to invade your living room." I was even solicited for my signature on a petition to ban pay-TV. The Blumenfeld commercial is also a gross misrepresentation, telling me I shouldn't pay for what I now get for free. I asked the manager of the Sequoia Theater about this and he admitted that the real reason for the commercial was so we would not pay at home for what we now pay for at the theater. The manager was vehemently upset when I signed the petition with a "No" after my name. I would certainly like to see some editorial comment on your part, sir.

One Step Farther On Interest Conflict

The I-J carried a very interesting article today by Paul Peterzell, about possible conflict of interest by Assemblyman Bill Bagley.

According to Peterzell, our legislator approached the Bay Conservation and Development Commission, a Legislature-established body, on behalf of a private client who desired a Bay fill permit. Peterzell identifies Ed Slevin as one commissioner approached, and notes that Slevin's proxy voted in favor of Bagley's client.

The discussion could have been carried a paragraph farther.

Commissioner Slevin happens to be a public relations man by trade, in fact, one who specializes in conducting political campaigns. One wonders whether or not Bagley has ever been a Slevin client himself in the past, although this may not be as significant as the fact that Assemblyman Bagley undoubtedly has a campaign for re-election coming up in 1970 — and Mr. Slevin is likewise looking for clients.

(Editor's note: Slevin has done some advertising work for Bagley in several campaigns, but Bagley's staff reported that he has not managed any of Bagley's campaigns.

A Mother's Care On The Stork Express

By BARBARA HOSMER

Generally the stork doesn't bring babies, but sometimes the Stork Express does. Last year it brought 52 from the Marin-Sonoma area.

Actually the Stork Express is a jitney service run by volunteer housewives to transport three-day old infants from local hospitals to the Children's Home Society in Oakland to be placed in foster homes until adoption.

Teams of volunteers from each of the six Children's Home Society chapters in the Marin, Sonoma and Napa areas keep layettes in readiness so that, like firemen, when the call comes in from the private adoption agency headquarters in Oakland they are ready to pick up the baby.

Two women usually make up the team—one to drive and one to hold the baby en route to Oakland.

"USUALLY BOTH want to hold the baby," and there's a good-natured argument over it, says Mrs. Thomas Burford of Novato, North Bay Council president for the Children's Home Society, and herself a Stork Express volunteer.

When the volunteers reach the hospital the baby's natural mother has already gone home.

The Stork Express volunteers meet the nurse in charge, who has been notified that the volunteers are coming, explains Mrs. Burford. Each volunteer has an identification card from the Children's Home Society authorizing her to receive the baby. The hospital provides bottles of formula to keep the infant well fed during the drive to the home in Oakland, and the women set off across the bay, one cuddling the baby as if her own.

THE VOLUNTEERS readily admit that they quickly become attached to an infant, and sometimes they will stay at the Oakland home to meet the foster parents who will take the child until his natural mother decides to keep him or relinquish him for adoption.

"I have five girls and was tempted to steal a boy baby once," Diane Burford said jokingly, but the Stork Express, which is statewide, has never lost a baby.

Sometimes the volunteers are asked by the Children's Home Society to take a baby on a plane flight to another city, where it is met by a caseworker and eventually placed with adoptive parents.

"We never know when we might have to make a sudden plane flight," says Mrs. Burford. "The stewardesses get involved, too, and usually announce about the baby passenger because people aboard are curious."

LAST AUGUST Mrs. James Kean of San Rafael and her daughter Terry took four babies to the airport and accompanied them to their destination in Santa Barbara.

"Mrs. Reuben Val Tierra drove us from the home in Oakland to the airport, where we really caused a scene," says Mrs. Kean. "The babies ranged from three weeks to three months old and people wondered how it was that we happened to have four babies.

"The airline men helped us carry them aboard and the stewardess was a great help. Some women at the airport rushed up to us and said, 'we know what you're doing—we did this last week.' They were other Stork Express volunteers," Treva Kean explained.

"When we got to the office in Santa Barbara the nurses were there and the temporary foster parents were all there and began to compare the babies' weights, ages and how long they were. Everybody was completely involved."

All together, the Keans spent about 10 hours transporting the tots to their new home. The babies were placed with foster parents for a week or 10 days until their adoptive parents were ready.

"On all these trips, from the nurses at the hospital to the caseworkers, doctor and nurses at the home, there is tremendous security for the child all the way," she says.

THE STORK EXPRESS picks up babies from all the local hospitals that have maternity sections. In Marin volunteers drive to Marin General, Novato General and Hamilton Air Force Base hospitals. In Sonoma Chicken Little Chapter of Petaluma and Rose Red Chapter of Santa Rosa provide the services, and the new Golden Goose Chapter runs the volunteer express from Napa.

But actually the women may drive much farther. Sometimes Santa Rosa and Napa volunteers go as far north as Yreka to fetch infants to be taken to Oakland. This saves the professional caseworkers time, so that they can devote it to processing adoptive parents and counseling natural parents to provide every child with a good, stable home, whether with his natural parents or adoptive couples.

Fairly often a caseworker can work out a second job or other financial arrangements to allow a natural parent to keep the child, especially in families where there are already three or four children and the problem is a strained budget

THE PRIVATE adoption agency provides all foster parent costs. The voluteers themselves pay Stork Express

WARMTH AND SECURITY go along with a three-day old baby on the trip via the Stork Express to the Children's Home Society in Oakland for temporary foster home care. Housewife volunteers who are themselves mothers pick up the babies, such as this one at Novato General Hospital, and care for them as they drive them to the Oakland home, where foster parents are waiting. Marin volunteers here are Mrs. Jeanne Chapman, left, and Mrs. Thomas Burford, both of Novato.

NURSE MRS. Harold Avery hands the form for the release of the baby for home care to Mrs. Burford to sign, while Mrs .Chapman cuddles the infant. Stork Express volunteers for the Children's Home Society of California are authorized to sign the temporary release form and transport the infant to the society headquarters in Oakland. The baby's mother may either decide to keep her child or relinquish it to adoptive parents while it is being given foster home care. (Jim Kean photos)

Pair Plan August Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Devoto of Santa Rosa have announced the engagement of their daughter, Frances, to Gerald Dixon of San Rafael. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dixon of San Rafael.

Frances is a graduate of Santa Rosa High School and Santa Rosa Junior College and will be graduated next month from the University of California at Davis. She plans to study toward a secondary teaching credential at San Francisco State College next fall.

Gerald is a graduate of San Rafael High School and the University of California and is a dental student at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

The couple plan an Aug. 9 wedding.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Back To Berkeley Campus

By MOLLY MARIN

Marinites heading back to Berkeley tomorrow to attend the open house at the Delta Delta Delta sorority house in Berkeley and tour the University of California campus with student guides include Mr. and Mrs. Henry Broderick of Tiburon; their son, Jon, and daughter, Christine; Mmes. Harriett Ballinger and Norma H. Tanner and her daughter, Alice, all of Tiburon; Messrs. and Mmes. Stewart Burmeister, David Brady, John Murphy and George Walsh, all of San Rafael.

The senior octet of the University of California Glee Club will present a program at the sorority house at 4 p.m.

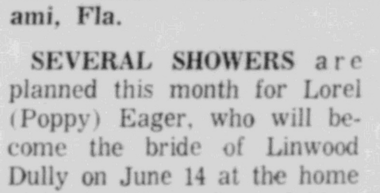
Mrs. Edward Morrison has invited a group of friends, including Mrs. S. W. Fordyce of Belvedere, to a luncheon at her Berkeley home preceding the campus tours. A post-tour party is planned at the Blair Evans' residence in Berkeley.

THE DAVID J. Tirrells are planning a supper party at their summer home in Bolinas May 25 for Mr. and Mrs. Bonsal Segerman, who are moving East.

AN INFORMAL open house was given Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Weller Pierce of Greenbrae at their home on the occasion of Mr. Pierce's birthday. Friends and neighbors of the couple attended the gathering.

DR. AND MRS. RAYMOND Lutzker of Mill Valley are parents of a daughter, their first child, born Sunday in San Francisco.

Grandparents of the baby, named Sarah Dimity, are Mrs. Leone Pinker of Eastbourne, Sussex, England, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lutzker of Miami, Fla.



SEVERAL SHOWERS are planned this month for Lorel (Poppy) Eager, who will become the bride of Linwood Dully on June 14 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Eager of Kentfield. Tomorrow Poppy will be feted at a shower by Mrs. Peter Ribar of Kentfield, and on May 17 Mrs. Richard Boss and her daughter, Mrs. John Regli of Sacramento, will honor the bride-elect at the Boss home in Kentfield.

An unusual "great outdoors" shower will be given for Poppy by Mmes. Bernard Stone, James W. Barnett and David J. Dorward at the Dorward home in Kentfield. Guests will gather around the pool for picnic lunch and the couple, who are outdoors enthusiasts and Sierra Club members, will be presented with fishing, camping and hiking gear. Following their marriage they plan a summer of bicycling through Britain and Scandinavia.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'Why Not Ask Them?' Helen Responds To Reader's Query

DEAR HELEN:

Our neighbors use our dirt driveway to turn their car around in, instead of going about 50 feet further and turning in the cross street. They use it twice a day and, in rainy or snowy weather, it gets to be a real mess.

What can we do to stop this? —LOU

DEAR LOU:

This I'll never understand: Why do you folks write to a columnist on the other side of the country when a simple "Would you mind . . .?" could get the job done fast?

Try it! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'd like to know why they don't make it easier for a woman to get an operation so she would have no more babies? This seems a lot more sensible than pushing abortion laws.

I am 30, have three children, and we can't afford any more. I can't take the pill or use the coil as they both cause physical and medical problems. Other methods don't work.

If they'd make tying the cords easier, it would solve a lot of problems. —WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED:

The only difficult thing about this type of operation is the expense — it's major surgery and therefore not cheap.

A vasectomy for your husband is less costly, being minor surgery, but you must be sure you want no more children before he takes this route. The operation is often irreversible.

Why not talk the whole matter over with your doctor? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Why don't more department stores designate men's rest rooms? A woman can look at the directory and see "Ladies Lounge" but do you ever read "Mens Comfort Station?" No! And show me a man who will ask!

If you do have that kind of nerve, chances are you'll get a raised eyebrow and a vague direction to the employees' room out back, which you never find — or if you do, somebody takes you for a thief.

Women are always yelling "discrimination." Here's one area where men are downgraded. Right? — MIKE.

DEAR MIKE:

Right. I think. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

About your readers' explanations for how the world was populated. True, farther along in Genesis it says Adam had more sons and daughters, and lived to be over 900 years old, but it also says earlier that Cain went into the land of Nod and took a wife — this even before Seth was born.

Some people seem afraid when they hear there might have been other people on earth when Adam and Eve arrived. But if we read the facts as set down in the Bible, we must assume there were others here too. Nowhere does it state that Adam and Eve's children intermarried. When God said "Let us make man in our image . . ." I think He was speaking collectively . . . or perhaps there were others then on earth whom God did not create. — MRS. B.

DEAR HELEN:

In the Lost Book of the Bible and The Forgotten Book of Eden, we read that both Cain and Abel had twin sisters — Lulawa and Aklemia. Each married the other's twin and that's how the world began to multiply. — DOMINICK

DEAR EVERYONE:

Fascinating! So far I've received nearly 1,000 explanations of how the world began — an all-time high for responses to any one letter. God is not dead! —H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

CHAIN BELT popularity is at an all-time high. Designers feel it is the beginning of a waistline jewelry trend with an anything goes attitude. And anything that clinks, slinks or links will add life to last year's shift.

St. Laurent Belt Starts Chain Reaction In Style

It's just like trimming the Christmas tree. But this season you wind the tinsel round and round the waist. This latest of fashion pastimes all started with St. Laurent's chain belt of several collections back.

The chain belt was just the beginning of what has come to be called waistline jewelry. Waistline jewelry starts with anything clinky, slinky or linky. It buckles, wraps, sashes or ties . . . at the waistline, or thereabouts.

Waistline jewelry can be a series of gold or silver coins or discs linked together. It can be chunky gems set on a chain. It can be rows of tasseled cords or colorful ropes, or scarves strung through a chain. It can be a heavy waistline cuff or a string of buckles or medallions. It can be a complex of chains worn like a harness. It can even be a simple belt.

There are also bogus belts on the scene. They clip across the waistline front instead of circling it. Another new belt-look features an alphabet of gold-plated letters suspended from a chain. One favorite summer waistline jewelry item is an updated version of a pop-it bead set. The beads mix and match in colors, can be worn in a single strand or built row on row for a hip-to-rib cinch.

Whatever your choice, making waistline jewelry a part of your wardrobe will add the perfect finish to new layered costumes and will give new life to last year's shift.

Mrs. Henegar Is P-TA Leader

Mrs. Phyllis A. Henegar of Novato is the new president of the Pleasant Valley School Parent-Teacher Association. She will be installed at the PTA mother-daughter luncheon on May 20.

A four-year-member of the PTA she has previously served as secretary and vice president. She is also active in Girl Scouts, St. Francis Episcopal Church and the Marin County Dog Training Club.

Janet Pedersen Engaged To David Alan Walter

A family dinner and a candle ceremony were the occasions for announcing the engagement of Janet Marie Pedersen and David Alan Walter, both of Kentfield. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pedersen, and the future bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walter.

Janet and David are graduates of Redwood High School. Janet is a student in the San Jose State College nursing program, where the candle was passed to announce her engagement. She has attended the University of California, where David is now enrolled.

The bride-elect is the sister of Ardith, Virginia and Kenneth Pedersen, all of Kentfield. Her grandmothers are Mrs. P. I. Pedersen of San Jose, formerly of Mill Valley, and Mrs. Frederik Gervolstad of Piedmont.

David is the brother of Sharon, Mark and Gary Walter of Kentfield and the grandson of Mrs. Louise Stokes of San Rafael and Mr. and Mrs. Joachim Rudiger of San Francisco.

Roaring Twenties In Sausalito To Be Recalled At Speak-Easy

"Sausalito in the 1920's" will be the theme at the Sausalito Woman's Club tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Members will be admitted by password to a waterfront speak-easy featuring entertainment and music in the 1920's style, with the Sweet Adelines directed by Steve Carrick.

Chairman Mrs. Patrick Taylor is being assisted by Mmes. Edward Bronson Jr., Michael Graham, Walter Guthrie, Allan Hayes and Robert Thompson, decorations; Justin M. Day, W. M. Haynes and Garret Hodgson, food; and Gordon H. Douglas, Patrick Flynn, A. W. Gallagher, Charles Henderson, George Kowski, James Muldoon, Clifford Raisbeck, S. C. Stapp and D. W. Shitaker, entertainment.

Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Taylor and E. G. Buchanan.

TOMORROW starting at 9 a.m., the Educable Mentally Retarded Class at Sinaloa Junior High School is sponsoring a rummage sale to be held in the school gymnasium. The proceeds will be used for a trip to Disneyland for the 10 students of this class.

Clothing, furniture and records are among the items on sale to raise funds.

THE GOLDEN GATE Chapter of Clipped Wings will sponsor tomorrow night's performance of "The Impossible Years" by the Ross Valley Players at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Proceeds will go to Project HOPE, the international hospital training ship.

Benefit chairman is Mrs. Warren Vincent of Kentfield. Reservations for tickets may be made by calling the Ross Valley Players.

SAN RAFAEL ASSEMBLY 195, International Order of Rainbow for Girls, will hold a meeting tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the San Rafael Masonic Hall. Election of officers will be held and appointed officers announced.

In the afternoon a luncheon and degree honoring the mothers of the members of San Rafael Assembly will be held.

BICYCLE OWNERS may register their bicycles from 8:30 a.m. to noon at the Bike Rodeo at San Rafael City Hall on Fifth Avenue.

Registration chairmen Mmes. James Reese and Edward Lankenau of Peter Pan Chapter of Children's Home Society remind owners that bicycles must be brought and a small fee is charged.

A complete description of each bicycle is recorded for the permanent file which is available to local law enforcement agencies in the event of a reported lost or found bicycle.

THE MARIN COUNTY Foster Parents Association will sponsor a Mother's Day pancake breakfast on Sunday at the social hall of the Blessed Sacrament Church, 160 North San Pedro Road, San Rafael, from 8 to 11:30 a.m.

Proceeds will support the program for foster children in Marin County.

A "Mother's Day Make Believe Tea" is planned on Sunday. For this non-event a large mailing, with each envelope containing a tea bag, a napkin and a return envelope asking for a nominal contribution, is being sent. The donation will be used for research.

Mmes. Fred Frauens, Donn Lando and Elmo Pieri are co-chairmen and Mrs. Joseph Ramblas is handling publicity.

GREEK PASTRIES made by the Greek Women's Auxiliary of Marin County, will be sold tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at three locations: Long's Drugs in Novato; Scotty's Market, Terra Linda, and the Marin Co-op, Corte Madera. Selling the baklava, dipples, karidopita, kourembiedes and koulourakia will be Mmes. Stanley Sarganis, Spiro Halikas, Vasiliki Mastorakos, Gus Stathis, Chris Christo, James Kambur, Thano Johnson, John Papadopoulos and George Morf.

costs--gasoline, bridge tolls and incidental costs.

Each volunteer is given a physical checkup and each year has a tuberculosis test. The chapters each have Stork Express chairmen and a group of volunteers. In smaller chapters the whole membership may take turns running the transport service.

The volunteers' enthusiasm, whether they are with Peter Pan, Jolly Rogers and Tom Thumb chapters of Marin, Rose Red, Chicken Little or Golden Goose in Sonoma and Napa, is what makes the Express work. They're always eager to be "on the road again," fussing good-naturedly about who gets to hold the baby.

Students To Be Wed

A Dec. 20 wedding at St. Rose's Catholic Church in Santa Rosa is planned by Merrie Ann Major of Santa Rosa and Robert G. Marshall of Rohnert Park.

The future bride is the daughter of Mrs. Edward E. Major of Santa Rosa and the late Mr. Major. Ed Major is her brother. She is a graduate of Ursuline High School and is in her sophomore year at Sonoma State College.

Robert, who is also a student at Sonoma State, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Marshall of Dunsmuir. He is a graduate of Dunsmuir High School and College of Marin.

Chicken And Turkey Top List For Abundant Meats

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that food shoppers will find good displays of meat and poultry and adequate supplies of some fresh fruits and vegetables in food stores and supermarkets this second weekend in May.

Heading the list of abundant meats are broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys. Among the beef cuts in more than ample supply are roasts and steaks and ground beef.

On USDA's plentiful foods list for May, in addition to turkeys, onions, and Maine sardines, are canned and frozen green beans, canned and frozen corn, canned beets, and canned tomatoes and tomato products.

IN THE WEST:

Eggs are lower in all markets and turkeys are slightly higher in Los Angeles.

Beef prices are advancing while pork prices are mixed in all markets. All sizes of eggs are lower in all markets. In Los Angeles turkeys are higher and fryer chickens are higher in Portland.

Choice beef cuts are higher in all markets and other beef cuts are higher.

Veal is higher in Portland and calf is higher in California markets.

Pork loins are lower in all markets except Los Angeles where they are higher. Spareribs are higher in all markets and fresh picnics are lower in Los Angeles. Slab bacon is higher in Portland and lower in Los Angeles. Sliced bacon is lower in San Francisco. Smoked hams are lower in Portland and higher in San Francisco.

FRUITS AND vegetables in best supply include apples, bananas, avocados, grapefruit, emperor grapes, oranges, strawberries, cabbage, carrots, lettuce, onions and potatoes.

Arabs

Miss Hofmann To Wed After Trip To Europe

The engagement of Suzanne Michele Hofmann to Paul H. Rabwin is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hofmann of San Anselmo.

Paul and Suzanne are students at the University of California at Santa Cruz. During the fall quarter she will study in France while he assists with the casting and designing of a musical production in Europe.

SUZANNE HOFMANN

Joss Boothby Is Engaged

The engagement of Josselyn Boothby of Greenbrae and Stephen Michael Robertson of San Francisco has been announced, and the couple plan a July 12 wedding in Sausalito.

The daughter of Mrs. Virginia Boothby of Greenbrae and John B. Boothby of San Francisco, Josselyn is the sister of John T. Boothby, a student at the University of California, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Lydia Boothby of El Cerrito and Mrs. Lloyd J. Thayer of Carmel.

She was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and the University of California and received a teaching credential from San Francisco State College. She is a teacher with the San Francisco Unified School District.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Robertson of San Francsico, Stephen is a Lowell High School and the University of California graduate. He was just graduated from Hastings College of Law in San Francisco. Stephen is the brother of Edward Robertson of San Francisco.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Two Finesses Must Be Made To Make Difficult Contract

You've often taken two finesses in the same suit through the same opponent. For example, when you hold A-Q-10 of a suit you try a finesse with the ten and later try another finesse with the queen. Today's hand is unusual because declarer must try two finesses in the same suit, but one against each opponent.

Opening lead — ♠ J

SPOTS TROUBLE

South wins the first trick with the king of spades, noticing that he has seven tricks in top cards. He can easily develop one additional club trick, but the ninth trick is harder to find.

The diamonds are out of the question. If South gives up one diamond, back will come a spade to the ace. When the opponents get their other diamond trick they will defeat the contract with the rest of the spades.

South cashes the top hearts since dummy's ten will supply the ninth trick if the jack of hearts drops. When there is no luck in hearts South must win three club tricks to make his contract.

MANY POSSIBILITIES

South can develop three clubs if either opponent has the singleton or doubleton king of clubs or if East has the king of clubs but not the ten. Declarer can play for all of these possibilities by leading a low club to start the suit.

When West plays a low club, declarer tries a finesse with dummy's nine. If this drives out the king, South is home. If the nine loses to the ten of clubs, South must cash the ace of clubs next in the hope of dropping the king of clubs. This takes care of all singleton or doubleton king combinations.

GUARDED WELL

As the cards lie, the king of clubs is well guarded but the ten of clubs is in favorable position. If East takes his king, South easily wins three club tricks. If East refuses the trick, dummy's nine wins. Declarer then leads the queen of clubs from dummy for a finesse, making a total of three club tricks when this second finesse succeeds.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 2-no-trump (22 to 24 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♥ 10 6 5 2
♦ 8 6 4
♣ Q J 9 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You need four points in high cards or an unusually long suit to respond to an opening bid of 2-no-trump.

Logical Name

NEW YORK (UPI)—Why is rubber called rubber? The International Institute of Synthetic Rubber Producers, Inc., says that in 1770 Dr. Joseph Priestley, an English scientist, used hardened latex (liquid rubber) to rub pencil marks off paper and coined the name "rubber."

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, May 9, the 129th day of 1969 with 236 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1502 Christopher Columbus set sail from Cadiz, Spain, on the fourth and last trip to the New World.

In 1946 King Emmanuel III of Italy abdicated. The throne was yielded to his son, Crown Prince Humbert.

Last year Russian troops began moving near the Czech border. The Czech president said his nation would continue its reforms.

34 Will Join In 'Paper Fair'

Thirty-four organizations will participate in the second annual "Paper Fair" tomorrow through May 17 at the Co-op Marin, 71 Tamal Vista, Corte Madera.

The fair will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday. It will include displays, demonstrations, informational tables, fund-raising booths and book sales, according to Mrs. Helen Anderson, chairman.

The cast of the Mountain Play will appear Saturday to distribute information on its forthcoming production.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael library.

FAMILY

"African Safari" — Story covers a span of 5 years in central and East Africa of capturing live animals and snakes for zoos. Photographer records awesome scenes. Incredible — a must-see.

"Guru" — A group of entertainers and hippies make a pilgrimage to India to study music and Hinduism under their favorite Guru. Authentic indoor and outdoor locations makes film well worth seeing.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Buona Sera, Mrs. Campbell" — For their 20th reunion, three fliers and their families return to an Italian village. Each flier has been paying generous child support to an Italian woman for her illegitimate daughter. Risque comedy.

"Charly" — Poignant dramatiziation of a fictional case history of first human subject of a new type of brain surgery on a mentally retarded young man. Thought - provoking, sensitive performances from the cast.

"Killer's 3" — A returned veteran fights poverty in North Carolina by bootlegging and bank robbing. Scheme leads to wholesale violence and murder. Killers are sentimentalized.

"Romeo and Juliet" — The great tragedy is made vividly new and immediate in a superlative production.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources say Adults Only)

"The Incident" — A psychological drama of violence that underscores the current problem of public fear and apathy where crime is rampant.

"The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie" —Story of the unethical and uninhibited conduct of a teacher in a girls school in Scotland in the 1930s. Her behavior is presented as amusing and acceptable. Nudity and sex are explicit.

ADULTS ONLY

"Week End" — Revolutionary oratorio of French film maker, Jean Luc Godard, provides bitter denunciation of contemporary society. English titles. (Parents Magazine)

"Thomas Crown Affair" — Criminal and investigator become involved in a torrid love affair. Crime pays well in this case. Very modern treatment; all phases of immorality are taken for granted.

"Two for the Road" — Sophisticated comedy has several explicit love scenes and extremely frank dialogue.

Grenade Kills Young Trainee

FORT ORD (UPI)—A young infantry trainee was killed yesterday when a hand grenade exploded as he was about to throw it out of a training bunker.

Army authorities identified the victim as Stephen W. Rowe, 21, son of David G. Rowe of San Francisco and Mrs. Coreen M. Rowe of Pacoima, Los Angeles County.

The father is a newsman for United Press International in San Francisco.

Military authorities opened an investigation of the premature hand grenade explosion. Rowe, who joined the Army in January, was in the seventh week of advanced infantry training.

Invitation To Join In Annual Show

Painters, sculptors and graphic artists from the Bay Area have been invited to participate in the Marin Art and Garden Fair's annual art show, July 2 through 6, in Ross.

Cash awards will total $375, with $150 going for the best-in-show and other awards of $100, $75 and $50, reported Mrs. Marcelle B. McCoy, fair manager.

Entry cards must be in the Marin Art and Garden Fair office, Box 437, Ross, by June 18, Mrs. McCoy said. Entries must be delivered to the Frances Young Gallery at the fairgrounds June 21 sometime between 10 a.m. and 8 p.m.

The nonrefundable entry is $1 per work and no more than two works can be submitted by any one artist.

The show is open to residents of Marin, Alameda, Contra Costa, Napa, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Solano and Sonoma counties.

Bus Falls, 6 Die

MANILA (UPI) — A bus plunged off a 20-foot cliff in Leyte province in the southern Philippines yesterday, killing six persons and injuring 22.

Safeway Picket Plans Defended By Lawmakers

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The picketing of Safeway Stores planned for tomorrow by striking California farm workers won the endorsement of 16 Democratic state legislators yesterday.

The United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, has designated tomorrow as "International Boycott Day" and will attempt to force the supermarket chain to stop selling California table grapes. The union is conducting a nationwide boycott of the grapes as part of its strike against grape growers.

The legislators issuing the statement were Sens. George Moscone of San Francisco, Mervyn M. Dymally of Los Angeles, Nicholas C. Petris of Oakland and Albert S. Rodda of Sacramento and Assemblywomen Yvonne Brathwaite of Los Angeles and March K. Fong of Oakland and Assemblymen Willie L. Brown Jr. of San Francisco, Bill Greene of Los Angeles, Leon Ralph of Los Angeles, David A. Roberti of Los Angeles, Alan Sieroty of Beverly Hills, L. E. Townsend of Gardena, John Vasconcellos of San Jose, Charles Warren of Los Angeles, Henry A. Waxman of Los Angeles and John L. Burton of San Francisco.

'I ENJOYED IT'

Teacher Nears Retirement After A 44-Year Career

By JOANNE GRANT

There is more unrest now, but basically children haven't changed much in the last 44 years, said teacher Frances Collens, looking back over her long career in the classroom.

"Seventh and eighth graders are apt to try to copy what they read about," Mrs. Collens explained.

"But they still try to worm out of things sometimes," she smiled, comparing her first days as a teacher in Northern Minnesota with her present duties as a mathematics teacher at Davidson Junior High School, San Rafael.

Mrs. Collens will be leaving that post at the end of the semester. On July 1, she and her husband, Vernon J. (Jack) Collens, will retire to Fort Bragg.

The children have not changed, but the curriculum has, Mrs. Collens said, noting the major difference in her field was the coming of "new math."

She approves of the change, pointing out "much of it helps to clarify some of the rules" which children formerly just memorized. "It twlls how to do the work and why," she said.

Mrs. Collens has been teaching math at Davidson for the past eight years. Before that she was a sixth grade teacher at Oliver Hartzell School, San Rafael, and before that was in Oregon and Minnesota.

The highlight of her abundant memories of hundreds of children is the results, she said. "Kids come back to you even after they've gone to college."

Mrs. Collens said she had always wanted to be a teacher and liked her work, except for checking papers. The hardest part, she added in an interview at her home at 116 Picnic Avenue, San Rafael, is "having to give grades — having to decide whether it's an A or a B."

She explained that sometimes she knows the child knows the material but has made a minor mistake in arithmetic. One of the advantages of new math is that there sometimes can be more than one answer, she said.

Mrs. Collens has taught for so many years because "I enjoyed it," she said. She also has no children of her own and no particular interest in "just staying home and playing cards."

Her husband maintained it is because she is dedicated. "She was so busy teaching she only stopped to get married 15 years ago," he said.

The couple plans to move to Fort Bragg simply because they like the area. She plans to "enjoy freedom for awhile." "No bells," she smiled.

She will also help her husband who handles and gathers mushrooms, an interest she has acquired from him.

"They have a lot of mushrooms, a lot of varieties" around Fort Bragg, she said, obviously looking forward to the new hunting ground.

Larkspur Trustees Weigh Substitute Teacher Pay

The Larkspur School District board last night pondered how to finance a nearly 38 per cent increase in substitute teachers salaries, then decided to put the request in with other salary increase requests for 1969.70, Supt. Milton S. Cohen reported today.

The request from the Marin County Substitute Teachers Association is that salaries be hiked from $24 to $33 per day.

In other salary matters, the board adopted a resolution asking that health and welfare benefits be included in the computation of classroom teacher salaries.

Trustee Curtis P. Kamai reported that salary negotiations with the Larkspur Teachers Association are continuing and the board said it plans to take final action on the 1969-70 salary schedule at its regular meeting May 22.

Trustees went into closed session to discuss hiring teachers for 1969-70 but held over action until May 22.

Larkspur School District Board Also:

SUMMER SCHOOL — Heard that more than 400 pupils have registered for summer school to be held June 18 to July 18 at Neil Cummins School with Alfred Kerr as principal.

FEDERAL FUNDS — In a state Department of Education, letter, was advised that, contrary to rumors that National Defense Education Act funds are being terminated, sone funds will be forthcoming in the latter part of May.

COMPENSATORY EDUCATION — Was informed by the state Department of Education that Larkspur School District is one of 30 California districts chosen for its successful compensatory education programs.

Tomales Board Sets School Dedication Date

Tomales Joint Union High School District trustees last night set Aug. 24 for the dedication of its new $995,400 high school and named themselves as a citizens committee to plan the fete.

The board will be dissolved June 30 when the district is absorbed by the Shoreline Unified School District.

Supt. Anthony Matulich, who also was named to the planning committee, said the new school is now scheduled for completion by June 1.

The Tomales Joint Union High School District Board also:

ACCREDITATION — Reviewed an accreditation report on Tomales High by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges which granted the school accreditation through June 30, 1974, the first time the school has been given a full five-year, instead to three-year, accreditation. Matulich said a limited number of the reports are available from the district office in Tomales.

LECTURES — Approved a request by the Pacific Marine Station for a summer lecture series at the school

AUTO — Received a report from Matulich that negotiations are underway for a new drivers education car to replace the old one which was wrecked two weeks ago.

Committee Slates Drug Abuse Talks

The five-member Belvedere-Tiburon committee studying drug abuse in the Reed School District will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in Belvedere City Hall to plan for the community drug abuse workshop to be held June 7.

Time and place of the workshop will be set, according to Kenneth Wells, committee publicity chairman.

Auto Plunges Into Bay, Driver Dies

Alexander Edmond Williams, 59, of 10 Locust Avenue, was pronounced dead at Marin General Hospital at 8:30 p.m. after a tow truck pulled his car from the five-foot-deep water and pried the doors open with a winch to release him.

Mill Valley police said Williams's car was southbound at 7:50 p.m. on the Redwood Highway frontage road past Sabella's restaurant and plunged straight ahead where the road curves under the Richardson Bay bridge. It vaulted over a guard rail and landed upside down in the water. Two policemen suffered minor cuts trying unsuccessfully to free Williams from the submerged car.

It was not known, pending autopsy, whether Williams suffered a seizure before the accident, drowned when the car went into the bay, or died of crash injuries. Police said there was no sign the car had braked or tried to turn.

Williams, one a San Francisco schoolteacher, had been a partner since 1938 of Mary Lathrop (Molo) Williams in a craft school which was in San Francisco for many years and moved to Mill Valley in 1964. They were married in 1967 and Molo died last year.

Williams recently remarried and is survived by his wife, Ethel C. Williams of Mill Valley. He was a native of California.

If listed as a traffic fatality, William's death will be the 12th to date in Marin this year. There had been eight traffic deaths by this date last year.

Marin Bicycle Championships Open Tomorrow

The 1969 Marin Bicycle Championships for boys and girls age 7 through 12 will be held tomorrow and May 17. Events will include a bicycle safety check and obstacle riding.

Preliminary competition will be held at 8:30 a.m. Saturday with five winners to be selected at each of six schools.

Youngsters from Novato, Hamilton Air Force Base and Ignacio will compete at Novato High School; those from Marinwood, Terra Linda and San Rafael at San Rafael City Hall; those from San Anselmo, Fairfax and Ross at Wade Thomas School, San Anselmo; those from Larkspur, Corte Madera and Greenbrae at Neil Cummins School, Corte Madera; those from Mill Valley, Belvedere and Greenbrae at Edna Maguire School, Mill Valley, and those from Sausalito at Central School.

Winners of the preliminaries will compete at 8:30 a.m. May 17 at San Rafael City Hall.

The contest is sponsored by KTIM, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Schwinn dealers. The top three winners will receive bicycles.

Mendoza To Head Milk Producers

Other officers named were Wilfred LaFranchi, vice president; George Rogers, secretary, and Louis Zanardi and Kenneth Kehoe, re-elected to the board of directors. The meeting was held Saturday at the West Marin Community Center.

Woman To Prison On Checks

Francille Ann McGee, a 22-year-old San Francisco woman who has had a penchant for using fictitious names, today was sentenced to a one-to-14-year state prison sentence for two counts of possessing stolen checks with intent to defraud.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court made the sentence concurrent with other prison terms Miss McGee has to serve, including a federal six-year sentence. She is also awaiting sentencing in Alameda County for the same type of offense.

Miss McGee, who pleaded guilty to the Marin charges, allegedly was the check passer for a San Francisco man who specialized in "fencing" stolen checks.

She appeared in court today wearing a gold knit suit and with her hair modishly arrayed, matching the description police gave of her when they arrested her March 7 in Mill Valley driving a 1969 Cadillac.

She was at that time sought on earlier charges and was attempting to cash $250 in stolen travelers checks at a Mill Valley bank.

She fled when bank officials became suspicious but was caught by pursuing bank employees.

Ross Trustees Set Session On Hiring

The Ross School District board will meet in closed session at 7:30 p.m., Monday, to discuss hiring of employees for the 1969-70 school year, then reconvene in open session at 8:30 p.m. to discuss the overall 1969-70 budget.

Supt. Robert D. Gowan will report on the statewide testing required in sixth grade.

Daughter Tells Of Letter Dictation

The trial in which the heirs of an octogenarian are attempting to regain property and cash given by him to two young women continued today with the old man's daughter calling upon her "beautiful mother to rise from the grave," if she weren't being truthful.

Adeline Bootzin Rodriguez resumed the witness stand in Marin Superior Court to testify belligerently about a letter sent over her father's signature to his protegee, Charmaine Klenman.

Max Bootzin did not dictate the letter, which was "aimed at setting things right with the girls," Mrs. Rodriguez said today, but rather the letter was the work of Miss Klenman.

Mrs. Rodriguez, who was unable on cross-examiniation to spell words in the letter, referred to the letter-writing occasion as having taken place "after Miss Klenman hit my father on the head with a lamp."

The letter, which was later typed and sent to Miss Klenman by an attorney, expressed appreciation of the old man for the "friendship and companionship" which Miss Klenman and her friend Joan Saylor had given to Max Bootzin.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson, who is hearing the case without jury, smilingly said he was convinced that neither Mrs. Rodriguez or Max Bootzin had authored the letter.

Mrs. Rodriguez and her two brothers, Robert and Morris Bootzin, are attempting through the executor of her father's estate, Vincent Hallinan, to regain the house in Mill Valley which Max Bootzin gave Miss Klenman.

Miss Klenman, Miss Saylor and the old man lived together in house for several years before his death in 1966.

The threesome had a number of spats, according to testimony, and after a tiff over the old man's refusal to add a third bedroom to the house, he moved out and filed suit against the women to recover his property.

Teen-Ager Turns Self In After Burglary Episode

An 18-year-old Corte Madera youth, Robert Edward Decker, of 14 Serra Street, turned himself in last night to Ross police in connection with the burglary of a Ross home, and a 17-year-old companion was arrested today.

Decker was booked into Marin County Jail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today, and his companion, Michael Richards of 147 Meernna Avenue, Fairfax, was booked into juvenile hall, both on suspicion of burglary.

Ross police reported that Mrs. Laurence B. Higbie returned to her home on Makin Grade at 2:4 p.m. yesteray to find Richards loading household goods into a car parked outside. On receiving a vague explanation from him, Mrs. Higbie jotted down the license number of the car, which proved to have been borrowed by Decker from a friend and loaned in turn to Richards.

Decker, police said, turned himself in at 11 p.m. after being persuaded to do so by the father of the car's owner, to whom he went for advice. Richards was arrested at 1 a.m. today at his home.

Missing from her home, Mrs. Higbie said, were a .22 caliber semi-automatic rifle, a portable TV set, and a stereo radio with two speakers. No estimate of value was made.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

School Administrator Ratio Bill Is Upheld

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill setting definite ratios of administrators to teachers in the state's school districts was pressed in the Legislature today as a way to save up to $111.5 million for education.

"Education takes place in the classroom," said Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, D-Burlingame.

Ryan, chairman of a joint legislative committee on teacher licensing and public school employment, made public a report on a study of the number of administrators in the schools of the state—and what they do.

"This report proves what has long been common knowledge to thoughtful people," he said. "Pupil achievement, pupil progress, pupil gain do not correlate with a high number of administrators."

Ryan introduced a bill earlier in the year that would set the definite ratios of administrators to teachers and said the joint committee report "substantiates" the bill.

As a result, the report showed, the schools would have 8,579 fewer administrators for a potential savings in salary of $111.5 million.

The report shows there are now 25,112 adimnistrators in the schools of the state—4,965 in elementary schools, 2,340 in high schools, 996 in junior colleges, 7,810 in unified districts, 490 in high school-junior college combination districts, 1,041 in elementary-high school combination districts and 7,470 in other unified districts.

VIEWS ON CAMPUS

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto says Gov. Ronald Reagan should deal separately with "students who want disruption for its own sake" in handling campus disturbances.

Alioto, a potential Democratic candidate for governor next year, told the Sacramento Rotary Club Reagan should use "something more than repressive force" in dealing with such unrest.

Alioto said he believes both he and Reagan agree on using policemen to control campus riots.

"But I am not so sure he is willing to work quite as intently on keeping some stability and keeping separate those students who want disruption for its own sake, the hardliners, against those legitimate educational issues which are totally involved," he said.

CAL-VET FUNDS

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill authorizing the sale of revenue bonds as an alternate means of financing Cal-Vet home and farm loan programs was killed yesterday by the Assembly Government Administration Committee.

Assemblyman Ernest N. Mobley, R-Sanger, said his measure was designed to keep the Cal-Vet program on firm financial footing because the state is having difficulty selling general obligation bonds to pay for the programs.

Mobley said the banks and savings and loan companies worked behind the scenes to have his bill defeated because "they wouldn't be able to make any money of the Cal-Vet program if it were funded by revenue bonds. They're protecting their self interests and no more . . ."

REAGAN RAPPED

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman John P. Quimby, D-Rialto, says Gov. Ronald Reagan's administration opposes his bill to provide college scholarships for children of policemen killed in the line of duty.

Qpimby said Thursday the Department of Finance sent him a letter announcing its opposition to the measure which allot $1,500 a year for each child qualified to attend college.

The lawmaker described the letter as "a cold and calculating expression of the Reagan administration's confused attitude which speaks of supporting the policemen but not supporting his bereaved family."

FLOOD PLAN HIT

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Assembly Democratic leader Jess Unruh told a U.S. Senate Committee today that Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin is disregarding the law in failing to provide surplus food programs for all California counties.

In testimony prepared for the Senate Committee on Hunger in America, Unruh urged the panel to seek transferring the food programs from the Department of Agriculture to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

He noted that three California counties are not participating in such federal programs five months after the Agriculture Department was ordered by a federal court to implement the programs in those counties.

The Inglewood Democrat told the committee only a small portion of the 400,000 California school children eligible for the federal free lunch program are getting the food.

Panel Suggests Closing Borders

ANAHEIM (UPI) — Four panel members at the California Water Pollution Control Association conference yesterday suggested limiting the state's population and raising taxes to protect the ocean waters.

The panel suggested closing California's borders to all future immigrants, encouraging the use of birth control pills and assessing higher taxes to slow the effects of the state's ever increasing population on offshore waters. However, panel member Dr. Wheeler North, professor of Marine Biology at Cal Tech, said he had serious doubts the "ocean would ever win" if a vote were taken between saving the sea and limiting the state's population.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

A 50-year-old author wrote to us on a subject that bothers many people. "My physician wants me to have a periodic chest X-ray as part of my annual examination. So much is written about too much radiation that I want to know if this procedure does more harm than good."

To fully understand the risks it helps to know some background material. The roentgen (R) is the basic unit of radiation exposure. In discussing this problem, most authorities refer to 1-1000 of a roentgen (mR), which is an extremely small amount of radiation.

A CHEST X-RAY exposes the body to 10 milliroentgens, of which 1 mR passes through and escapes from the body.

What is the amount of radiation to which a person can be safely exposed? For those older than 18 years of age, the level is 5,000 mR per year. According to this calculation, it is obvious that 10 mR annually is a fraction of what is considered safe. Furthermore, the 5,000 mR figure is based on genetic considerations. But the gonads are not in the direct path of the beam, and less than 1 mR reaches the pelvic area in a chest X-ray.

ALL OF US are exposed to evironmental radiation every day. Cosmic radiation coming from the sun adds 5 mR per year. Terrestrial radiation from rocks, houses, food, and the earth contributes 50 mR yearly. Radioactive fallout is the third source; at present it contributes 5 mR per year.

If all of these are added to the 10 mR of the chest X-ray, we get 100 milliroentgens, which is minute when compared with the 5,000 mR allowed.

Other X-rays may be substantially larger. Dental X-rays vary from 300 to 3,000 mR; ankle, 150 mR; and pelvis, 3,000 mR. Exposure of 500,000 to 1 million mR to the whole body is fatal. In treating cancer, a localized area may receive from 5 to 8 million milliroentgens.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

BOY, 2, CHEWS WOOL

Mrs. H. writes: For more than a year my 2-year-old son has been chewing on anything with wool in it, especially blankets. Does his diet lack something?

REPLY

This may represent pica, a condition in which the person has an abnormal craving for chalk, cigarette butts, wool, clay, and other inedibles. As a rule it is a passing stage in development.

BRANDY AND STERILITY

Mrs. P. writes: Does drinking brandy regularly make a man steril?

REPLY

Not when used in moderation. However, too much alcohol may reduce libido, but has no effect on sperm production.

39 High School Seniors Given College Scholarships

Thirty-nine high school seniors from Marin and Southern Sonoma counties have been awarded Frank P. and Polly O'Meara Doyle Scholarships for the 1969-70 academic year at Santa Rosa Junior College.

Individual awards range from $100 to $1,000 and total $80,550 for the 241 scholarships that have been awarded.

Cotati Studies Ways To Improve Water System

The Cotati City Council last night studied possible methods of improving the city's water system.

Robert Heid, city engineer, presented plans on how the city could make improvements to its existing water well system, or could hook into the Coyote Aqueduct which supplies water to Rohnert Park and the rural areas.

Noting general dissatisfaction in the community with the high content of minerals in the well water, the council said it would give serious consideration to joining the Coyote system.

Heid said the costs of both types of improvements would be about the same and estimated them at $25,000. The city council, anticipating the improvements, set aside that amount last year.

The Cotati City Council also:

LOT SPLIT — Granted the lot split request of Cofego Enterprises to reduce a 175 foot by 1,442 foot lot into two lots with the smaller being 175 by 327 feet.

TAXI CAB — Granted the request of Paul O. Huffman to operate a taxi cab in the city. The rates were set at 50 cents for first one-quarter mile; 50 cents for each additional one-fifth mile, and $4.50 per hour for standby time. Huffman also operates a cab in Rohnert Park.

Five Years For Berkeley Drug Peddler

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A 25-year-old Emeryville man, described as "a major supplier" of illegal drugs in Berkeley, got little sympathy when he told the judge he was peddling narcotics to get a start in the business world.

"You are sentenced to five years in prison. That is the maximum sentence because this is a maximum case," Judge William T. Sweigert told Arthur Hill Standfield Jr. in federal court yesterday.

The judge, unimpressed by Standfield's pleas for a stay of sentence, ordered the 6-foot, 9-inch youth into custody.

"He told government agents he had made $50,000 in previous years from selling drugs," said the judge, who characterized Standfield as "a major supplier of drugs in the Berkeley area."

The youth's attorney, Richard Werthimer, said his client wanted to become a successful businessman and used the profits from his drug sales to start a clothing store in Berkeley and to make films.

Even though the clothing store failed, Werthimer said, the youth "quit the drug business when his other businesses started to show a profit."

Motorists Urged To Observe Work

James Bowler, resident engineer in Marin for the division, said the lanes will be narrowed and restriped between the Mission Avenue viaduct and North San Pedro Road from 3 to 8 a.m. The work is part of the highway widening project.

Reed Board Talks On Budget Cuts

The Reed School District Board last night discussed program and staff cuts totaling $149,000 but reached no decisions after two hours and postponed further discussion to May 20.

The staff has recommended cuts for 1969-70 totaling $114,000 in art, music, Spanish and "more able learner" programs and cuts of $35,000 in nonteaching personnel. The cuts are to meet a budget squeeze in the coming fiscal year.

In other business, the board hired a replacement for Harold Bickel, counselor at Del Mar School, who has been given a leave of absence, and approved a program to hire a counselor for fifth and sixth grade pupils through a $9,000 federal grant.

The Reed School District Board also:

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Elaine Grinell, humanities teacher at Del Mar School, who has taken another teaching job.

A $25,000 Boost For Marin Housing

The Ecumenical Association for Housing in Marin, which is campaigning for low and moderate rent housing, will get a $25,000 grant from the San Francisco Foundation for one year's operation.

The housing association, initiated by the Human Rights Commission's crisis committee, now has a membership of 24 organizations, each pledging $200 to start the campaign for housing.

Chairman James O. Quiett, who did not attend last night, was re-elected chairman for another year by unanimous vote. Bella Aaron was re-elected vice chairman, and Richard D. Harding was appointed to the executive committee as its third member, succeeding Arthur L. Brown.

The Human Rights Commission also:

BUDGET — Heard from executive director Austin J. Thompson that he will ask for a 1969-70 budget of $67,721, which would provide for an assistant director and a half-time stenographer to be added to his staff. This year's budget is $47,000.

POLICE TRAINING — Heard from Mrs. Aaron that the Marin County Police Chiefs Association is supporting the police comunity relations training proposal, and local attorneys, psychiatrists, educators, and law officers have offered their professional services.

New Arrest For Suspect In Burglary

Mark Jefferson Lee, 20, already facing sentence next week on a second degree burglary conviction, was arrested again yesterday on suspicion of possessing heroin and petty theft, San Rafael police said today.

Police said Lee was arrested at 4:30 p.m. by security men at the Emporium in Northgate Shopping Center after he allegedly shoplifted a $3 pair of sunglasses.

He was searched and police found a vial containing a white powder which, they said, Lee told them was heroin. He had fresh needle marks on his arms, police said.

Lee was held at Marin County Jail in lieu of $500 bail for a court appearance this afternoon.

He was scheduled to be sentenced Monday in Marin Superior Court on the burglary conviction. He pleaded guilty in April to the attempted burglary of the Greenbrae Pet Hospital last Nov. 3.

Fairfax Planning Next Congress

The project committee for the 1969 Fairfax Congress for Community Progress last night selected Oct. 11 for the second annual congress.

Details will be set later, according to Ross Parkerson, chairman of the publicity committee.

Project committee officers elected last night were Joseph Walla, chairman; Carol Steigler, vice chairman, Eleanor Harvey, secretary; Edward McGee, treasurer, Parkerson, publicity committee chairman, and Dorothy Olson, chairman of the questionnaire committee.

The committee decided to meet the second Thursday of each month at 8 p.m. at the Women's Club.

Elderly Inmate Faces Napa Trip

A 67-year-old man, claiming he was the universal spirit, was to be sent to Napa State Hospital for psychiatric commitment after Sausalito police arrested him on Bridgeway yesterday for a narcotics offense, police said.

Joseph James Cloud was reportedly "acting strangely" yesterday afternoon. Police arrested him on suspicion of being drunk or under influence of a drug.

Police said they found five capsules of an unknown white powder in Cloud's pockets and booked him at Marin County Jail on suspicion of possessing narcotics.

Jailers said today Cloud would be sent to Napa.

Water Directors' Meeting Advanced

Final payment for Phoenix Dam rehabilitation will be considered by the Marin Municipal Water District board at 1:30 p.m. Monday in the district offices in Corte Madera.

The board's next regular meeting would have been Wednesday, but Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger will be out of town.

Goldilocks Invaders Forgiven

An Olema woman, who became angered when her ranch house had been invaded in the manner of Goldilocks and friend, warmed up in Northwest Marin Justice Court and forgave the appealing wayfarers.

Mrs. Dennis Wisby filed a complaint with the Sheriff's Department after she learned that Robert L. Del Tredici, 30, and Toby Cytryn had eaten her food, taken baths and rested in her home on March 28, then left behind a note with their names and addresses and $3 to cover the cost of the "porridge." The Sheriff's complaint charged them with trespassing.

Del Tredici and Miss Cytryn both of San Francisco, told Judge David R. Baty Wednesday that they became lost whie hiking on March 27 near Pelican Lake.

"They walked most of the night, stopping to rest now and then. Miss Cytryn lost her shoes and cut her feet and Del Tredici carried her for a while, he said. on the following afternoon, exhausted, they arrived at the Wisby house and — finding no one home — took shelter. On leaving, they left $3 for the food they had eaten.

Mrs. Wisby returned home, she told the court, found someone had been eating her food and then, she said, "I went upstairs and found that someone had slept in my bed."

The court found the pair not guilty Wednesday because of the extreme circumstances, clerk Stella Phillipscheck reported. The judge asked Mrs. Wisby what he should do with the $3 taken into evidence. "Return it to them," Mrs. Wisby told the court.

30 Flee Blaze At Berkeley Lab

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—Thirty persons fled to safety yesterday when a $300,000 fire ate through the roof of the Berkeley Medical Instruments Co., causing it to collapse on the firm's laboratory.

No one s injured in the two-alarm blaze which was brought under control in 30 minutes by a force of 50 firemen.

Elks Lodge Team Is State Ritual Winner

A ritual team from San Rafael Lodge 1108 has won the California-Hawaii Elks championship and will compete in the finals with other state winners in Dallas, Tex., on July 13.

The San Rafael team defeated 15 other district champions at the California-Hawaii State Elks Association convention now underway in Palm Springs. The team won the Northwest District championship two weeks ago, beating the Fairfield lodge.

Members of the team are Frank S. Armato, exalted ruler; Louis S. Nelson, leading knight; Joseph J. Sousa, esquire; John R. Kunst, inner guard; John H. Oliva, loyal knight; Arthur J. Roberts, lecturing knight, and Alfred J. Dalacio, chaplain.

Armato, Nelson, Sousa and Kunst also won first prizes in individual competition, while Oliva, Roberts and Dalacio finished no lower than third in individual categories.

The last San Rafael team to win state honors was in 1948. That team finished second in the national competition.

James M. Sanford of San Rafael served as the candidated for membership when the San Rafael team performed the initiation rite. Coaches of the champions are James W. Farhner and Eugene T. Morrison.

The team will be honored at a party tomorrow evening at the Elks Lodge.

No Charge Yet In Silver Case

No complaints were filed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court againts two San Rafael men arrested Wednesday in San Anselmo for allegedly carrying a pillow case full of apparently stolen silverware.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Gary T. Ragghianti said that the district attorney's office is still investigating the matter.

In the meantime, Paul Danny Cassidy, and George Edward Myers, both 22, were released.

In another development, Myers' father, Edward, said yesterday his son does not live at the address he gave to booking officers at the time of his arrest — 35 Martens Boulevard, San Rafael. Myers said that is his (the father's) office address and he does not know where his son lives.

Stanford Youths Vote Boycott

STANFORD (UPI)—The militant April 3rd movement wants Stanford students to boycott classes Monday and Tuesday and instead hold group discussions on the school's war-related research on and off campus.

About 400 students voted for the boycott almost unanimously last night in a meeting. They plan to spend the intervening time trying to convince the 11,000 other students to join them.

Professor Harold Kahn, speaking for a group of 30 teachers, indicated his group would seek to have the faculty cancel their classes on those two days.

Best Shows For Today

Best bets on television tonight:

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 7:30 p.m. — "Riddle of the Mayan Cave" is an hour-long documentary on an expedition to the Guatemalan highlands to hunt evidence of the great Mayan culture that thrived from 300 to 900 A.D. Peter Jennings narrates.

KQED (9), 8:30 p.m. — "NET Playhouse" presents "The Journey of the Fifth Horseman," Ronald Ribman's award-winning drama, starring Dustin Hoffman. Based in part on Ivan Turgenev's novel "The Diary of a Superfluous Man," the production is performed with the original Off Broadway cast.

KTVU (2), 9 p.m. — "Shoecase" offers "Portrait: Milton Berle," and takes a look at the comedian who has risen through silent films, vaudeville, talkies and radio to become "Mr. Television."

KPIX (2), KXTV (10), 9 p.m. — Tony Randall, Anita Ekberg and Robert Morley star in the movie thriller, "The Alphabet Murders," based on Agatha Christie's popular mystery novel, "The A.B.C. Murders." British performers Maurice Denham, Guy Rolfe, Sheila Allen and James Villiers are also featured in the film, set in London.

Proposed Hike

Corte Madera's tax rate, under the preliminary budget presented to the town council this week, would require a 19-cent increase next fiscal year to a total of $1.14 per $100 assessed valuation. A story in yesterday's Independent-Journal reported the correct increase, but a headline said nine cents instead if 19.

Israel Steps Up Operation Against Arabs In Jordan

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel stepped up operations against Arab guerrillas in Jordan in the past 36 hours with a commando raid that killed three Arabs and blew up 12 houses and two air strikes.

Israeli commandos dashed a mile and a half beyond the Jordan River last night in the first such raid in nine months. They attacked houses in Wadi Jabis which Arab saboteurs were believed to have used.

An Israeli spokesman said the village 20 miles south of the Sea of Galilee was abandoned. He said it had been the target of artillery attacks in the past.

The spokesman said there were no Israeli casualties.

Earlier yesterday, Israeli jet fighters bombed and strafed Bir El Harir, an Arab guerrilla camp in southern Jordan 20 miles south of the Dead Sea, the Israelis reported. A spokesman said all planes returned safely.

A military spokesman in Amman, the Jordanian capital, said there were no casualties among Jordanian troops, but did not say anything about guerrillas.

Israli planes hit the same target late Wednesday, but the Jordanians said ground fire drove them off.

Firing broke out again early today between Egyptians and Israelis along the Suez Canal, but Israeli spokesmen said there were no casualties. A spokesman said firing last night at both ends of the waterway killed two Israeli soldiers and wounded three others, but both sides said the exchange was light compared to previous days.

Although it included a blast at Israeli leaders, Malik's statement was taken by some observers to be aimed at Egypt, which has said the cease-fire is no longer applicable along the canal because Israel has built up its fortifications there.

In Lebanon, the explosive dispute between the caretaker government and the Arab guerrilla organization called Al Saika continued. Official sources said hundreds of armed commandos remained encamped in the hills overlooking Hasbaya, in southern Lebanon, where the Lebanese army and the guerrillas clashed earlier this week.

The guerrillas are believed to be members of Al Saika, which is affiliated with the Syrian government, but Al Saika issued a statement saying it had not been involved in the clashes with the Lebanese army. It called for an investigation.

The Syrian government also denied it was in any way involved in the troubles in Lebanon and said the guerrilla organizations formed their own policies.

$115 Stereo Theft

Mike Cummesky of 2 Circle Drive, San Rafael, reported to San Anselmo police at 3:30 p.m. yesterday that during the day someone stole $115 in stereo equipment from his car parked at Sir Francis Drake High School.

MUSIC REVIEW

'George M!' Fresh Piece Of Nostalgia

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

SAN FRANCISCO — The San Francisco Civic Light Opera Association launched its 32nd season last night with a sometimes sparkling musical about America's Yankee Doodle Man, George M. Cohen.

And, too, it's a nostalgic look into the past history of the musical theater, for George M. Cohan was one of the first to throw off the shackles of European-oriented musicals, giving the theater an Americanized flavor.

Grey abounds with energy — typical of the late George M., who wrote, sang, danced, directed and produced his own string of smash hits. When the impish-looking Grey belts out "Give My Regards to Broadway," "Over There," or "You're a Grand Old Flag," there's a feeling the ebullient Irishman really didn't die, but has been in hiding all these years.

The high-stepping Grey, who was last seen on a San Francisco stage as Littlechap in Anthony Newely's "Stop the World, I Want To Get Off," is matched with a highly polished chorus of dancers and singers led by youthful Gene Castle, who nearly stopped the show with his high-kicking dance in the first act's "Popularity" number.

Again and again the dancers lifted the sometimes overly sentimental script with a sustaining freshness in such other production numbers as "Push Me Along In My Pushcart" and "Nellie Kelly I Love You."

Giving more than adequate support to Grey's highly-polished performance are Betty Ann Grove as Nellie Cohan; Jerry Dodge as Jerry Cohan, his father; Pamela Peadon, as Agnes Nolan; Bill Gerber as his partner Sam Hassis; Jennifer Wiliams as Josie Cohan and Judy Knaiz as Ethel Levey, Cohan's first wife. Special support was also given by Jacqueline Alloway as Fay Templeton, the sexy siren of early-day Broadway who delivered a very believable "Mary."

Since the show is Cohan's life in the theater, it is presented in theater-type setting with stagehands quickly setting up scene after scene, unfolding the life of the self-centered musical man.

Costumes and lighting matched the unusual approach in the settings, giving the look of the pre-World War I era.

Without the sterling performance of Joe Layton, the show's director and choreographer, the show simply woundn't hang together as well as it did. A Tony Award winner for staging this production, Layton has chosen well in selecting such a youthful cast.

"George M!" is the first of the association's three productions of the season, running at the Curran for eight weeks.

Inmate Testifies In Murder Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A witness testified yesterday that John Lynn and Larry Taylor, accused of murdering a Lake County deputy during an escape attempt, talked of overpowering a guard and grabbing his gun just days before the fatal shooting took place.

The witness, Carroll Jolly, also told the court that Lynn and Taylor, both 24 years old, and other prisoners tried to escape prior to the killing by using a file smuggled into the jail by a trustee to cut through prison bars.

Jolly was an inmate of the Lake County jail along with the defendants.

Lynn and Taylor are charged with killing Deputy William D. Hoyt on Oct. 11, 1967 as he and another guard led them from the Lake County jail to the court house.

Sam Posey: A Man Who's In A Hurry

MR. ZIP—One look at Sam Posey and you want to give him a Teddy Bear, burp him and put him in a playpen.

When someone tells you he's a sports car race driver you immediately think of a Tinker Toy or soap box. Even when they show you his sleek and sophisticated power plant you walk around to the back to look for the winder-upper key and rubber bands.

Yes, Samuel Posey is baby-faced, but seat him behind the wheel of his Eagle Chevy "Classic Wax Special" Formula A car, wave a green flag at him and — whoosh!

Just last Sunday the 24-year-old speed demon from Sharon, Conn. won the Laguna Seca Formula A championship to push him into a first place tie in the current Continental Championship series. In a car he had previously driven only about 45 miles, Sudden Samuel blazed through the 100-mile, 54-lap event at an average of 102.1 miles per hour.

And, unwilling to rest on his laurels, the wealthy young man immediately hightailed to Sonoma County the other day to test the Sears Point International Raceway where he'll be competing in the Continental 49er Championships June 21-22.

A Quick Spin Around The Track

Sam spent two days at the new speed plant, going over it like a surgeon studies X-rays or like Burton ogles Taylor.

After a few warmup laps, baby-faced Posey opened up his Tinker Toy and was clocked over the hilly, 12-turn, 2.523-mile lap in 1 minute, 42.8 seconds, an average of 89 mph.

"That," whewed track publicist Steve Castoldi, "is eight seconds faster than anything has ever travelled this circuit."

Replied the confident and talkative Posey, "With a couple of gear changes I can probably get it down to 1:35," which would average out to about 94 mph.

Speeds at the June 21-22 races could possibly approach 100 mph, Castoldi explained, because track officials are contemplating a couple of changes to straighten out one sharp curve and add some surface to an uphill run.

That's A Lot Of Shifting

Posey's reference to "gear changes" puzzled me until Castoldi explained Formula A racers require 12 gear changes to complete each 2.523-mile lap. Thus, in the 123.5-mile, 49-lap main event June 22, each finisher will have shifted gears 488 times, or about what it takes me to get my Volkswagen from San Rafael to Kentfield via Wolfe Grade.

Asked about the Sears facility, Posey described it as ". . . . a bit tight in spots," and "extremely busy," meaning he didn't have time to enjoy the scenic beauty of southern Sonoma County while negotiating the hairy turns. (When in danger/No room to turn/Ease or stop/Or go astern—Burma Shave.)

He further described the raceway as ". . . a tremendous spectator course. And the other pro drivers will concur with me that the enjoyment of the spectators is the name of this game."

Posey said his speeds ranged from 75 to about 140 during his Sears run. At Laguna Seca, he said, the range was 60 to 145, so the two major northern California circuits are comparable.

And He's Not A Poor Man

Master Posey is not only very young and very fast, but also very wealthy. Recently, in races at Riverside, Sam demolished his own speed wagon but was so anxious to get back in business that he turned to the man in the next pit, Lew Florence of Seattle, wrote out a check for $15,000 and — snap, just like that — bought the Chevy Eagle he now drives. (I wonder if he saw it in the I-J want ads. "Like new. Only 100 miles. Driven to church on Sundays by little old lady.")

After overhauling it to his own demanding specifications, and after only 18 laps behind the wheel as the Eagle flies, Posey went to Laguna Seca last weekend and picked up all the marbles.

He'll be back at Sears Point next month. Look for him. He'll be the kid with the Teddy Bear in the cockpit.

A's In Market For Hitting Catcher

OAKLAND (AP)—This is the year the Oakland Athletics are supposed to win a title and one month into the season Manager Hank Bauer sees only one major problem that may prevent it.

"I'd like to improve our catching as far as the hitting end of it is concerned," says Bauer.

The A's take on the New York Yankees in a three-game series starting tonight at the Coliseum.

So far, Bauer has given Dave Duncan, Jim Pagliaroni and Phil Roof equal shots at the job, but none of them has been able to take advantage.

Through Wednesday, the three catchers had managed only 12 hits among them and Bauer isn't exactly revealing a trade secret when he says he'd like to trade for a backstop who can hit as well as catch.

"The trouble is," he says, "there are none available you can get without wrecking your ballclub. When I talk about wrecking your ballclub, I mean giving up a starting pitcher."

Even with this one gaping hole in their lineup, the Athletics are a solid second in the American League's West Division, only 1½ games behind the Minnesota Twins.

And in the long run, Bauer figures his club to be better than the Twins.

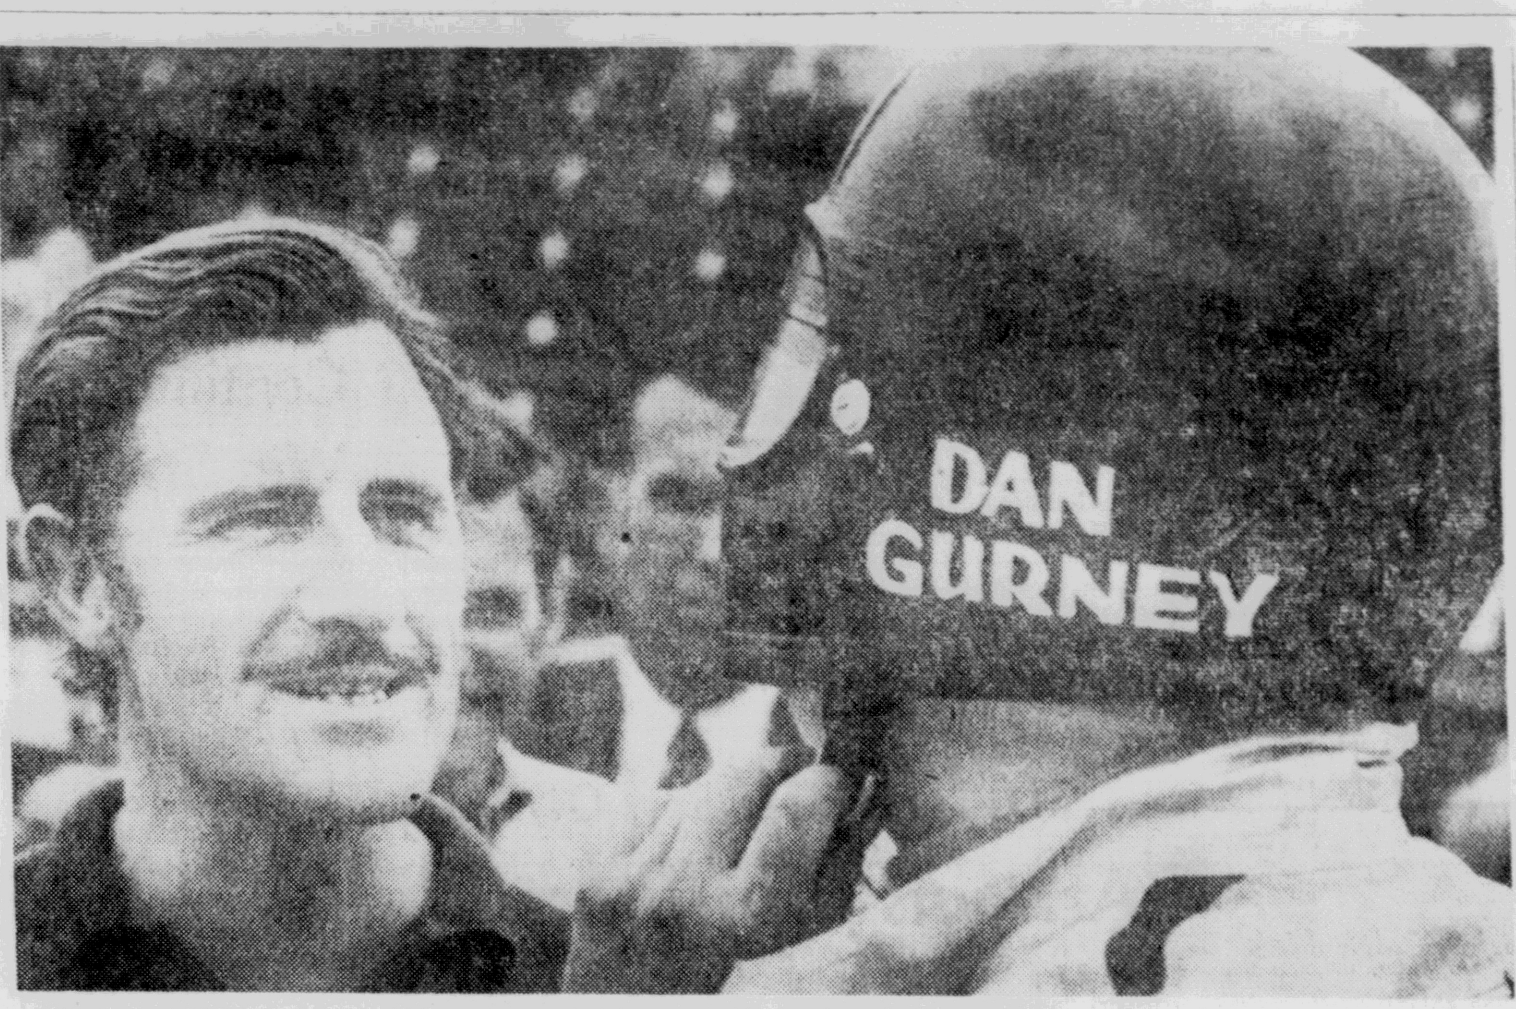
"If we can stay close," he says, "we can beat them. We've got youth on our side and I think we'll be stronger down the stretch."

The A's have also had some trouble in the bullpen, but Bauer thinks he may have gone a long way toward solving that problem by moving young Rollie Fingers, who had been used effectively as a starter, back to the bullpen.

"We have 30 more off days this season," says Bauer. "If we go with a five-man rotation, some guys will get too much rest between starts."

If the A's do win the division title, Bauer expects them to meet the Baltimore Orioles, who he guided to a world championship in 1966, in the league playoffs.

"They're getting a good year out of Paul Blair and an outstanding year from Frank Robinson," he said, "Both had poor years last season. I think they'll go on to win it if they stay healthy.' '



I SAY CAN YOU SEE?

JUAN IS HURTING

Giants' Wounded List Increasing

CHICAGO (UPI)—Health, not hits, is the biggest problem nagging manager Clyde King of the San Francisco Giants.

It's a wonder the Giants can field a team with such luminaries as Willie McCovey, Bobby Bonds, Jim Hart and Willie Mays ailing with various hurts. Despite a stiff back, Mays may be in the outfield today when San Francisco opens a three-game weekend series with the Cubs at unlighted Wrigley Field.

However, ace righthander Juan Marichal won't be on the mound. A pulled side muscle has forced him to skip a turn and it is doubtful if he will be available at all for the Chicago series.

So King has selected Bobby Bolin (1-2) to open against the Cubs with Ray Sadecki going tomorrow and Gaylord Perry Sunday.

Utility infielder Jim Davenport also joined the list of San Francisco's walking wounded with a swollen foot as a result of being hit with a foul tip off his bat Wednesday night in St. Louis.

OUTFIELDER DIETZ

Bonds is having difficulty grasping a bat because of swollen muscles in his left forearm where he was hit by a pitched ball April 30. McCovey is pained by bone chips on the hip while Hart has twice reinjured his right shoulder while falling to the ground in pursuit of hard-hit balls.

RAINOUT

Dietz was supposed to have started in the outfield and Rich Robertson on the mound last night against the Minnesota Twins in an exhibition game at Milwaukee but rain wiped it out.

Chicago is leading the National League East with a 19-10 record. San Francisco and Los Angeles are knotted in second place with identical 16-11 records, two games behind Western Division leader Atlanta.

Bob Cousy To Coach Royals

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bob Cousy ,one of the all-time greats of the National Basketball Association, was named today to coach the NBA's Cincinnati Royals, succeeding Ed Jucker.

Cousy said he received a three-year-contract.

Jucker has coached the Royals since 1967 but his teams have failed to reach the playoffs for the last two season. He also had a three-year contract.

ANOTHER POSITION

Max Jacobs, owner of the Royals, said Jucker would be offered another position with the club. Jucker twice coached the University of Cincinnati to NCAA championships.

Cousy, 40, played in the NBA for 13 years with the Boston Celtics and for the last six years has coached at Boston College. He resigned after the past season. He had an over-all record of 117-34 at B.C.

Announcement of Cousy's appointment came at a forenoon news conference.

He said, "It is a pleasure to be back in professional basketball and that he is "well aware" of the talent of the Royals' squad. "It is my aim to determine how to exploit that talent."

More Troubles In Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The troubled Texas Open, plagued with dropouts, threatened by a tornado and buffeted by a violent, damaging thunderstorm, tried again today to get in the first round of the $100,000 golf tournament.

The 7.138 yard, par 71 Pecan Valley Country Club course still was heavy, soggy and waterlogged today when the first in the field of 155 got away.

QUAGMIRE

A raging storm yesterday washed out the scheduled first round, turned the lush course into a quagmire and forced tournament officials to do some fast rescheduling.

Single 18 hole rounds now are scheduled today and tomorrow, with a 36-hole windup Sunday.

The storm was brief, but frighteningly violent.

Torrential rains, accompanied by gale-force winds, golf-ball size hail, thunder and lightning pounded the course and sent the pros and spectators scurrying for any shelter available.

Chi Chi Rodriguez, who won the tournament the last time it was played, in 1967, scampered to a tin-roofed golf cart shed on the course.

"This tin roof," the little Puerto Rican said, "I never hear so much noise in all my life."

The winds were so severe they toppled a 20-foot steel television tower, sending it crashing across a walkway and dumping a camera on a practice green. A technician got off the tower just moments before it fell. There were no injuries.

A spokesman for ABC said one color camera was demolished and storm damages might run as high as $100,900.

Negro Coach At L.A. State

Williams' Managerial Debut At The Coliseum

OAKLAND — There was, for an A's game, an impressive number of media men standing around the batting cage. They leaned in, under and around the object of their coming, a baseball manager from Washington named Williams.

And for all of them, he had a wisecrack, or smile, or sagacious batting observation. He gave them all the time they wanted. "Ted seems to get himself geared up for all of these games in a new town," said a Washington writer. "Now there are only five new cities that haven't seen him."

THE CAMERAMEN were delirious when A's coach Joe DiMaggio walked over to Williams' side of the cage to say hello. And the press snopped. A's manager Hank Bauer came over. More snooping. "Right there," shouted Senator coach Sid Hudson, "are three banjo hitters."

"You take any stomach stuff?" Ted asked Bauer. "All of a sudden, since this managing business, I'm taking two kinds of stomach stuff," Williams said.

"I GAVE up smoking before the season started." Bauer told him. "For awhile."

"Cold here, huh?" Williams said. "And me with no thermals. Bauer assured him it was, indeed, cold here.

Then it was time for Williams to watch his fellows take batting practice. "He really doesn't talk to us individually about hitting," said Senator centerfielder Del Unser. "I don't think the team knew what to expect from him. And now sometimes we still don't. But here at the cage he talks to us all about hitting, about thinking. I know I'm thinking more at the plate now."

NEITHER UNSER nor most of the other Nats are hitting THAT much better than a year ago. But the big hits are coming in the big spots. And Washington's winning.

"Everybody smile," shrieked coach George Susce, catching batting practice. "Remember," he wailed, "a good club is a happy club."

WILLIAMS BEAMED, looked out beyond center field and then twisted into a slow scowl. "I'm not certain I like that background, that green tarp out there," he said. "There's nothing tougher than hitting, and these kids don't need a handicap like that. I'll be interested to see if that background is harmful when it gets dark here. How are the lights here anyway?"

"Careful, Frenchie," said Williams. "You can get hurt. It's not that you're hitting (.105), but I'm suppossed to keep all 25 guys on this club alive for a few weeks."

"You don't bother me," said little guy French. "I've been insulted by professionals."

WILLIAMS LAUGHED before walking over to his dugout "where a fat guy with a loud, squeaky voice who used to play first base on my high school team in San Diego" was waiting for some nostalgic kibbitzing.

"Sure, he's here to see a manager," Williams said. "But managers don't draw crowds. Oh, sure, Casey Stengel did. And that other guy — Durocher. And maybe John McGraw, although I wasn't around then. But me? No way."

Crucial Softball Games Tomorrow

A crucial Golden Gate Softball League doubleheader will be played at San Rafael's Albert Park tomorrow night when Sohner Tree Service of San Anselmo battles first place Rector Motors of Burlingame. Game time for the opener is 7:15 p.m.

Sohner will send Morey Swarm and Chuck Tyson to the mound tomorrow in an attempt to derail the league leaders from Burlingame.

The two rivals met three times in the recent San Rafael Invitational Tournament in which Rector finished first and Sohner second.

Sohner currently boasts a 12-5 record and is in first place in both the Santa Rosa and Petaluma "A" Leagues. The Treemen are 3-3 in the Golden Gate League.

Stocking Is New Marin Athletic League President

Frank Stocking of Terra Linda High School has been elected president of the Marin County Athletic League Board of Managers, composed of the principals of the league's eight high schools.

He succeeds Al Ellsberg of San Rafael High who has been elected vice president of the North Coast Section and delegate to the California Interscholastic Federation.

Harold Allison of Drake High was elected to fill Stocking's vice presidency and George Corson, also of Drake, was rehired as league commissioner.

Corson said the elections were held Wednesday in a board of managers meeting at San Rafael High.

For the money you spend on an imitation TR-6 you can buy a TR-6.

A sporty car may be almost a sports car. Almost, but not quite.

The new Triumph TR-6 is the real thing. High torque six cylinder engine with a four-speed all-synchromesh gearbox to handle it.

All standard equipment.

Why play make-believe? The TR-6 is the real thing...for the same money as the imitation. Maybe even less.

Astros Outscore Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harry Walker believes his Houston Astros finally have found the winning groove, have adjusted to playing with one another and acquired a little confidence.

The Astros won only four of their first 24 games. They found new ways to lose every day. A nine-game losing streak dropped them into the basement of the National League's West Division. Things got so bad the players took turns guessing how they'd blow the next one.

Things, however, looked a lot brighter today. The Astros came from behind last night to beat the Philadelphia Phillies 9-7 for their sixth victory in the last seven games. They did it despite a 7-3 deficit and a mighty grand slam home run by Rich Allen of the Phillies.

Table Tennis Tourney Attracts Top Stars

The top stars of the fastest sport in the world will compete in the U.S. Open Table Tennis Championships at the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco this weekend.

Play was to start at 4 o'clock this afternoon, continue tomorrow at 10 a.m. and wind up at noon Sunday for the finals.

Some 300 entrants, including 10 Marinites, will be battling for championships in 24 different categories.

Specially designed tables will be used in the tournament. Matches will be decided on a best of five sets series.

This is the first time that national championship tournament has been held in Northern California. Dan Goodman of Mill Valley, one of the Marin entrants in the tourney, is national torunament chairman.

Other Marinites entered in the tournament are Ed Denges of Tiburon, Bob and Donald Goldbeck of Mill Valley, Glenn Goldbeck of Tiburon, Wah Lew of Novato, Gerda Lattke of Fairfax, Eric Rayner of Mill Valley, Sheldon Bowers of San Rafael and Arthur Nichols of San Rafael.

Tickets on sale at the door are $1.50 for today, $2 for tomorrow and $2.50 for Sunday's finals.

Benefit Car Wash By Ruth Leaguers

Novato Babe Ruth League's Women's Auxiliary will hold car washes at service stations throughout Novato, San Marin and Ignacio tomorrow with Novato Babe Ruth League players doing the washing from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at $1 per car.

Stations included on the list, according to publicity chairman Bonnie Nattress, are Grant Nelson's Chevron Service, Bud's Enco Service, Schardt Brothers Mobile Service, Regan's Shell Service Center, Novato Chevron, San Marin Enco, Chris' Enco, and Ignacio Gulf Service Center.

Blues' Hall 1st Westerner On NLH All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Goalie Glen Hall of the St. Louis Blues today became the first player in the National Hockey League's expansionist West Division to be named to the league's annual All-Star team.

Hall was named to the NHL's first All-Star team for a record seventh time in balloting by three menbers of the National Hockey League Writers Association in each of the 12 league cities.

Tam Golfers Continue Win Streak

Mill Valley's municipal golf course is home sweet home for Tamalpais High School's golf team and the Indians proved again how comfy it is by cordially blasting San Rafael, 171-193 to up their Marin County Athletic League record to 10-0 yesterday.

In other matches, Redwood whipped San Marin, 210-221 and Novato downed Marin Catholic, 208-236, both at Indian Valley course in Novato, and Terra Linda stopped Drake, 223-228 at Marin Country Club, Novato.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

The Peril Of DDT To Fish, Wildlife

In the past two weeks I have been nagged by consistent reports of fatal happenings to certain segments of our fish and wildlife.

First, I attended a meeting of fish and game wardens, biologists and wildlife managers who were being given a study of our hawks. Much of the discussion centerd around the loss of the Peregren Falcon. This bird not long ago was commonly called a "duck hawk" and was on the fish and game predator bird list! Now, all signs are pointing to the extinction of this bird all due to DDT.

Recent news articles have also given warnings concerning losses of pelicans along our coastal areas. DDT again was found to be the apparent cause.

A FEW DAYS ago, a state fish and game biologist, for Fish-Game Dept., Richard Poole, who has been studying the effects of DDT on our local San Francisco market crabs, was quoted as saying that the pesticide DDT is killing off the small crabs of the Bay Area at an alarming rate. He even goes so far as to say the time has come to ban this chemical's use throughout California. (Sweden has recently done this.) DDT comes off the farm land areas into the rivers and into the sea. It is absorbed by plankton, where it is stored in the fatty tissues of these organisms, as each link of the sea food chain leads toward us, the DDT residue becomes more concentrated.

WHAT THEN is the amount of DDT stored in our salmon, striped bass and sturgeon which are the great feeders of this all important food chain? Are humans storing DDT in their systems as the ultimate consumers, too?

In the S.F. Chronicle's "Tumult and Shouting" column recently, further remarks were noted: "The new technological man carries strontium-90 in his bones, iodine-131 in his thyroid, DDT in his fat, and asbestos in his lungs." What next? What ill effect does DDT have on us?

WE NEED some answers to these questions. I am not sure whose responsibility it is to supply these answers. The Department of Agriculture starts the use of these chemicals after studies. Further studies are made by the Department of Health and the Department of Fish and Game and probably other facets of state government.

RECENTLY ONE Department of Fish and Game official answered a query by a number of concerned game wardens about the banning of DDT immediately, with the comment, "We are almost afraid to recommend this step because there are other products all ready licensed that could be worse than DDT.

It looks like we in Marin are sitting on the most dangerous of areas; we are actually the center part of the container for all the pesticide outflows from our great agricultural valleys. And I'm worried. Are you? I think we should ask our legislators for some answers and the answers should be in plain old everyday language so that we are not blindly eating ourselves into one problem or another.

Rozelle Says Realignment Decision Due By Tomorrow

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Pete Rozelle has moved to within 24 hours of running with the realignment ball himself and personally selecting the three National Football League teams that have to switch to the American Football League.

Rozelle made that revelation himself at the end of an 11-hour day of talks with both NFL and AFL club owners yesterday in yet another session of the marathon pro football meetings that now have lasted almost two months and been held on both coasts of the United States.

BY TOMORROW

Admitting that "I don't have a firm commitment from any club" to move, Rozelle said he felt a solution had to be reached by tomorrow at the latest and if the NFL owners could not select the three teams "I am prepared to pick them."

The owners have been meeting on a solution to the realignment problem since mid-March when they originally sat down in Palm Springs. They held a second session last week and then reconvened again Wednesday.

The only hard fact that has evolved in the almost two months of talks is that realignment almost certainly will be accomplished by shifting three teams from the 16-team NFL into the 10-team AFL to form two conferences of 13 teams each.

AT CAUCUS

The suggestion for Rozelle stepping in and tapping three teams to join the AFL for the 1970 season arose in an NFL caucus and the commissioner said he was ready to tackle the ticklish problem plaguing the owners.

Asked if he had the power to step in, Rozelle replied:

"They (the owners) may give it to me or I may insist upon having it. In that case I think I can get it."

Rozelle said he had spent some time considering his three candidates for a shift but declined to specify any of his choices or speak in other than generalities about what factors would be taken into consideration.

The teams most prominently mentioned in speculation have been Baltimore, Atlanta, New Orleans, Philadelphia, Minnesota and St. Louis, but Rozelle said only three teams actually will not be considered for a move—New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

It appeared that if the NFL owners were unable to reach accord by some time in the afternoon, Rozelle then would either ask for or be handed the ball.

"One way or another," Rozelle insisted, "we'll have a decision by Saturday."

GM

Official Indianapolis 500 Pace Car, Camaro SS Convertible with Rally Sport equipment and new Super Scoop hood.

Because it's the Hugger.

Camaro SS has been chosen to be the Indy 500 pace car for the second time in three years. That's because it has what it takes.

Engine choices start with a standard 300-hp 350-cu.-in. Turbo-Fire V8 and run up to a 325-hp 396-cu.-in. Turbo-Jet job. There's even a new Super Scoop hood you can order. It opens on acceleration, pouring cooler air into the engine for more go power.

The SS version of the Hugger grips the road with wide-oval tires on 14 x 7-inch-wide wheels, beefed-up suspension and power disc brakes.

The transmission comes linked to a 3-speed floor shift. If you want still more, there's a 4-speed Hurst shifter available.

Indy's tough. So's Camaro SS.

When it comes to pacesetting, it's pretty clear that Camaro knows its way around.

Start setting a pace of your own. At your Chevrolet dealer's now. Putting you first, keeps us first.

BEA HOFFMANN
A 279 game

Bea Hoffman of San Rafael really had the line to the 1-3 pocket zeroed in during play in the Weekenders League at Country Club Bowl.

Starting off with a nine-count open, things didn't look very impressive. But 11 strikes later, that 279 on the scoreboard looked very impressive.

Bea, 153 average bowler according to the Marin County book of averages but much improved over that this season, came back with a double leading off the next game, stretching her string to 13 strikes in a row. For the night of bowling, she ended up with a 637 series.

THIS AND THAT — Time was running out for Johnny De Luca in the Marin County Mixed Travel League so on the last night of the league he rolled a 258 game to win high game trophy . . . Ethel Schwab is proud by wearing that 200 pin for rolling her first two, a 204 in the Tuesday Night Mixed league at Nave Lanes . . . Carolyn Bryant converted the 6-7-10 split in the Keglerettes League at Country Club Bowl . . . Maybe it's the good neighbor policy, but Ruth Johns of 33 Ashe Avenue, Corte Madera, was to be bowling against neighbor Geneveve Franchesi of 27 Ash Avenue in second place playoffs of the Girls A Go-Go League today at Country Club Bowl . . . Dolly Nave was the classiest of a Classy Lassie League when she twirled a 240 game and Bernice Caldwell is trying to make a turn around after her 135-134-133 in the same league.

STRIKES TO SPARE — Jim Simmons, 185 average went 79 pins over his average — that's right, a 264 — in the Toppers League at Country Club . . . Sylvia Knutson had a big 235 on top of that 572 series in the 615 Women's Classic . . . Terry De Young just keeps banging away, his latest effort a 688 (248-202-232) series in the 840 Scratch at Nave Lanes . . . Chuck Simpson (153 avg.) rolled a 246 line in the Mystery League at Nave Lanes . . . Penny Conti and Clyde Tynes each picked up a 6-7-10 split in the Hi-Lo's League at Country Club . . . Fred Cos's 640 series was topped by a 255 game, high single game score of the week at Nave Lanes . . . Mary Ann Ralston was 77 pins better than the norm (norm who?) when she rapped out a 215 game in the Gutter Belles League at Greenbrae Lanes . . . Jean Twillman rolled a big 246 and Sheila Beho a 243 to headline the gals' action in the Monday Washday League at Nave Lanes, while Lorry Lazzarini missed a 121 triplicate by just one pin and her teammate Bina Zappettini missed a 123 trip by just two sticks.

Qualifying Time In Women's Golf

It was qualifying time for the Marin Country Club Women's golf group and the Las Gallinas Women's Golf Club yesterday.

Largest Payoff In Daily Double

BALTIMORE (AP) — The largest daily double payoff on horse racing in Maryland this year, $1,530.40 for a $2 bet, was registered at Pimlico yesterday. Seaneen Star won the first race at the odds of $43.60 for a straight bet of $2, and Fire City took the second at the rate of $31.40. The winning numbers were 9-10.

Hardtop Races In Petaluma

A 35-lap main event for sportsmen division drivers will feeture the weekly NASCAR-sanctioned races at the Petaluma Fairgrounds tonight.

Qualifying begins at 7 p.m. and the first race of the night will get underway at 8:15.

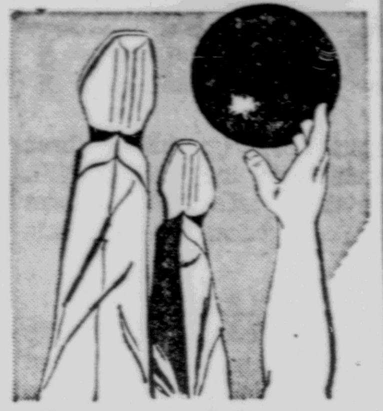
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



To cause your ball to turn in toward the pins at the finish — and that's all the hook that is necessary — just set your thumb a little to the left and make a normal follow-through. You don't have to do any wrist-twisting to make your ball hook.

Redwood Netters Win Again

Redwood High School's unbeaten tennis team racked up its 10th straight Marin County Athletic League win yesterday, topping winless San Marin 5-0 in Novato.

Tamalpais and Terra Linda high schools, second and third in the race, again had to hang on for dear life. Tamalpais downed San Rafael, 3-2, and Terra Linda swept the doubled to tip Drake, 3-2. In another match, Marin Catholic downed Novato, 3-1, with one singles match being left up in the air because of darkness.

Hardwick Tops All-Star Bowlers

MIAMI (AP) — Billy Hardwick of Louisville built his lead to 618 points last night to virtually wrap up the men's title in the 28th annual $65,000 All-Star Bowling Tournament.

The 27-year-old native Alabamian dominated the 12-man field with 16 games remaining to be played before the tournament ends tonight.

Hardwick averaged 225 pins for the first 32 games, giving him a total of 8,403 pins—including a 1,200 pin bonus for winning 24 games.

His nearest competitors were Allie Clarke of Akron, Ohio, with 7,785 pins and Bill Allen of Orlando, Fla., with 7,702.

Defending champion Dotty Fothergill of North Attleboro, Mass., finished the day with 5,446 pins to regain the lead in the women's division. She held a 21-pin lead over Betty Kucynzki of Chicago.

Money Is Name Of Game At Indy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Most cars at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway have something in common with the outfield walls at older baseball parks: Advertising.

But unlike baseball billboards, the racing cars in the May 30 Indianapolis 500 will carry trademarks past fans at 170 miles an hour and faster.

MONEY GAME

There's nothing amateur about the 500, however. Money is the name of the game ($710,219 purse last year) and it's what puts decals on cars.

Oil companies, tire companies and manufacturers of other automotive equipment give cash prizes to top finishing drivers using their products. In most cases, the driver has to agree to put the company's decal on his car for the race, along with signing an agreement to let the company use his name for promotional purposes.

"If a driver has a company's decal on his car, he has to use that equipment," said Pat O'Riley of the U.S. Auto Club's inspection committee. "If he changes equipment, the decal has to come off."

Accessory prizes for a 500 winner run from $7,500 offered by tire and oil companies down to a few hundred dollars from the manufacturers of such products as radiator hoses and clamps.

The car names also include lots of advertising. In this area, anything goes. Any connection between the names of some of this year's entries, the Speedy Broasted Chicken Special and Bulldog Stables Special, for example, is strictly dollars and cents.

Tiburon To host Oldest North Cal Tennis Tourney

The 72nd annual Bay Counties Inviational Tennis Tournament starts tomorrow at the Tiburon Peninsula Club and continues Sunday and the following weekend, May 17-18.

Oldest tennis tourney in Northern California, it is one of four 100-point tournaments played which go toward the "Local Player of the Year" award. Play will be in men's and women's singles, men's doubles and mixed doubles.

Mike Machette of Belvedere is fourth seeded. Top-seed is defending champ Whitney Reed of Alameda. No. 2 and 3 seeds are Tom Brown of San Francisco and Eugene Cantin of Berkeley.

In the women's division, Marcie Louie of San Francisco is the top-seed, with Eliza Pound of Palo, second.

Redwood Girls Win

Redwood High School defeated Tamalpais High School, 50-47, in a Marin County Athletic League girls track and field meet at Redwood High in Larkspur yesterday.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

More and more people, Marinites and visitors from afar alike, are discovering the beauty and serenity of the Point Reyes National Seashore. Last year the seashore had some 600,000 visitors, enjoying its beaches, hiking along its trails, experiencing man's relationship with nature. This year Supt. Edward J. Kurtz and his staff expect yet another increase in attendance. Writer Gil Pearson reports on their preparations in tomorrow's I-J Marin Magazine.

Conservation is a red-hot topic in Marin County these days. And one of the most controversial books to appear in that field in the 1960s is Gene Marine's "America the Raped." It will be reviewed in tomorrow's Marin Magazine. Among the other important new books to be previewed for you I-J critics are "Freedom From the Known" by J. Krishnamurti, "Houdini: The Untold Story" by Milbourne Christopher, and "Mr. Bridge" by Evan S. Connell.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Lump Sum Investment Best For Young Couple

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We are a young couple with two small children. Eight years ago we started an accumulation plan for $10 a month. The salesman would now like us to start another monthly plan for $20 or $30. We are struggling on our salary but would like to make the wisest use of our money. How should we plan our savings? — S. W.

A. Unless you have a good backlog of savings at least equal to six months' income, I would be against starting any new plans. Remember, too, that contractual plans for the accumulation of mutual funds usually are front-end loaded. In other words, as much as 50 per cent of your first year's payments may be deducted for acquisition charges.

Save your $20 to $30 each month until you have a few hundred dollars and then invest the lump sum. Since your money will be deposited for less than a year, a daily interest account would probably provide maximum income while you build your investment fund. Meanwhile, take advantage of this accumulation period to study various companies and mutual funds so your investment selection will be based on knowledge. Thus, you will be building capital and gaining a financial education.

Q. In 1957 I bought 100 shares of Aztec Oil & Gas at 19. I have never received cash dividends but have acquired 84 shares through stock dividends. Would it be advisable to hold in hopes the stock will return to what I paid? — A. C.

A. Your original investment of $1,900 is now worth $3,300, a 74 per cent gain. Aztec has sizable lease holding in Alaska, Canada and 12 Western states. Revenues of $8.4 million in 1968 came primarily from oil and gas production from the San Juan, Permian and Paradox basins. Gas production contributed 56 per cent of revenues — The remainder was from oil. Favorable factors are the company's extensive lease position, probably benefits from Gasbuggy.

Wall Street Irregular At Week's End

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks finished up on a mixed note today, with the monetary upheaval in Europe and reports that Washington is succeeding in efforts to slow inflation apparently countering the optimism derived from the latest Vietnam peace hope. Trading was heavy.

The UPI stock market indicator, measuring all stocks traded, was off 0.03 per cent on 1,575 issues on the tape. Of these, 633 declined and 661 advanced.

Steels tended firmer as industry demand continued to hold up well. Copper stocks were mixed despite price hikes on primary copper by some producers.

Gold issues moved in both directions, with motors also moving in irregular fashion.

Dow and Eastman Kodak drifted easier among the mixed chemicals.

Conglomerates generally gave ground, while Superior backed off among the oils. Amerada was a firmer oil, but the balance of the group generally traded in narrow ranges and without a definite pattern.

Electronics showed scattered strength, with Control Data among the firmer issues.

Navy Orders Ships

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Litton Industries Inc. has been awarded a navy contract possibly worth $1 billion. The conglomerate won a $113.9 million award to produce a new type of amphibious warfare vessel at its Pascagoula, Miss., shipyard, with nine of the ships eventually slated to be turned out if con-

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

Union Oil Finishes A Geothermal Well

Union Oil Co. of California has completed one of the largest geothermal steam wells drilled to date in the Geysers area of Sonoma County.

The well tested 200,000 pounds of steam per hour, equivalent to approximately 10,000 kilowatts per hour of generating capacity. It is more than one-half mile from the nearest geothermal production and expands the field in a northerly direction.

Union as operator holds a 50 per cent interest in the joint project with Magma Power Co. of Los Angeles and Thermal Power Co. of San Francisco.

COCA-COLA CO. earnings for the first quarter were $23.8 million or 42 cents a share — the highest of any first quarter in the company's history. This was an 11 per cent increase over the $21.5 million or 38 cents per share earned in the first three months of 1968. Directors have declared a dividend of 33 cents per share payable July 1.

RADIO CORP. OF AMERICA shareholders have voted to change the company's name to R C A Corp. to call attention to its multinational interests. All foreign subsidiaries will also be known simply as R C A, regardless of the countries in which they are situated. R C A first quarter results showed a 5 per cent increase in earnings on a sales gain of 1.5 per cent.

MOBILE OIL CORP. chairman of the board and chief executive officer Albert L. Nickerson will retire on Sept. 1 after more than 36 years of service. Rawleigh Warner Jr., now president, will succeed him as chairman and chief executive officer. William P. Tavoulares, executive vice president will become president.

SCHLAGE LOCK CO., San Francisco has completed negotiations with R. B. Davies Industries, Ltd. in Sydney, Australia to acquire a 27 per cent interest in Davies for granting the right to manufacture and distribute Schlage locks and its patented door closers in Australia and New Zealand.

ALLIED CONVALESCENT HOSPITALS, INC. holdings in Northern California will become united with Sunlite Medical Centers, Inc., a division of National Environment Corp. if negotiations now under way are completed. Sunlite will then become the largest convalescent hospital and medical care service corporation operating in California, consisting of 27 operative medical care facilities and 1,886 licensed beds.

FRL, INC., Palo Alto has completed its acquisition of Marin Controls Co., Belmont. The merger was contingent upon the sale of new FRL stock which has been accomplished. FRL manufactures pipe and other equipment for the underground utility industry. Marin Controls manufactures systems for the semiconductor industry and other equipment.

GULF OIL CORP. has reached an agreement with International Minerals and Chemical Corp. to acquire a 65,000-square foot plant in Wasco, Kern County, for an experimental processing facility for production of food suppliment. Gulf has also opened a multimillion dollar crude oil transhipment terminal at Bantry Bay, Ireland. It is designed to supply Gulf's European refineries in Wales, Denmark, Holland and a partially owned plant in Sapin.

BARNES-HIND PHARMACEUTICALS, INC., Sunnyvale has acquired Plastic in Optics, Inc., Los Angeles, specialist in contact lens care. The cash transaction gives Barnes-Hind patents on several products which it can relate to the development of pharmaceuticals in opthamology and other fields.

PUREX CORP., LTD. sales and earnings for both the third fiscal quarter ended March 31 and the nine-month period from July 1, 1968 have set alltime highs for those periods. Net sales of $84.2 million for the quarter were up from $75.2 a year ago. Pre-tax earnings of $7.9 million compared with last year's $6.7 million. Nine months sales rose to $241 million from $211 million. Earnings of $21.1 million compared with $17.9 million.

SPRING CLEAN-UP NOTICE
MARIN COUNTY RESIDENTS

Back yard burning terminates December 31, 1969.

Have you an accumulation of fire hazards —

Debris — Brush — Lumber

Combustible junk in storage areas

Is there adequate brush clearance around your home for fire protection?

Check with your local fire department before burning and then dispose of your accumulated combustibles before the critical fire season.

If combustible debris is not burned now, it will have to be hauled after December 31 when backyard burning terminates.

Nixon Sets Talk At Ohio University

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — The Florida White House announced today that President Nixon will venture onto one of the nation's largest campuses June 7, delivering the commencement address at Ohio State University.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon has received "quite a number" of invitations to appear at commencement exercises and has chosen OSU, with an enrollment of 41,000 at its Columbus headquarters. There are 4,458 members of the graduating class.

Ziegler said he did not know whether Nixon would make a new statement on campus disorders in his address. The President will appear earlier the same week at two other schools —Gen. Beadle State College in South Dakota on June 3 and the Air Force Academy on June 4.

A graduation exercise of a different sort, Ziegler announced, will take place in the East Room of the White House on May 28. At Nixon's request, he said, the White House will be the setting for the graduation of the 83rd class of the National Academy of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The 100 members of the class were drawn from the ranks of federal, state, county and local law enforcement agencies for a 12-week special course.

In another action, Nixon said he will nominate John William Middendorf II of Greenwich, Conn., a member of the New York Stock Exchange and major campaign contributor, to be ambassador to The Netherlands.

Middendorf, 44, will succeed retiring Ambassador William R. Tyler, a career diplomat. The new envoy is president of radio stations in Bryan, Ohio, and Johnstown, Pa.

Nixon also will nominate

Cong Plan Summer Drive Aimed At Forcing A Saigon Coalition

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong's high command has called for a summer offensive in South Vietnam to force the Saigon regime to agree to a coalition government and compel the United States to withdraw troops from the country, according to a captured document made public today.

The U.S. mission said the document was issued by the Central Office for South Vietnam, the Viet Cong's supreme headquarters.

"The importance of the summer (offensive) should be clearly pointed out," the document said. "It is a very important phase intended to compel the enemy . . . to accept serious negotiations with us, to withdraw troops, to recognize the National Liberation Front, and to accept a coalition government."

The National Liberation Front (NFL), political arm of the Viet Cong, put forward a 10-point peace program at the Paris talks yesterday. It included a coalition government and withdrawal of all American forces.

The Viet Cong document made public in Saigon outlined these requirements for the summer offensive:

It must be more aggressive stronger and more painful to the Americans and the South Vietnamese than the spring offensive launched Feb. 23.

It must succeed in destroying, wearing down, and disintegrating more American potential, more main force South Vietnamese troops, and especially more South Vietnamese village and hamlet officials.

It must include strong attacks on allied rear bases.

The document also called for incitement of a general uprising among the population, and "liberation of hamlets and wards when the situation is favorable."

The document said the Communists "do not intend to attain the (final) victory overnight or in a single phase . . . The victory will not come to us in such an easy way, but it will come in a difficult and complicated way. It will be a limited victory and not a clearcut, complete victory."

The document claimed 45,000 allied troops were killed in the spring offensive, half of them Americans. Official allied figures for the first five weeks of the offensive—which U.S. experts now feel was the effective period—show 1,718 American, 1,799 South Vietnamese, and 24,361 enemy troops killed in action.

Meanwhile, informed sources said the U.S. Command has received no orders from Washington to scale down offensive operations.

Meanwhile, military spokesmen also reported a half a dozen shellings last night, the worst against two South Vietnamese infantry battalions preparing a night bivouac 42 miles northeast of Saigon.

The mortar barrage caught the troops at dusk, as they were beginning to dig in. Five South Vietnamese soldiers and two American advisers were killed, 82 South Vietnamese were wounded and another 12 South Vietnamese soldiers were reported missing.

In scattered fighting yesterday ranging from 17 miles northwest of Saigon to a mile and a half below the demilitarized zone, American forces reported killing 56 North Vietnamese. Three Americans were killed and seven wounded.

South Turns Down Red's Alliance Government Call

SAIGON (AP) — The Saigon government today rejected the new Viet Cong call for a provisional coalition government but said it is willing to discuss several other points in the 10-part peace program the Communists put before the Paris talks Thursday.

A Foreign Ministry communique said discussions could be held on such questions as exchange of prisoners of war, the re-establishment of the demilitarized zone and respect of the 1962 Geneva agreements on Laos.

This was expected to be unacceptable to the Viet Cong, which had termed its 10-point proposal an "integrated whole."

The communique was in response to the program presented in Paris by Tran Buu Kiem, head of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front delegation.

"On many essential points, the Communist stand, which is still based on the five-point program of the so-called NLF, and Hanoi's four points, has not at all been changed," the statement said.

The communique declared that on other points "the Communist side only reproduces the proposals submitted by our own delegation, namely the reestablishment of the demilitarized zone, the respect of the 1962 Geneva agreements on Laos, and the fundamental principles of the 1954 Geneva agreements

Postal Clerk Gets Theft Term

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal judge sentenced a San Jose postal clerk to a year in prison yesterday for misappropriating funds.

Louis Luna Jr., 37, had pleaded guilty before Judge William T. Sweigert to obtaining $15,000 by altering postal money order receipts.

After selling an order for, say, $100, he would alter the receipt to show a lesser amount and pocket the difference, officials said.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, president of strife-ravaged City College of New York announced today he is resigning effective Monday morning.

Gallagher said "politically motivated outside forces" had made it impossible for him to "carry on the processes of reason and persuasion."

Gallagher was first chancellor of the California State College System, following its reorganization. He took over the job in April 1961, but resigned later, being replaced by the present chancellor Dr. Glenn S. Dumke.)

ROCKS, BRICKS

Two days ago City College was the scene of a bloody racial clash and yesterday fighting continued and a major fire heavily damaged a campus auditorium.

At Howard University in Washington, D.C., riot police sent tear gas rockets into a dormitory after federal marshals, putting an end to a two-day six-building sit-in, were pelted with rocks, bricks and cans.

CCNY's Gallagher read this statement to newsmen in his office this morning:

"My own functions as a reconciler of differences and catalyst for constructive change have become increasingly difficult to carry out. And with the intrusion of politically motivated outside forces in recent days, it has become impossible to carry on the processes of reason and persuasion.

COLLEGE OPEN

"Confronted today with the final impasse, I must relinquish my post to another man, possible one of different temperament. The City of New York and its great college deserve a future which it had been my hopes to realize more fully.

In March, Gallagher, 65, had submitted his resignation to the Board of Higher Education to protest proposed cuts in the City University budget, to be effective at the end of this term.

"Men and events have made this earlier separation necessary," Gallagher said in the surprise announcement.

City College remained open today, despite a faculty senate recommendation that the school be closed in the wake of the two

Dolwig In Surprise Bay Action

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A surprising switch by a powerful Senate committee chairman brightened conservationists' hopes today for strong legislation to preserve San Francisco Bay from fill projects.

Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, R-Atherton, head of the Governmental Efficiency Committee, strengthened his own "Save The Bay" bill yesterday, adopting provisions advocated by conservationists.

Previously his measure would have delayed strict controls. He had been the target of heavy criticism from opponents who said he favored commercial interests who want to fill in the swampy bay shores for subdivisions. The bill will now be heard by his committee, probably on Tuesday.

Dolwig's action immediately drew strong praise from a colleague whose own tough bill has been resting in Dolwig's committee without much hope of approval.

"I'm flabbergasted in a pleasant sort of way and I'll be glad to support him," said Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland.

Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, whose tough bay fill control bill was approved by the lower house Local Government Committee Wednesday night, was hopeful but cautious.

"My initial impression, just from reading the press release, is that Senator Dolwig's proposal looks like it is very good for the bay," he said.

But he said "to make sure," he was submitting it to attor-

ABAG Home Rule Group Asks .5%

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

BERKELEY — A surcharge on state income taxes paid by citizens throughout the nine-county Bay Area, including Marin, was proposed last night to the Association of Bay Area Governments to finance regional government.

The association's special committee on regional home rule recommended that the levy be limited to one half of 1 per cent, which would come to 50 cents per $100 paid in state income taxes.

Without providing specific details, the committee also recommended to the executive committee that there also be some form of business privilege tax "of a proportionate rate."

The executive committee, meeting in the Hotel Claremont, deferred action on the special committee's proposals to 7:30 p.m. Thursday, when its regular monthly meeting will be in the hotel. After that, the proposals, which include a host of details of ABAG's plan to transform itself into a strong regional governmental body, will go to its General Assembly on June 11 for final ratification.

The final action will become part of a skeleton bill introduced by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, designed to carry out ABAG's transformation. The vice president of ABAG, Sonoma County Supervisor Ignazio A. Vella, conceded last night, however, that it was unlikely that the ABAG proposal could become law before next year because the Legislature is expected to adjourn by July.

The piggyback income tax probably would start out at three tenths of 1 per cent, then gradually work up to the maximum, according to the chairman of the special committee, Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort.

He noted, however, that such regional needs as sewage treatment could mean "you might come to the area where you might have to raise the limit a little bit." But he predicted it would be five years "before there would be any pressure" to hike the limit.

The special committee's consultant, Victor Jones, a government professor at the University of California, added that Bay Area city governments probably soon will have to start levying surcharges on income taxes.

The special committee agreed that regional government should consider turning to use of the property tax only to finance subregional projects for too small an area to use the surcharge.

Bagley's bill, which would set up a Regional Home Rule Agency, would empower the successor to ABAG to "develop as nec-

Bay Agency Shoreline Curbs Urged

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — The Association of Bay Area Governments executive committee last night voted unanimously that the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission should be continued in existence — but with no power over shoreline development.

"Overlapping of jurisdiction of the bay agency into such shoreline areas would constitute conflicts with local jurisdictions and would create an expensive administrative monstrosity," the committee's resolution declared.

Noting that shoreline control by BCDC now was favored by the chairman of the senate committee considering BCDC bills, Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort said this "would be the complete elimination in the very near future of local government."

Asserting that the BCDC would be dominated by the state under the amended bill by Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, R-San Mateo, Bort said "that wouldn't even be regional government.'"

The resolution also called on the Legislature not to adopt the BCDC's proposed master plan for the bay. This would make the plan "frozen into law," ABAG said. Instead, the plan should be left to BCDC to adopt and enforce so it could be amended by any regional government that is formed, the resolution said.

ABAG's proposal for a regional government envisions taking over the duties of the BCDC, Bort noted, and the power to change the master plan should not rest with the Legislature.

While the resolution condemned BCDC's proposal that it regulate shoreline development, it adopted BCDC's proposal that it have jurisdiction over salt ponds. The Leslie Salt Co., with about 50,000 acres of salt ponds in the bay, has objected to this proposal by BCDC.

Under current law, the BCDC will go out of existence late this year.

Senators Listen For Fortas Reply

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several senators—Republicans and Democrats alike—say Abe Fortas should answer allegations about his financial conduct, but few appear eager for an official inquiry unless the Supreme Court justice volunteers to testify.

"The Senate and the nation are waiting for Mr. Fortas to indicate that he would like to come," said Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield endorsed a suggestion yesterday that the Senate Judiciary Committee offer a forum for Fortas if the justice should decide to reply to allegations that he received a fee after joining the Supreme Court.

"The situation has created a state of unease in the Senate and a state of concern," Mansfield said of the Fortas case.

He said it was up to Fortas and the committee to decide whether they would do anything.

Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Senate's No. 2 Democrat, initially proposed that the committee make itself available so Fortas could discuss the alleged $20,000 fee from the family foundation of Louis E. Wolfson, a financier now serving a prison term for selling unregistered stock.

Life magazine said Fortas received that amount and returned it after 11 months. Fortas himself said he was tendered and returned a fee from the foundation. But he did not mention the time or the amount involved.

Kennedy said yesterday he had word the Judiciary Committee would not initiate an inquiry unless Fortas asked to be heard. Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., is said to feel any investigation is a matter for the House to initiate.

But Sen. Paul Fannin, R-Ariz., proposed the Senate create a special committee to look into the Fortas case.

"The American people need to know from absolutely authoritative and official sources what the facts are," Fannin said.

Mansfield, opposed to the creation of any special committee, said the Judiciary Committee would be the proper forum if there is to be an inquiry.

Griffin agreed. "It's entirely appropriate that the Judiciary Committee stand ready," he said. "If Mr. Fortas were to indicate that he'd be willing to come before the Judiciary Committee, I'm sure they'd be willing to listen."

Fannin said if the Wolfson fee controversy should require impeachment proceedings, the special committee he proposed could make findings of fact for the Senate.

In impeachment proceedings, the House would, in effect, bring an indictment; the Senate would serve as trial court.

Griffin said there is nothing to prevent the Senate from looking into the matter, but "At this point, we're not talking about impeachment proceedings."

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said President Richard M. Nixon has advised congressional leaders to go slow.

Pope Revises Saints To Be In Liturgy

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Nearly 30 saints were dropped today in a drastic revision of the liturgical calendar of the Roman Catholic Church.

Among those dropped were St. Christopher, patron of travelers and the figure in millions of St. Christopher medals; St. Barbara, and St. Susanna, for whom the American Roman Catholic church in Rome is named.

The new calendar was issued under a decree by Pope Paul VI titled Paschalia Mysterii (Of the Paschal Mystery). It said the deleted saints were removed from the listing because it is doubtful that they ever existed.

A Vatican liturgical expert, the Rev. Pierre Jounel of Paris, told a news conference the cancellations from the calendar of many popular saints "will pose an extremely delicate problem" for many Catholics.

Cancellation from the calendar means that henceforth the saints involved are not considered subjects of churchwide devotion.

Their day Masses will no longer be said by priests throughout the church. Wherever they are traditionally esteemed locally, however, thew may still be revered. But there will be no official encouragement for this.

Churches already named for them may continue to bear their names, but their names will not go to new churches.

In Rome, the Church of Santa Susanna, just a few blocks from the American Embassy, is currently in titular possession of Richard James Cardinal Cushing of Boston. All cardinals have a titular church in Rome as sign of their rank.

JUSTICE ABE FORTAS

Fortas Mum On Wolfson Fund Issue

BOSTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas pushed aside the questions of newsmen last night about his acceptance and later return of a $20,000 fee from the family foundation of imprisoned financier Louis Wolfson.

Fortas, making his first public appearance since disclosure of the fee last Sunday in a Life magazine article, delivered an address at Northeastern University on the generation gap and campus unrest.

He did not refer to the fee controversy, but said at the outset his speech was "just an ordinary lecture."

'CAN'T IMAGINE'

"I just can't imagine why all this interest," he said.

About 50 newsmen and photographers stood below and in front of the stage from which Fortas spoke.

After his address, Fortas answered questions from the estimated 1,400 persons in the audience, but with the stipulation that they deal only with the issues covered in his address.

'DANGEROUS'

He said it would be "dangerous, very dangerous," to ignore the issues which breed dissent. Society is attempting to find solutions to these issues, he said and in many instances the solutions are coming from the "establishment," which so many members of the younger generation seem to resent.

"The problems and imperfections are here," Fortas said. "We must accept it . . . we are less than perfect people in an imperfect nation."

Totem poles were used to tell the history of Indian families and tribes.

Chief Takes Job

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) —Police Chief Bernard Garmire, who previously had turned down bids to head the departments in Philadelphia and Chicago, has resigned to become chief of police of Miami, Fla.

Garmire said yesterday his resignation would be effective June 15.

He said his Miami salary would be around $25,000. Tucson paid him $16,380.

Carpenter Quits

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Navy Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter, who has been both astronaut and aquanaut, says he is retiring from the service July 1 to enter private business.

Carpenter, 44, is one of the original seven U.S. astronauts and became the second American in orbit when he piloted Aurora 7 on May 24, 1962. In August 1967, he left the space program to take part in the Navy undersea living experiment called Sealab.

Lawmaker Freed Of Driving Count

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A misdemeanor hit-and-run driving charge against Assemblyman John V. Briggs, R-Fullerton, was dismissed yesterday by Municipal Court Judge Thomas Wallner.

The action was recommended by Dist. Atty. John M. Price, who told the police department in a letter "there is more than a reasonable doubt that any criminal act was done" in a collision April 15 between a state-owned car driven by Briggs and a parked auto.

Briggs was accused of leaving the scene without reporting the accident. But he said he was not aware his car had damaged the other auto when he attempted to leave a parking space near the Capitol.

Dr. Eugene Soules, chairman of the Sonoma State College English department, has been elected to a two-year term as president of the English Council of the California State Colleges.

As council president, Soules will serve on the executive committee of the California Association of the Teachers of English. He has been on the Sonoma State faculty since 1965.

Czechs Hail Russ

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak leaders hailed the Soviet army today as the liberator of their country and ignored or excused its 1968 role as invader and occupier.

Oscar Changed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gregory Peck, president of the Motion Picture Academy, says the film "Young Americans" which won the Oscar for best documentary of 1968 last month was ineligible because it was released in 1967.

The ballots were rechecked and "Journey into Self" was found to have run second in the voting for best documentary. It was declared the winner and producer Bill McGaw was handed an Oscar in a special ceremony Thursday.

Shots On Border

HONG KONG (UPI) — Communist Chinese border guards Thursday opened fire on two persons trying to dash across the border into this British crown colony.

One of the would-be refugees, a woman, was shot in the back. The other, a man, ran into the woods.

The woman fell in a paddy field and military and police posts on the British side saw her being dragged away by Chinese soldiers.

Queen Throws Party

NEW YORK (AP)—The maritime community's newest debutante — the Queen Elizabeth 2 —made the New York curtsey before society last night with a lavish party thrown by her sponsors for 950 persons.

The Cunard Lines, owner of the $72 million liner which arrived in New York Wednesday after her maiden voyage, invited the guests "to see and enjoy as much of the Queen Elizabeth 2 as possible and to sample everything she has to offer."

Although the ship remained at her pier in the Hudson River, the party was designed to give the impression she was at sea.

Gun Recovered In Police Death

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The gun used to kill a San Francisco policeman last week has been recovered a few blocks from the scene of the shooting, homicide inspectors said today.

The .41-caliber Magnum revolver used to shoot plainclothes burglary detective Joseph Brodnik, 41, during an attempted arrest in the Mission District was found in a hedge eight blocks away.

Scholarship Of $250 To Tam Senior

Timothy Walsh, 18, a senior at Tamalpais High School, has been awarded a $250 forestry and conservation scholarship by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Marin Rod and Gun Club.

Walsh, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Walsh of 7 Carolyn Court, Mill Valley, plans to major in conservation at Humboldt State College in Arcata and hopes to work for the foresty service.

A former Independent-Journal carrier boy, Walsh moved to Marin from New York in 1962.

Black Youth Apprentice Drive Opens

About 20 youths from Marin City met with about 20 representatives of labor and management to discuss the Bay Area Construction Opportunity Program, an effort to develop a manpower pool of black youths for training in construction trades.

"There is now a thrust and a definite effort on the part of labor and management," to induce black youths to become apprentices, Banks said.

Several youths already in the apprenticeship program joined in the discussion, Banks reported.

The next step will be to establish headquarters in Marin City, with a move to the Village Baptist Church scheduled in about 60 days, he said. Headquarters are now at 1368 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

Hub Trustees Eye Reserve Dip

The San Anselmo School District reserve fund should be reduced in order to find funds for 1969-70 salary increases and other needed budget items, the citizens budget advisory committee has decided.

The committee suggested the fund, which was $264,000 at the beginning of the current year, be reduced to about $150,000, but could not decide how the reserve money should be partitioned, Dr. Elmer A. Weden Jr., district trustee and a committee member, reported.

The committee, which met Wednesday, will discuss the subject again as well as commitments it would like to recommend on curriculum and portable buildings at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Red Hill School.

Burglars Take $610 In Cash

Neat burglars, who use a towel to remove any telltale fingerprints, struck two San Anselmo homes Wednesday taking $610 in cash and household items, police said yesterday.

C. Marcel Schneider of 251 Sequoia Drive reported to police at 4:40 p.m., Wednesday, that between 2:15 and 4:10 p.m., someone entered his unlocked house and stole 40 silver dollars, $5 in 50-cent pieces, 10 two-dollar bills, a tuner amplifier, jacket and 60 seconal tablets, with a total value of $300. Police found a white hand towel, removed from the kitchen, in the living room.

Edith Toulouse reported at 6:20 p.m. that someone entered her home at 1554 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard through an open window and took a 12 gauge shotgun, a radio and camera, the total value being $310; police reported. A towel, believed used to wipe areas touched, was found outside the rear of the home, officers said.

Calistoga Quake Is Hardly Noticed

Ford Calls For Less Trade Curbs

DETROIT (UPI)—The future growth of the U.S. auto industry has been pinned by Henry Ford II, board chairman of the Ford Motor Co., to the rapid growth of the world automobile market.

Ford, however, told the annual Ford stockholders meeting yesterday, that U.S. government negotiations were needed to eliminate a variety of restraints on trade put on by other governments, including tariff and other barriers, local content requirements and restrictions on capital investment.

The growth of the auto business outside the United States was much more rapid than the domestic growth, Ford said. This year he predicted total free world car and truck sales would exceed 26.5 million units, a new record. Ford said about 11.5 million would be sold in this country.

Single Youths Cut Off Welfare

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Unmarried persons under 21 and employable single men have been struck from the welfare rolls in an emergency cut by the San Francisco Social Services Commission.

The commission said yesterday the cut was necessary because a U.S. Supreme Court ruling which banned residence requirements for welfare has depleted the available funds.

Born said the cut was necessary because the Board of Supervisors had ordered a $345,000 slash in the current budget for the Social Services Commission.

Teen Bound Over To Marin Court

Michael John Pereira, 19, of San Rafael, yesterday was bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of burglarizing a Sausalito home March 20. A co-defendant, Gregg James Adams, 21, of Greenbrae, was released.

Judge Peter Allen Smith of municipal court decided after a preliminary hearing there was insufficient evidence to hold Adams.

Pereira is to appear in superior court May 19.

neys and an Assembly consultant.

If the bill is as good as it looks at first glance, said Knox, "I think chances for the bay are good in the Assembly and the Senate."

As introduced, Dolwig's bill would have wiped out the Bay Conservation and Development Commission plan for the bay, which sharply restricted shoreline development.

A new plan would have had to be prepared within five years—enough time, opponents said, for subdividers to complete their fill projects.

As amended, it adopted most of the features advocated by opponents of bay filling. The commission would be made permanent and it could limit developments on the shoreline, salt ponds and wet lands around the bay.

Commission policies restricting development are approved by the bill and the BCDC is given permission to develop a regional plan for parks and open spaces around the bay.

If adopted, it would mean the commission would have power to limit developments proposed by the Leslie Salt Co., the Santa Fe Railway and the Westbay Community Associates.

All three are opposed to give the commission control over shoreline areas.

The new Dolwig bill is similar to Knox' proposal and is much tougher, on the surface, than the one advocated by Gov. Ronald Reagan. Reagan favors merely extending the life of the bay commission and continuing its present power to prevent filling of the bay.

Ardent conservationists in Dolwig's district have been criticizing him. But when asked if concern about his political future affected his decision, he replied "absolutely not. I've been running for office 23 years and I've managed to survive politically. This isn't the first controversy I've been in."

Boating Accidents Cause Of Drownings

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—One out of six drownings in America results from a boating accident, warns the National Automobile Club.

Boating enthusiasts should carry at least one serviceable life preserver for each person aboard, the club recommends, and all children and nonswimmers should wear a life preserver at all times.

Apartment Theft

A portable stereo and portable television set valued at $400 were stolen from her apartment yesterday afternoon, Valerie Gray of 99 Cole Drive, Apt. 14, Marin City, told sheriff's deputies.

Theft Reported

John O. Swann of 340 Ferndale Avenue, Homestead Valley, reported to the sheriff's department that a stereo set, tape deck and portable television set were stolen from his home Wednesday.

Burglary Found

Carol A. Sheritt of 10 Milland Drive, Mill Valley, told sheriff's officers that between April 28 and Monday someone stole a portable television set, leather coat and antique gold mirror from her apartment, officers said today.

ABAG

essary and to implement a comprehensive regional plan, a regional solid waste disposal plan, a regional airport system, a regional open space and regional parks system, a plan to conserve and develop the bay and its shoreline, a regional air quality control board, a regional water quality control plan, and a balanced regional transportation system."

Bagley introduced his bill after ABAG objected to a bill by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, to set up a regional government run by directors elected directly by the voters. It would ignore ABAG, which is run by city and county officials.

Unlike the Knox bill, which would require a vote of the people of the Bay Area to set up a regional government, the ABAG proposal would require no vote of the people, just approval by the Legislature and signature into law by the governor. The governor, however, made it clear to Knox that he could sign his bill only if the referendum were left in it, so he very well could want the same provision in the Bagley-ABAG bill.

One of the few objections raised last night was by Thomas Mellon, chief administrative officer of San Francisco. He asked if a city or county could be forced under ABAG's plan to help pay for a regional facility if it wanted to build its own.

To Mellon's obvious displeasure, Bort answered that in such a case the city or county could be forced to pay for a regional facility, but of course still could go ahead and build its own — and pay for that, too.

Mellon acknowledged after the meeting that he had in mind his city's opposition to joining a regional sewage system.

But any construction of a regional facility such as a sewage system would require approval by 60 per cent of the city representatives to a general assembly representing cities with at least 60 per cent of the population of the Bay Area, and by 60 per cent of the county representatives representing counties with at least 60 per cent of the population of the Bay Area, according to the special committee's recommendation.

Bort said this provision "puts a brake on this agency going out and grabbing other functions."

The same requirements for a 60 per cent vote would apply if the regional government wanted to overrule objections by a city or county to condemnation of property in its jurisdiction.

The special committee also proposed that the regional government's executive committee consist of 32 city councilmen and county superviosrs — thus ensuring ABAG's control — and of four appointees, one from the federal government, one from state government, one state senator and one state assemblyman. The other two would be the president and vice president.

Any qualified voter in the Bay Area would be eligible for election as president or vice president. Election would be by secret ballot of all city and county legislators.

Also propoesd were advisory commissions for each of the functional areas. For example, the Bay Conservation and Development Commission would become an advisory commission, and function like a planning commission for the bay and shoreline.

The special committee recommended that officers and members of the executive and advisory committees be paid $50 a day while on business for the regional government. The maximum pay would be $200 a month for each member and officer.

Finally, the special committee recommended that a 60 per cent vote by the electorate of the Bay Area would be empowered to authorize the regional government to issue general obligation bonds. Under current law, a two thirds vote is necessary.

"Our objective was not more government, but better government," Bort said.

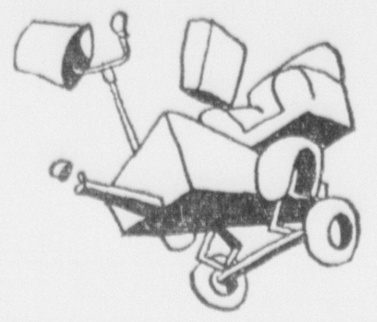
LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Trailer Hitch Proves Costly



The California Vehicle Code sets standards of care for just about every kind of vehicle on the road. Failure to meet them becomes "negligence;" and if someone is hurt as a result of negligence, he has a claim against the person to blame.

Recently John and Mary, who were moving some furniture, borrowed a friend's pickup truck and rented a trailer to haul their furniture.

The rental place had a youngster hook the trailer. As instructed he tested the hookup by jumping up and down on the trailer hitch and bumper.

As it turned out the bumper bracings were too weak. For, when moving, the loaded trailer swayed. John didn't know this until the pickup went out of control. The trailer flipped the truck over, and hurt John and Mary.

The pickup owner was penniless. John and Mary sued the trailer rental for improperly hitching the trailer's flimsy bumper to the pickup. Under the vehicle code a trailer must be securely hooked, and the hitch must be strong enough to prevent frame distortion.

So the court ruled for John and Mary. The trailer rental people should have sound standards for testing trailer hitches and bumpers before hooking a trailer on. Failing in this, the rental people were liable.

Not all vehicle code violations lead to liability. Through his own fault, a person sometimes helps to bring on an accident and his own injuries. If so, he has no legal claim for damages. Thus, if John had been speeding when the pickup whent out of control, he could not have collected damages. despite his otherwise good claim.

which our government unceasingly demands that the Communist side must respect, and which they always interpret in their own way."

The Foreign Office statement noted that some other problems are mentioned in the front's 10-points "which do not raise any difficulties." These are the exchange of prisoners, reestablishment of the demilitarized zone and respect of the 1962 agreements on Laos.

"Discussion should have already been taken on these problems in the framework of the Paris meetings or following the procedures which the government of the republic of Vietnam has proposed," the communique said.

The Saigon statement also said the front "sticks to its own account of the Vietnam War, refusing the principle of mutual withdrawal of external forces from South Vietnam and asking for a unilateral unconditional withdrawal of allied forces."

Reagan Appoints Seeger To Seat

Gov. Ronald Reagan today named William R. Seeger, manager of Marin Municipal Water District, to the California Advisory Committee to the Western States Water Council.

The post pays necessary expenses. Seeger, a 56-year-old Democrat, will serve at the pleasure of the governor. He succeeds Jerome B. Gilbert of Novato, who resigned.

Seeger, a 1935 graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, has been employed by the district since 1947.

He lives at 147 Dominican Drive, San Rafael.

Northern Ireland's Minister Wins Test

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Northern Ireland's new prime minister, James Chichester-Clark, won a massive vote of confidence today from more than 300 delegates of his ruling Protestant-based Unionist party.

They also pledged to support him in introducing universal suffrage at local elections. At present, a property qualification prevents many of Northern Ireland's Roman Catholics from having the franchise in local elections.

Modesto Hit By $750,000 Fire

MODESTO (UPI) — A spectacular fire just south of the Modesto city limits last night destroyed two warehouses and caused an estimated $750,000 damage.

The blaze was discovered about 8:20 p. m. by a Stanislaus County deputy sheriff who spotted smoke pouring from the Modesto Builders Supply Co. warehouse. An adjacent warehouse owned by the Rice Furniture Co. also burned.

The sheriff's office closed Ninth Street in front of the two buildings as thousands of persons flocked into the area to watch the blaze. The flames could be seen for miles.

Swedish Doctors Barred From War

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — The Swedish Government has turned down a Defense Command request that Swedish military doctors be allowed to volunteer for service in Vietnam in order to get first hand experience in war surgery.

The Government was said to consider it "out of the question" that Swedish doctors should perform active duty in another country's armed forces.

Coins, Pearls Taken

Burglars took $40 in coins and a string of pearls from the home of Mrs. David Eugene Valente at 65 Homestead Boulevard, Tamalpais Valley, Wednesday, sheriff's deputies said today.

Point Reyes Bill Passage Is Predicted

Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, today predicted passage of legislation in Congress to complete the 55,000-acre Point Reyes National Seashore.

Only 29,000 acres have been acquired from private owners thus far and federal funds have run out.

McCarthy said he has spoken to Reps. William H. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, and Don H. Clausen, R-First District; Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel and President Richard M. Nixon's office to urge passage of a bill appropriating $38.1 million to complete land acquisition.

He said he was confident the bill would pass after conversations with these officials. Mailliard and Clausen are sponsores of the legislation.

A hearing on their bill will be held Tuesday before the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee.

Meanwhile, Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, who is in Washington, D.C., coordinating the drive in favor of the bill, said supporting letters and telegrams should be sent to Clausen and Mailliard or to him at the Hotel Sheraton Carleton, 923 16th Street NW, Washington, D.C., 20006.

Marin Superivsors Louis H. Baar and West Marin rancher Boyd Stewart will join Maloney in Washington Sunday.

Baar, whose supervisorial district includes the seashore, will represent the county supervisors because Chairman John F. McInnis is vacationing in Hawaii. Baar said rancher Stewart will represent residents of West Marin.

"I've also been talking with Jack McCarthy," said Baar. "He's interested and will use his offices and also talk to Governor Reagan and others in Sacramento to urge federal acquisition of seashore land. The response is terrific and encouraging."

Baar said he hopes to take to Washington eight to ten resolutions from the Marin Property Owners Association, Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau, Marin Conservation League, and other organizations, all urging federal acquisition of the seashore.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said he does not have a list of organizations supporting the federal appropriation but predicted that Marin organizations would be almost solidly in favor of completion of federal acquisition of seashore land. "I don't know of any opposition," said Bruce.

Hike Along Bay

A hike along the Richardson Bay shoreline will be sponsored by the Tiburon Parks and Recreation Department tomorrow. Hikers will meet at 10 a.m. in the Reed School parking lot. Hike leaders will discuss land uses of the area, recreation facilities and transportation problems as the hike proceeds to its end in Richardson Bay Park.

Home Looted

Burglars who entered the home of Judith Elias at 61 Morningsun Avenue, Mill Valley, on Wednesday took a movie projector, movie camera, another camera, wrist watch, diamond engagement ring, portable stereo, a speaker and two Beatle albums, sheriff's deputies said.

Richard Funkhouser, 51, a career foreign service officer, to be ambassador to the Gabon Republic. Funkhouser will replace David M. Bane, who is getting a new, unannounced assignment.

In a military personnel change, Nixon designated Vice Adm. Ralph W. Cousins to succeed retiring Vice Adm. John B. Colwell as deputy chief of naval operations for fleet operations and readiness. Rear Adm. Maurice F. Weisner will be nominated for two-star rank and will replace Cousins as commander of Attack Carrier Striking Force, 7th fleet, and commander of Carrier Division Five.

Nixon went yachting on Biscayne Bay during the morning with his Florida friend and neighbor, C. G. (Bebe) Rebozo. First the two men spent some time aboard the Rebozo houseboat, The Coco Lobo at her Key Biscayne Yacht Club moorings, then went aboard the presidential yacht Julie for the cruise.

While boating, Ziegler said, Nixon read working papers, apparently dealing with the administration's plans to revise public welfare programs.

About 200 police moved on to the Howard campus, fired six rockets into the dormitory—where about 1,000 students live—then pulled back.

About 100 marshals armed with helmets, nightsticks and a court order entered the campus at 3:30 a.m. and began clearing the six buildings. At first there was little resistance, but soon they were being pelted with debris. One marshal suffered a deep leg gash.

Police Chief John Layton said 21 persons were arrested. Earlier estimates ranged from 18 to 60.

A university spokesman said there was "extensive damage, theft and vandalism" in the six buildings occupied. He said no decision had been made on when classes would resume.

President James M. Nabrit Jr. closed Howard after the sit-in began to demand a larger role for students in running the school of 8,200 and a voice for community residents in school affairs.

In Bloomington, Ind., the negotiating session over student demands on the 47,000 student campus to rescind a tuition increase set for the fall term was interrupted, prior to settlement, by black students who entered the conference room and said no one could leave or enter until trustees arrived.

JULES CHOURRE

OBITUARIES

Jules Chourre Dies At 77

Jules Chourre, 77, retired Tamalpais High School printing teacher, was pronounced dead at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael yesterday after collaspsing at his Mill Valley home. Death was apparently due to natural causes, the coroner's office said.

Chourre's son, Richard, who lived with him at 105 Locust Street, returned home yesterday afternoon and found his father on a couch. Chourre lapsed into unconsciousness moments later and pronounced dead at 4:10 p.m.

Chourre taught printing and vocational arts at Tamalpais from 1926 until his retirement in 1962. He also spent several summers as master printer aboard Matson Line Ships. A native of San Francisco, he was graduated with honors from the University of California at Berkeley and received his master's degree at San Francisco State. He taught in Coalinga and in Alameda County for 10 years before coming to Marin in 1926.

He is survived by two sons, Jules E. Chourre of Sleepy Hollow and Richard Chourre of Mill Valley, and by two daughters, Jane McCrary and Marianne Cavanaugh, both of Southern California.

Funeral is pending at Russell and Gooch mortuary, Mill Valley.

LONA PROWSE

Lona Prowse, a retired school teacher who taught in the San Anselmo elementary school system for 16 years, died at a local convalescent home yesterday after a long illness.

Mrs. Prowse lived in Marin County for 20 years. She retired several years ago.

She is survived by a son, Albert M. Prowse of San Anselmo.

A Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

Opera Canceled

"The Duenna," an opera by the College of Marin music and drama departments set to open tonight, has been canceled, directors Robin Jackson and Scott Merrick announced today. One reason for the cancelation is that Jackson suffered an injury during rehearsals, college publicist Earlene Jones said.

ELSIE JURGENSEN

Elise Anna Schlake Jurgensen, 98, of 2300 East Washington Street, Petaluma, died yesterday at her home after a long illness.

Born at Mount Eden, Alameda County, Mrs. Jurgensen had lived in Petaluma since 1885. She and her husband, the late Herman Jurgensen, operated a ranch for many years.

Mrs. Jurgensen is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Dora M. Eldredge of Petaluma, a member of the Old Abode School Board.

Funeral will be at 1 p.m. Monday at the Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

L. STEWART HINCKLEY

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Former Assemblyman L. Stewart Hinckley of Redlands, who died with his wife in an Arizona airplane crash yesterday, today was saluted as "an outstanding leader" by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Hinckley and his wife, Bertha, were killed when their light plane crashed on landing at the Page, Ariz., airport.

The Assembly met for a short period today, then adjourned in Hinckley's memory.

Reagan said Hinckley "was a dear, personal friend whose tragic death is a great loss." He said the former lawmaker "earned the high respect of his colleagues for his legislative ability and integrity."

Hinckley, a Republican, served in the lower house from 1947 to 1954 and from 1963 to 1968. Reagan this year had appointed Hinckley, a pilot since 1948, to the state Aeronautics Commission.

DEATHS

ERB — Of Novato, May 6, 1969, Robert Thomas Erb, beloved husband of Ann M. Erb, devoted father of Mrs. Richard D. Huntwork of Kentfield, loving son of Bertha Erb of San Francisco and the late Charles H. Erb, loving brother of Charles A. Erb of Corte Madera and Mrs. Charles Lienau of San Francisco. A native of San Francisco, aged 61 years. A lifetime member of Musicians Local 6, San Francisco, and the California State Employees Association.

Friends are invited to attend the funeral Friday, May 9, 1969, at 9 a.m. at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, thence to St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo, where a mass of requiem will be offered commencing at 9:30 a.m. Interment, Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Recitation of the rosary Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Chapel of the Hills. (5/7-8)

GET HIGH ANYWAY

Marijuana Smokers Fooled By Fake Pot

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Ten regular smokers of marijuana got the same effects from dummy cigarettes in a laboratory experiment as they did from the real thing, two medical researchers reported today.

At times during the test the young men smoked real marijuana cigarettes. At other times, in the same laboratory, they smoked cigarettes that looked, tasted and smelled exactly the same but lacked the active chemical ingredient in marijuana.

And they could not tell the difference.

Both kinds of cigarettes gave them the feeling of being mildly "high" or slightly intoxicated.

The experiment shows, among other things, the unreliability of trusting smokers to judge the potency of the marijuana they use, the researchers said in a report to the convention of the American Psychiatric Association.

In another phase of the experiment, the same young men were given, at different times, pills containing the active chemical in marijuana, or pills that looked and tasted the same but which had none of the chemical in them. The real pills contained 20 times the amount of the active chemical as found in marijuana cigarettes.

In these comparisons, the men could detect the difference. And the real pills boosted their pulse rate and altered their perceptions of time and space relationships as the smoking of real marijuana cigarettes can do.

The experiments were reported by Reese T. Jones, M.D., and George C. Stone, PhD, both of the Langley Porter Neuropsychiatric Institute and University of California School of Medicine, San Francisco.

Private Study Challenges Safeguard Cost Figures

WASHINGTON (AP) — A private study indicates the Safeguard antimissile system's ultimate cost may top $13 billion—66 per cent more than official estimates.

Disclosure of the study yesterday prompted immediate assertions, notably by Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., that the macreated a credibility gap for the Nixon administration."

The study, by the Defense Marketing Survey, a McGraw-Hill Service for industrial firms, estimated the cost of Safeguard between 1969 and 1975 at more than $11 billion.

The study did not include $1.2 billion to be spent by the Atomic Energy Commission on nuclear warheads and its cost estimates for Safeguard's radar and Sprint missiles were more than $1 billion less than calulated by other experts.

Critics were quick to point out that adding in these figures than $13 billion, compared with the current official a dministration estimate of $7.8 billion.

"In a program as complex as Safeguard," the study concluded, "historical experience indicates costs in the long run are likely to be considerably higher."

Senator McGovern, a leading critic of Safeguard, said "It has not reached the stage yet of the Johnson administration's credibility gap on Vietnam, but it's reaching toward it."

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, who has been speaking in favor of Safeguard around the country, told Republican governors in Lexington, Ky., last week: "The decision is in your interest as governors—if for no other reason than it isless expensive than the Sentinel system proposed by the previous administration."

If the $13 billion-plus figure is correct, it would put Safeguard costs nearly 50 per cent higher than the $9.4 billion estimated by some Capitol Hill experts as the real cost of the Johnson's Sentinel antimissile system, officially pegged at $5.8 billion.

Defense officials, in appearances before congressional committees, have repeatedly used a $6.6 billion figure as the cost of deploying Safeguard.

But last Monday, the Pentagon, in response to queries, said this failed to include the $1.2 billion for warheads which is carried in the budget of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The Defense Marketing study envisioned $7.9 billion for the 12 continental Safeguard sites plus $2.4 billion for research and $700 million for operations and maintenance.

But its estimate of $800,000 for each of 700 Sprint missiles is well below the $2 million estimated earlier in the week in a report by Profs. Jerome Weisner and Abram Chayes.

Many Bills In Congress To Honor Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is considering a growing pile of bills to memorialize Dwight D. Eisenhower. Proposals range from naming the first moon landing site in his honor to putting his picture on the dollar bill in place of George Washington's.

Legislation to honor the World War II commander and 34th president who died March 28 are stacked in Capitol Hill hoppers with 25 bills introduced in the House alone. All are still in committee.

Some call for naming a dam after Eisenhower as well as two airports, the interstate highway system and the moon landing site.

Eisenhower's family says it has no favorite among the plans.

"We've been very honored by all the proposals," said his son, John, by telephone from his Phoenixville, Pa., home.

"I don't think it's up to us to recommend anything. I can't see a hunk of marble somewhere, though."

"That would be the last thing Dad would ever talk about," John said.

But in a speech at the dedication of Eisenhower Park in Newport, R.I., July 22, 1960, President Eisenhower told the crowd: "I am deeply touched by this kind of gracious incident and thought for the simple reason that a name given to a place like this endures."

Gallstone Attack Halts Mutiny Trial

FORT ORD (UPI) — The trial of 14 Army prisoners, charged with mutiny for a sit-down demonstration at the San Francisco Presidio stockade, was recessed indefinitely yesterday because the president of the court-martial board was hospitalized.

Lt. Col. Richard J. Potter, head of the five-man jury panel, suffered an attack of gallstones. The court said he would be hospitalized for a minimum of seven days and might require surgery.

Inscription Traced To 4th Century

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Israeli archeologists today announced the discovery of an ancient Hebrew inscription dating back to the Fourth Century scrawled on the Wailing Wall in the Old City of Jerusalem.

The inscription was written in Hebrew characters peculiar to the Talmudic period and is part of a prophecy by the Jewish Prophet Isaiah about the return to glory of Jerusalem.

Prof. Benjamin Mazar, who is directing excavation alongside the southern part of the wall, said the inscription was found on one of the giant stones of the wall, the last remnant of King Herod's Temple and Judaism's holiest place of worship.

The inscription said, "And when ye see this, your heart shall rejoice and your bones shall flourish like an herb."

The words are from the last chapter of the Book of the Prophet Isaiah, (Chapter 66: Verse 14) concerning the new Jerusalem.

Mazar said the stone on which the inscription was found was located near the Robinson Arch, named after the 19th Century archaeologist who uncovered it, which links the upper and lower cities of the biblical city of Jerusalem.

A TURNABOUT IN MARCHES

While some schools, both high school and university level, across the U.S. have been carrying on massive demonstrations this spring, placard-carrying cadets at New England Military School in Byfield, Mass., did an about face yesterday. In a march to the administration building the cadets presented a resolution of loyalty in support of the school and its philosophy of education. The school is a semimilitary boarding school for boys of grades nine through 12. (AP Wirephoto)

'Crime Check' Described By Petaluma Police Chief

Petaluma Police Chief Larry D. Higgins last night outlined his local crime prevention program before the Sonoma County Mayors' and Councilmen's Association, saying it is showing good results.

Higgins said the "crime check" program, borrowed from the International Police Officers Association, uses a simple tool — enlisting the aid of the community. "If you see it, report it," is the message of the program, he told the association meeting in Sebastopol.

He said a speakers bureau was set up within the department with officers assigned to present the program in all local schools. The officers show a film called "Every Hour, Every Day," that demonstrates the work of police officers and the many problems they face daily.

Higgins said it is hoped that through speaking to children and adult organizations, the public can be educated to help police to prevent crime by reporting suspicious persons or occurrences.

Admitting the four-month-old program is too young to show definite results, he said, however, that in that period, the department received 269 reports by suspicious residents. He compared that with the total of 230 calls received in the entire 12 months of 1968.

"Of course, this had made extra work for us, but we think it's worth it," Higgins said. He reported that the majority of reports are unfounded, but said that several have led to arrests and convictions.

The program is financed through a $1,700 allocation made by the Petaluma City Council last fall.

Sonoma Mayors And Councilmen Also:

NAPA SUIT — Heard report that legal steps concerning the suit brought by Napa County against the association regarding the increased county representation on the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board will be discussed next week. Petaluma Mayor Helen Putnam, association president, said the attorneys from the various cities will meet at Lake Tahoe, Nev. next week to plan what legal steps might be necessary.

BYLAWS — Heard a motion to amend the bylaws so that each city will have one vote on the association board of directors, which is made up of mayors. Under the present rules, the mayor serving as chairman only votes in the event of a tie. The association will vote on the change at the July 10 meeting in Cloverdale.

BRIDGE TOURS — Heard William R. Lucius, the association's representative to the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board, invite each city council to tour the bridge facilities with him. The Petaluma Council will make the trip on Wednesday.

Complaint Points To No Fingerprints

The Independent-Journal erred Wednesday in reporting that attorney Hugh G. Lawrence had complained to the Marin County Board of Supervisors that prominent citizens arrested in connection with the Tamalpais Creek protest had not been booked.

Lawrence complained only that the residents were not fingerprinted or photographed. All of those arrested were booked.

Students Win Bank Awards

One Marin County student won a second place award and two others were runnersup last night in the finals of the Bank of America Achievement Awards competition in San Francisco.

Michael K. Magill of Novato High School won $500 as one of four second place winners. Finishing among 15 runnersup were Shirley A. Meyer and Nancy L. Wilkinson, both of Terra Linda High School. Each won $150.

A total of $10,000 was distributed to 27 winners, who earlier had won local and regional competitions.

The 27 were selected by a panel of judges which included Wishard A. Brown, publisher of the Independent-Journal. The students were interviewed and their academic records and extracurricular achievements reviewed.

Competition was in four study fields: vocational arts, science and mathematics, fine arts and liberal arts. Magill, of 450 Ridge Road, Novato, competed in fine arts; Miss Meyer, of 639 Bamboo Terrace, San Rafael, vocational arts, and Miss Wilkinson, of 24 Elena Circle, San Rafael, liberal arts.

Carl R. Terzian, chairman of the board of Carl R. Terzian Associates in Los Angeles, spoke at an awards banquet attended by about 600 persons in the Hilton Hotel. A. W. Clausen, executive vice presdient in charge of lending for Bank of America, presented the awards.

Councilman Miskimen Wins Annexation

San Rafael City Councilman John A. Miskimen last night won his battle to get his new home in Bayside Acres annexed to the City of San Rafael, thus paving the way for possible annexation of all of Bayside Acres.

The Local Agency Formation Commission voted 3 to 2 to permit San Rafael to annex Miskimen's new home at 185 Oak Drive, even though it is connected to San Rafael boundaries by water only.

Michael Wornum moved for annexation. He was seconded by J. Wayne Womack and supported by chairman Hugh G. Marchant. Jan Paul Dyk and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. dissented, saying it was spot annexation.

Miskimen argued that fire protection for his new home was his primary concern. The San Rafael city charter requires that councilmen live within the city limits. Miskimen got neighbors on both sides to agree to the annexation, although the Bayside Acres Property Owners Association continued to oppoise it.

The swing in Miskimen's favor came when City Manager Dan E. Andersen announced that San Rafael will accept annexation, without requiring that water lines conform to city standards prior to annexation.

A surprised Wornum said he was under the impression San Rafael always required water lines to be standardized before annexation would be considered. When Andersen announced that was not the case, Wornum moved for annexation.

The Local Agency Commission Also:

PARADISE DRIVE — Approved the annexation of homes on Paradise Drive, from Robin Drive to Old Landing Road, to Corte Madera Sanitary District.

LUCKY DRIVE — Postponed for one month a request by residents on Lucky Drive, on the south bank of Corte Madera Creek, to annex to Corte Madera Sanitary District. In September last year, the commission had required Lucky Drive residents to annex to the town of Corte Madera first. Commissioners asked Executive Officer John F. Barrows to check the legality of that order.

RICHARDSON BAY — Continued for two months a request by the City of Mill Valley that 58 acres of tidelands of Highway 101 be detached from Richardson Bay Sanitary District, but with service provided by the sanitary district under a contract with Mill Valley. The area includes Sabella's Restaurant, Shelter Bay Apartments, and several other commercial establishments.

ANNEXATIONS — Approved the annexation of A. F. Willat's property at the corner of Sky Road and Bay Vista Drive, to Richardson Bay Sanitary District; and one lot in Pleasant Valley Unit 2 off Stasia Court to the City of Novato.

Tornadoes Hit Ohio: Two Dead, 50 Injured

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent spring weather that earlier triggered flooding rains in Colorado and Texas erupted into damaging tornadoes yesterday and left two dead and as many as 50 injured in Ohio.

More than 40 homes were destroyed and some 400 persons were left homeless in twisters which hit the Dayton suburb of Kettering and the community of Tappen Lake, near the West Virginia line.

In the West, skies cleared over the Colorado Rockies, but the danger of large-scale flooding remained strong because of heavy runoff expected from foot-deep snows which fell in the mountains and foothills. A storm which began Sunday also dumped up to seven inches of rain on parts of eastern Colorado.

Hardest hit in the Ohio tornadoes was Kettering where 30 houses were demolished and an estimated 185 were damaged. Although 25 persons were treated for cuts and bruises, no serious injuries occurred and there were no known deaths.

Half way across the state a man was killed near Columbus when a tree, split by lightning or wind, fell on his car.

A dozen houses were destroyed in the twister that dipped into Tappan Lake. A woman was killed and her husband and four children were injured as their home near the lake was smashed.

Early estimates of damage in the Colorado storm and flooding ranged up to $1.2 million, much of it due to washed-out highways and bridges. No serious injuries had been reported.

Torrential rains continued to be a part of the violent thunderstorms which hit hard at Texas Tuesday and Wednesday and spilled across most of the South yesterday. Downpours up to four inches soaked sections of Alabama, Florida and Georgia during the night.

Bike-Car Crash Hurts Youngster

An 11-year-old Fairfax girl suffered scrapes and bruises after her bicycle collided with car as she was riding her bicycle at 7:45 p.m. yesterday near her home at 160 Ridgeway Avenue.

Sanja Lunde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Lunde, of 134 Ridgeway Avenue, was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Police said the car was driven by William Allen Lester of 150 Ridgeway Avenue.

Professors Hold Dinner-Lecture

The Sonoma State College chapter of the American Association of University Professors will hold its annual dinner-lecture today at 7 p.m. at Los Robles Lodge, Santa Rosa.

Honored as the recently elected distinguished faculty speaker will be Dr. Warren E. Olsen, philosophy professor and director of the newly established Robert Maynard Hutchins School of Liberal Studies. He will speak on "The Meaning of Work: The Existential View."

Average Home Cost: $37,500

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The average cost of a new home in the San Francisco Bay Metropolitan Area is $37,500— and people keep buying them.

He said outstanding residential mortgage loan commitments of all California savings and loan associations were 34 per cent higher in the first quarter of 1969 than in the same period last year.

Davis noted that monthly payments on a loan of $30,000 under a 30-year mortgage were about $220, an increase of $21 because of increased interest rates.

But even at 8 per cent interest, he said, "today's mortgage rates are still a bargain."

Panel Backs Labor Union Bargaining

The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District's rules and policy committee recommended yesterday that the district recognize labor unions as bargaining agents for its employees.

The only objection came from the district's attorney, Jerome B. White of San Francisco, who said the action would be "a step toward putting our head in the noose.

"If you start making contracts, there'll be all kinds of troubles, I'm sure," White warned.

Bur director Daniel F. Del Carlo, a San Francisco labor leader, shot back that White, as an attorney, belonged "to the strongest union in the world, only you have what they call ethics instead of union bylaws."

The committee's recommendation will be considered by the full bridge board for official action.

Recognition of unions by public districts was permitted under a 1968 state law, which specified mediation procedures in case disputed, but made no provision of the right to strike.

The district traditionally has paid prevailing union and wage benefit scales.

Del Carlo cited the district's 1967 fight over the firing of two Negro painters as "a lot of crud that never should have happened." Under the committee's recommendation, the general manager would work out such disputes with the union, Del Carlo said. Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring spoke in favor of union recognition.

Selling of Christmas seals for charity is said to have originated in Denmark where in 1904 a postal clerk thought of the idea of selling a special stamp for the benefit of a children's hospital in Copenhagen.

College Minorities Fund Lack Deplored

A Sonoma State College spokesman yesterday joined four other state college representatives in calling for increased state aid for minority students, warning that economic opportunity programs will collapse otherwise.

Greene Farmer, coordinator of the Hidden Talent project at Sonoma State, joined his counterparts from San Francisco State, CalState at Hayward and San Jose State, at a press conference in San Francisco.

All called for more state aid to make up federal funds that have been cut drastically. "Governor Reagan is responsible for cutting out additional EOP funding which had been provided in the state college chancellors budget," Farmer charged.

"The chancellor recognized the vital need for these programs on state college campuses, but the governor bluepencilled them," he said. "Even what the chancellor had proposed for the 18 state colleges was inadequate."

The Hidden Talent program that Farmer directs at Sonoma State allows minority students who show promise to be admitted although they don't meet the minimum entrance requirements.

Reporting the frustrations of the students on the low budget program, Farmer implied that if more funds are not made available, a mass march on Sacramento may be organized.

Antinarcotics Classes Slated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Starting Monday, students at six San Francisco junior high and high schools will take experimental courses dealing with narcotics.

George Canrinus, who coordinates the health, physical education, athletic and recreation programs for the school system, said yesterday: "Our whole approach is preventive . . . In the long run the kids will have to decide for themselves."

In another move against narcotics, the system has trained a teacher at each school to be a drug expert.

Townhouse Idea Held Too Costly

Marin Development Co. was handed some harsh words at last night's Marin City Council meeting, receiving a suggestion that it be found in default of its contract to develop the community and getting rapped for its plans to build 17 townhouses.

The default issue — raised as a result of postponed action — drew regretful acknowledgment that at this time Marin Development, formerly California Development Corp., is the only developer interested in Marin City.

Objections to the townhouses ranged from a charge that they wouldn't meet the need of the community to the contention that they wouldn't provide the feeling of home ownership.

There were protests that the cost of the homes would be too high for Marin City residents, and a call for the developer to cut his profits.

Attorney Richard M. Adams, representing Marin Development, explained preliminary plans to construct the homes.

Two, three and four-bedroom homes would be constructed on a four-acre bluff along the north side of Donahue Street, opposite Buckelew Street, overlooking Richardson Bay.

Adams estimated the homes would cost about $20,000 or $21,000 for the smallest units to about $23,000 for largest units. Down payments for the smallest units would be around $600 or $700 and for the largest units, $1,400 to $1,500, he estimated.

If they were approved by the Marin County Redevelopment Agency, work could start this summer, but first the firm wanted to get the community's reaction, Adams said.

Residents complained that the houses were "jammed up" on small lots and, with one side yard for each owner, wouldn't give the owner the feeling of owning a home.

"It doesn't spell home to me," said Councilman Collie Gaines. "If the obligation is to serve the people in Marin City, I don't think it's going to work.

Several residents expressed a desire for tract-type homes on larger lots, but Adams replied that this would drive the costs up.

Architect Karl Treffinger explained that the houses would be constructed "in pairs" but there would be space between the pairs.

The intent is not only to build homes for Marin City residents, but also to attract buyers into the community from outside, Adams said. "If they were successful, we'd build more and expand the community," he asserted.

Gabe Jackson of 732 Drake Avenue said on a mass level the people of Marin City couldn't afford to buy the proposed houses.

Donald O. Stutsman, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority, noted that housing is needed for persons in public housing whose income rises enough to disqualify them for public housing.

Mrs. Gaines replied that usually the gain in income was enough to enable such persons to pay $150 a month plus taxes.

Stutsman said the intent is to offer home ownership to residents, and "this is a pilot project" offering it at the lowest possible costs. It's not a solution to the housing needs of the community, but a chance to test the market for such housing, he contended.

Jackson said the townhouses plan wasn't acceptable, and the firm should construct housing that fits the income of Marin City residents.

Adams said he needed to know how much more housing is needed by residents of Marin City, what they can afford to pay and what housing programs are available to meet the need.

"We don't want to proceed if we don't have community support," Adams commented.

Jackson said lots should be offered for sale "so the community would have a fair shake to make arrangement to purchase them. He also called for tract homes, at not more than $20,000.

After firm's plans for the 17 townhouses were riddled with criticism, the role of the firm itself was challenged.

Councilmember Ronald Foster felt the Marin County Redevelopment Agency should dissolve the firm's contract "and start from zero."

The council voted unanimously to ask the agency why Marin Developmetn Co. hasn't been found in default of its contract.

Action came after Stutsman reported that the firm has been granted four extensions of the dates scheduled for it to buy land.

Under the current schedule, the firm is scheduled "to take" land, outside two commercial parcels, next month, Stutsman said, but he couldn't recall the exact date.

Foster asked why the firm hasn't been found in default in the past.

James O. Quiett, redevelopment agency chairman, said: "I'm as perturbed as anyone else about delays, but we haven't had anyone else who wants to develop Marin City."

If Marin Development Co. was ruled out, "then we have nobody," Quiett said. He conceded it was a mistake to be limited to one developer, and would have been better to have two developers available. "I'm in favor of seeing anybody go ahead and develop."

Alvis Allen, a resident, said he was bothered because development was being planned by people from outside the community and felt community residents should be involved.

Attending the meeting at the Manzanita Center were Marin City Community Services District directors Douglas J. Quiett, Alvin C. Bynum, Dorthea Mitchell and Frank Phillips Sr., who is also a member of the Marin City Council.

Travel Crisis By 1990 For Marin

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — Bigger highways and new transit systems will be needed between Marin and San Francisco by 1990, or new jobs and new residents will go elsewhere, the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission said yesterday.

"Person trips" across the Golden Gate corridor for work purposes will jump to 145,000 a day by 1990, up from 46,000 in 1965, and from 87,000 in 1965 to 297,000 in 1990 for all purposes, the commission agreed in adoption of a chapter of its final report.

Widening Highway 101 and improving bus and water transportation would be "perhaps adequate ot 1990 if there is unexpectedly high usage of transit," the BATSC report concluded. But it added transit "will have to be considerably more attractive than many believe possible" to carry the load if no new highways are built.

To illustrate that most Marinites will continue to work outside the county, the report noted by 1990 Marin will have 800 residents per square mile, but only 200 employees per square mile.

Yesterday's adoption of the chapter on "network evaluation" was the last in a series of chapter-by-chaper reviews of the final report, due before the legislature next month. A final review of the complete report was set for June 3 at the Hotel Claremont, Berkeley.

New Area Chief For Marin CHP

Lyons, a native of Tacoma, is a former Marin resident. He was a real estate man in San Anselmo from 1949 to 1951. He also served in the Marin highway patrol office from 1955 through 1957 as a traffic officer. In 18 years in the patrol he has also served in East Los Angeles, Crescent City, Fresno and Indio, his last post.

He replaces Capt. Robert M. Hartman, who took over the command in January. Hartman, who has spent much of his career in the central valley, has been reassigned to Modesto at his request.

Lyons, who is single, served as a Coast Guard radioman for five years during World War II.

Cambodia To Raise Cong Relationship

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian Foreign Ministry announced today it has been agreed to raise diplomatic relations with the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front to embassy level.

At a news conference later, Nguyen Van Hieu, the NLF representative in Phnom Penh, avoided a direct reply to questions about the presence of Viet Cong forces in Cambodia, and their eventual evacuation, saying that relations between the NLF and Cambodia are very good and could develop even more after the end of the war.

Peace-Marching Airman Challenges Air Force Ban

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Attorneys for Airman Michael R. Locks, 25-year-old former San Anselmo resident who was sentenced to a year at hard labor for wearing a uniform in a peace march, yesterday asked a federal judge to remove him from custody and rule on the constitutionality of the Air Force order Locks violated.

U.S. District Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli heard the case and took it under submission. A ruling is expected after Monday.

Locks has been confined since being convicted Feb. 8. His attorneys argue that the Uniform Code of Military Justice says that the punishment of any military man sentenced to more than one year in confinement must be suspended until the higher military appeals courts review his sentence.

In addition to the year at hard labor, Locks was sentenced to forfeiture of all pay and allowances, reduction to airman basic and a bad conduct discharge.

His case is now in the hands of the military board of review in Washington, D.C., his attorney, Richard J. Werthimer, said yesterday.

Locks has also joined two other Hamilton Air Force Base airmen as plaintiffs in another case, Werthimer reported.

A petition was brought by Locks, John R. Bright and Charles A. Williams on behalf of all uniformed men who want to protest in uniform. Bright and Williams wish to march in uniform in a May 30 peace march in San Francisco.

Old Petaluma Mansion Built In 1904

The classic Victorian mansion at 400 Washington Street, Petaluma, torn down this week to make room for a service station, was originally the home of the late D. J. Healey, owner of a semipro baseball team in Petaluma.

The mansion, which in later years housed the Sorenson Funeral Home, was built by Healey in 1904, the last surviving member of his family reported The Independent-Journal had reported the mansion was a century old.

Earl F. Healey, the last of five children of D. J. Healey, recalled the house was built by day labor and took a year. It originally had five bedrooms, two dining rooms, two living rooms, and, to the delight of the children, an attic large enough to roller skate in.

Healey, who now lives in San Francisco, said it was the family residence for many years and later was leased to the Sorenson Funeral Home. Later, the mortuary bought the property. It is now owned by the Union Oil Co.

Florist Looted

Burns Florists of 1230 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, was burglarized of $200 between 10 p.m. yesterday and 7 a.m. today, police reported. Thieves gained entrance by prying open a sliding foor on the east side of the building.

Ross Hospital Sets Student Career Day

THE HUSKIES OF INTERIOR ALASKA ARE FACING STARVATION

THIS CALL comes from Alaska . . . from the natives who are watching their faithful huskies die of malnutrition because the fish runs in the rivers on which they depend are sapped and depleted — from March until June — by the great salmon fisheries along the coastline and the Russian and Japanese fishing fleets in the Arctic Ocean and the Bering Sea.

Now the interior villages are snowed in, some completely isolated and practically immobilized by paralyzing cold reaching 50 and 60 degrees below zero. Supplies are running low, the dog food long gone, and the natives must ration their own food as they wait out the days. Some dogs have died, many have that lean and hungry look. The time is again at hand for their friends to come to the rescue -- to fly tons and tons of dog food to these villages — and save the lives of the huskies! Will you help? Will you send your mite to keep alive some of the finest breed of dog that ever lent its strength and loyalty to mankind?

PLEASE!

Marin Dining And Wining

Special Mother's Day Menus Ready At Marin Restaurants

May 2 came and passed by before I realized Ramona Stallings had entered her 10th year at 1025 C Street, San Rafael — so I am a week late in mentioning it.

And with all the people crowding her tables these days it's a wonder that she even thought to say something about it. Anyway she deserves congratulations for nine years well done.

There have been a few changes since her little Mexican restaurant opened in 1960. And all the changes have been improvements. A thriving restaurant in Marin County isn't built in a day and even those few that seem to take off in a flying start usually have to make an adjustment to the long haul sooner or later.

That good looking young fellow now waiting tables is Pablito Castro, the son of Pablo Castro, Ramona's talented troubador. From Chile, Pablito studies at the College of Marin.

AS I HAVE MENTIONED before, the two biggest days of service for restaurants during the year are Easter and Mother's Day. They are about equally divided on which gets the biggest turnout.

At the Peacock in Novato, owners Walt and Jae Soon Del Rose have their busiest time on Mother's Day. It's quite possible this Sunday will surpass the records of prior years.

Chefs Lom Hin and George Yin will prepare prime rib of beef and all the accessories for the American taste at $3.95 and there will also be a child's special. If your taste is for Eastern fare, Lom is featuring a Cantonese dinner with soup, sesame chicken (breast of capon dipped in special butter, deep fried and appropriately garnished), sweet and sour pork, chicken almond, fried prawns, barbecued pork, fried rice, dessert and beverage at $3.75. Other menu listings will be served, too — both American and Chinese. Reservations are strongly recommended.

And as part of the atmosphere, I'm sure you won't miss the new waitress here who looks as though she might have stepped off the screen from Sayonara, leaving Red Buttons behind her.

MOTHER'S DAY HOURS at Rubini's in Fairfax this Sunday are a little earlier. Cocktail service starts at 3 p.m. and dinner at 4.

HOURS FROM 1 to 9 p.m. will be observed for Mother's Day dinner at Lin Fa Gardens, Northgate Shopping Center. Regular menu will be served, with no change in prices. And Lin Fa will then close Monday, May 13.

IF YOU WANT A DRIVE in the country on Mother's Day, but not too far, consider the relaxing qualities of Oak Tree Inn at San Geronimo.

Owners Dee and Ray Brunal will depart from their regular menu this Sunday and offer roast beef, ham and chicken as specials. Complete dinner is $4 and children's menu is $2.

FEATURED Mother's Day dinner entree at Jean's Kitchen in Ross is prime rib of beef. For two persons, with homemade soup, salad and some of Jean Dobson's homemade apple pie, the tab is $6.25. Dinner service from 2 p.m.

Jean will also serve a special breakfast this Sunday from 9 a.m. at $1.50.

ANJO'S at 535 Fourth Street, San Rafael will serve dinner from 3 p.m. from the regular menu. There'll be a big Mother's Day cake on hand — baked by Patti.

CAFE BON VIN in San Anselmo will serve this Sunday from noon, with a number of culinary surprises for visiting mothers and wives. And with an appropriate gesture, Fred Cherry has dubbed his specially created wine cocktail for this day "The Whistler." Recipe is a secret. Even his own mother won't tell the recipe — and it was her favorite.

Next California Night is May 29 — not May 22, as I said last week. I thought it was the fourth Thursday in the month and forgot that May has five. This time the wines of Buena Vista Winery will be featured, with head chemist and enologist Rene Lacasia doing the commentary. Price for all wines and banquet is $8.50. Reservations are going fast.

THE UNFORTUNATE flash fire which damaged the kitchen at Sabella's last Sunday evening has closed the restaurant for this Mother's Day. But Lou Sabella hopes he'll be able to make a reopening between next Tuesday and Thursday. Special custom replacement equipment is being flown in from Chicago.

SAN ANSELMO'S NEW DINERY, Senior Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant at 115 San Anselmo Avenue, will celebrate its grand opening Tuesday through Sunday next week. For the occasion, champagne will be served with each dinner.

Owner Al Barthel has gone to great lengths to make this a cozy, attractive place with the standard manu favorites from south of the border. If you don't see what you want, ask for it.

OUT AT THE COAST, Mike Considine has withdrawn from the Marshall Hotel, leaving Tom Storer as the principal in this operation. He has taken on as manager and co-proprietor Sheila Dempster, who has been with the Glad Hand for about 10 years.

Dinners continue on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, ending at about 10:30 Friday and Saturday and at 8 p.m. on Sunday. Dining room is open both Saturday and Sunday for lunches. The hotel dining room is being used, but there are times when there is a dinner overflow, which is accommodated in the tavern dining area.

John Stewart and Buffie Ford entertain on Friday and Saturday nights.

MEANWHILE, STEWART, whose latest recording is "Mother Country" on Capitol Records is performing with Miss Ford at Gatsby's in Sausalito on Monday and Tuesday nights. Their show starts at 9 p.m.

Also performing at Gatsby's is the Jeannie Hoffman Trio Wednesday through Sunday nights, starting at 9:30. Jeannie is playing with Nat Johnson (who won the largest vote for representation on the Sausalito School Board) on bass, and Al Pimentil, formerly with the George Duke Trio, on drums.

THE FRESH CRAB SEASON draws to a close May 15, and Franchini's Chateau, which makes a specialty of fresh crab cioppino, will take it off the menu after tomorrow night. After that you'll have to wait until November.

Franchini's, as mentioned last week, will give full observance to Mother's Day, with family brunch and dinner.

FAMILY BURGER DRIVE IN, San Rafael, is still celebrating its opening where King Cotton used to be on Francisco Boulevard. This weekend it is offering free pony rides to youngsters, free tickets to the circus (while they last) and free baby burgers and cokes to children under 12, accompanied by parents ordering dinner.

$24,000 Is Outlay For Health Unit

A budget of about $24,000 for the fiscal year beginning in July has been approved by the Marin County Comprehensive Health Planning Council.

Most of the money will be asked from the board of supervisors, though attempts may be made to raise part of it privately, according to Dr. Arthur Ablin, council chairman.

He said most of the budget is for salaries, for a health planner and a secretary. Neither has been hired and the council will not actively seek any employees until funding is approved, said Dr. Ablin.

In other business at a meeting Wednesday, the council learned it must remain in the North Bay Comprehensive Health Planning Council for at least another year, Dr. Ablin reported.

He said the local council had hoped to be individually funded, but agreed that for the present, more could be done by remaining with the larger group which has a public health grant.

The health planning council is designed to coordinate use of federal health care dollars.

To Ask Removal Of Three Trees

Larkspur Park and Recreation commissioners have voted unanimously to ask removal of three eucalyptus trees at the corner of Magnolia Avenue and Dartmouth Drive, because with the present widening of Magnolia to four lanes they constitute a menace.

Ninety persons had signed a petition opposing the cutting, commissioner Arnold M. Mayer reported.

The resignation of chairman Robert V. Golden was submitted at city hall prior to Wednesday's meeting and so commissioner James Lienkaemper assumed chairmanship at the session.

Fishing Fines

Lt. Col. Victor C. Taylor, 47, of 631-B, Fort Baker and Glenn S. Alley, 50, of San Leandro, were fined $50 each in Northwest Marin Justice Court Wednesday for taking an over limit of abalone from a Point Reyes beach on May 4, court clerk Stella Phillipscheck reported yesterday. The abalone limit is five.

Ross Brings Its Dogs Somewhat To Heel

Ross councilmen last night indicated they will adopt a watered-down version of the proposed countywide animal control ordinance in an attempt to curb the flood of complaints to the council in recent months.

The new ordinance will include raising the annual license fee from $4 to $5 (except for spayed females which will be $2.50), will make animal control officers "peace officers" and will raise redemption fees for animals picked up to $7 for the first offense and $10 thereafter.

The new ordinance, however, will not include a fourth recommendation by the county that all animals must be under the direct control of a responsible person.

"We don't want a leash law," councilman Roy Farrington Jones protested. "In fact, I don't see any need for a new ordinance at all. What we need to do is enforce the old one."

Jones was joined in opposition to the fourth proposal by councilmen Ralph Walker and W. James Dawson. Mayor Frederick S. Allen and councilman Natalie Lewis favored it.

The new ordinance will also reduce the number of persons it takes to make a complaint against an animal from three to one.

"In the past it has just been impossible to get three people to sign a complaint," Eliott said. However, in addition to the person making the complaint, the violation must be verified by a public servant such as a policeman or animal control officer, under the new ordinance.

The new ordinance will also require that females in heat be kept under control.

Even as the council labored over the new ordinance, complaints continued to pour in.

Mrs. Bobbie Goldenberg told the ouncilmen that "six to eight dogs broke through my fence and tore apart my back door trying to get to my female."

Mayor Allen took time out from deliberations to suggest that Mrs. Goldenberg's dog "be put on the pill" which is supposed to somewhat lessen its attraction to males.

The issue was even more dramatically called to the council's attention when a medium-sized dog burst through the council chamber's door twice during the meeting and disrupted the session for nearly 10 minutes.

The Ross Town Council also:

APPROVED FUNDS — Approved allocation of $550 to the summer recreation program, headed by Mrs. John H. Robinson. The money has been allocated each year, but has not been spent by the program since 1966.

SUBDIVISION — Approved the subdivision of 6.6 acres of land bordered by Shady Lane and Lagunitas into five separate lots. The land is owned by A. Crawford Greene, Jr. Approval was 4-0 with Mrs. Lewis abstaining since she is involved in the land transaction.

ROOM ADDITION — Approved a varrance to allow Henry E. Martens to construct an extra room onto his residence at 35 Spring Road.

HOSPITAL REQUEST — Held over action on a request by Ross General Hospital to add to its present facility by building on adjacent property now zoned residential.

OPEN HOUSE — Decided to hold open house at the town's fire station Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., weather permitting.

APPOINTMENT — Named new councilman Ralph Walker to replace Jack Carny as the town's representative on the City-County Planning Commission.

Mia's Brother Is Held For Drugs

Sheriff's deputies said they went to Farrow's home to serve a traffic warrant on a man who had been staying with Farrow.

Deputies George Grap and Ray Wilkie said Farrow invited them inside and told them his friend was not home. However, the deputies saw what they said were peyote and marijuana plants growing in the home and arrested Farrow.

Farrow, a self-employed writer, was booked on possession and cultivation of marijuana and peyote.

Sniper Wounds Freeway Driver

Doctors at Highland Hospital said today that Lemuel G. Buster, 26, was in serious condition and that they had removed a .38-caliber slug from his head.

Sgt. Roy Anderson of the police homicide detail, said his men had not been able yet to determine from where the bullet came when it hit Buster late Wednesday near Beaumont Avenue.

Buster's wife, Lonnie, 23, grabbed the steering wheel as her husband slumped on his seat, but was unable to prevent the car from striking two others before coming to a halt.

Freeway Widening Is 25 Per Cent Done

The Highway 101 widening project in San Rafael is expected to be completed late this year or early next year, the state Division of Highways has reported in its District Four newsletter.

The job to widen the freeway from four to six lanes for a two-mile stretch from Third Street to North San Pedro Road is 25 per cent complete, the division reported.

In addition to the highway widening, a collector road is being constructed from Third Street to Mission Avenue, a pedestrian overcrossing will be built near Coleman School and improvements are being made to the North San Pedro Road interchange.

The job of constructing a southbound viaduct in San Rafael is tentatively scheduled to go to bid June 11, with $3.2 million budgeted for the project, the division noted.

"Two years will be required to complete this contract (the viaduct) which together with other projects underway will greatly ease the congestion now occurring on Highway 101 through San Rafael."

When completed the new viaduct, built for four lanes, will be used for three southbound lanes of traffic while the existing viaduct will carry three northbound lanes.

Reporting on Shoreline Highway projects, the division reported that $49,000 has been budgeted for safety modifications a half mile east of Muir Woods, cutting back of curves and installation of a guard rail for a half-mile stretch.

Bids are scheduled to be opened Wednesday on widening of Shoreline Highway and installation of a half-mile guard rails about a mile south of Stinson Beach.

Additional work along the route will include widening and constructing left turn storage lanes at Panoramic Highway and the main entrance to Stinson Beach State Park.

Work is nearing completion on the $138,000 project to construct a bridge and approach across Novato Creek on Novato Boulevard, two miles west of Highway 101.

Petaluma Police Dog On Display

Tours and a police dog demonstration Sunday will highlight the Petaluma observance of National Police Week.

Police Chief Larry D. Higgins said "arko," a department dog, will show his skills Sunday at 4 p.m. in front of City Hall and again May 17 at 4 p.m. The dog is handled by officer Al Fambrini.

Tours of the department and jail are planned Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m.; Monday from 7 to 9 p.m.; May 16 from 7 to 9 p.m. and May 17 from 1 to 4 p.m.

Linguist Links Breathing To Learning English

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A linguist says Spanish speaking children have to learn a new way of breathing before they can speak English properly.

Leonard Olguin told the state Board of Education yesterday that Mexicans do not exhale as much air speaking Spanish as English-speaking persons do.

"English-speaking people gush all over," he said.

However, he said Mexican-American children have to learn to exhale more to properly make such sounds as "pd" "b" and "ch."

Setback Sought For New House

The Larkspur Planning Commission will hold a hearing at 8 p.m. Tuesday on the variance application from Robert Le Vesque for a 11-foot, three-inch setback for his proposed dwelling and no setback for his garage at 16 Ardmore Avenue. The setback requirement is 25 feet.

A change of zoning from light industrial to commercial will be sought on the R. C. Doherty property at 1 Doherty Drive and the Pell Development Co., San Rafael, will request a grading permit for its proposed 316-unit apartment complex on Skylark Drive.

City Should Call Bids On Francisco Property

The City of San Rafael, which for nearly two years couldn't get an offer for its Francisco Boulevard corporation yard property, now is suffering from an embarrassment of riches.

No sooner had one pair of auto dealers offered a bid for part of the property, through a real estate broker, than along came another pair — who already have their salesrooms on Francisco Boulevard and perhaps would like to keep out competition — with a higher offer.

The result was that the city council, which had rather too hastily accepted the first bid and might have already sold the property except for objections by City Atty. David Menary to some of the terms of sale, put the whole thing over until May 19.

THE COURSE the council should now follow appears pretty clear: The property should be put up for bid at public sale, divided into several saleable parcels which may be bid on separately or combined. Any other approach is likely to leave the council open to charges of favoritism.

The city council first considered sale of surplus corporation yard property when planning for the new city hall was under way. Councilmen throught the money might be needed to finance the new hall. When it was not, nothing further was done on the sale, but meantime all of the city-owned property along Francisco Boulevard and the canal which was not in use by the city itself had been put under short-term lease, to make its sale possible.

ON NOV. 22, 1966, the city offered to swap corporation yard property to the county for the courthouse square. The then-board of supervisors made no response to the offer.

Two months later, the council decided to put the property up for sale. An appraisal was ordered, and on May 15, 1967, the council by 3-2 vote listed the property with the Marin County Real Estate Board. Interestingly enough, the two dissenters to that plan were Harry A. Barbier and John A. Miskimen, both of whom were ready to grab the first offer from two auto dealers when it was made in March of this year.

That first offer came on the heels of a "feeler" from the county board of supervisors, which — with four new members — thought talk of a courthouse square swap might be worthwhile. Perhaps a little heady over receiving a more-or-less cash offer, councilmen this time were as lofty about talking swap as supervisors were in '66.

THE QUICK AGREEMENT to the first offer brought some immediate objections, however. When councilmen pointed out the land had been on the market for nearly two years, there were several who reported there had been no indication the city was willing to sell it off by parcels — as was proposed in the auto dealers' offer for only about half of the total 7.8 acres.

This, coupled with the quick follow-up offer from two other auto dealers, makes it appear the city would be unwise to sell any part of the property without first calling for public bids on all of it — and allowing subdivision which would enable various potential buyers to bid on the pieces they want.

Incidentally, the price offered for about half the property indicates the trade of the courthouse square for all of it might not be a bad swap.

Seismologists And Seers

Glory be! We made it through April without a major earthquake in the urban areas of California, despite the dire predictions of the dealers in occult phenomena.

California probably will suffer another quake of the same order of intensity as the 1906 temblor sometime. Most seismologists say it could come any time in the next 30 years. That's a far cry from the seers, who profess to know the exact time.

We are skeptical of psychic calamity howlers. They take a perverse pleasure in frightening people.

The scientists most knowledgable about earthquakes state that at present there is no way of predicting quakes.

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—What may turn out to be an improvement in procedures for school financing is contemplated in legislation being introduced by Assemblyman John Quimby, D-Rialto.

Quimby says there is an "overwhelming assortment" of legislative proposals which only tend to confuse the problem.

"AT PRESENT," Quimby said, "there are more than 50 measures facing the legislature, all of which propose to solve education's fiscal crisis, yet all these bills are doing is slowing the legislative process.

"Each bill must be considered by legislative committees, and since there are similarities in each measure, the committees are delaying passage on individual proposals to come up with a final plan.

"Apparently some lawmakers don't realize that school districts must have their budgets approved by mid-year, and any major delay in state legislation will not give the schools time enough to include whatever relief the state offers in their budgets."

QUIMBY'S SOLUTION is creation of a special joint legislative finance committee to develop school finance bills, which would be introduced at the beginning of each session. Only those bills would be considered during the general session.

"There is no reason why the legislature cannot establish a firm program based on previous interim hearings so that school financing can be accomplished in the first months of each legislative session," he declared.

"Instead, we're being engulfed with numerous proposals throughout the session, and in the final days, the legislature must rush through a financing program which, in most instances, has problems.

"The tragedy of the thing is that when the programs are implemented, inequities are discovered which should have been found if there had been time for serious study."

STATE AID, Quimby said, is becoming increasingly important to the school districts as school taxes are skyrocketing and voters are rejecting local financing programs.

"But what good is state aid if it comes in piecemeal sizes, with flaws, and at times when districts already have approved their budgets?" he asks.

He points out that a somewhat similar procedure is followed in relation to the executive budget, which is prepared and ready for introduction during the first 30 days of the legislative session.

At least, the Quimby proposal if adopted, would end some of the confusion encountered by the school districts.

Muir Beach Owners Oppose 'Happenings'

It seems that if you don't listen to the radio nowadays you have no idea what might be happening, even in your own backyard.

My husband and I are two of the owners of Muir Beach Resort. Saturday evening we were told that KMPX was announcing a rock concert to be held at Muir Beach Sunday, April 27. So we tuned in to KMPX and found it was true, "Sounds Unlimited Presents —."

We had never heard of Sounds Unlimited, had not been contacted by them, had not agreed that the concert should be put on. Saturday evening we did everything we could to try to prevent it, but it was too late, the word was out.

Sunday, Muir Beach was a mess. The usual sunny-Sunday crowd, augmented by thousands lured to the beach via KMPX, created a record traffic jam, and a really bad scene for many beach residents.

I want your readers to know that it was not the owners of Muir Beach who promoted this rock concert. It was advertised without our knowledge or permission, and we are making every effort to prevent any other such happening.

Interest Rates And Bond Issues

Thank you for your editorial of May 5 in which you point out the failure of high interest rates to control inflation.

In a credit economy such as ours, interest is probably the most pervasive of all costs. Interest is, itself, a price; and it has always seemed strange to me that raising a price which virtually forces a rise in other prices should be relied upon to reduce prices.

The same thing may be said of raising taxes. Taxes are a cost factor — ask any businessman. And, since the various governments invariably spend the taxes they collect, how on earth can it be argued that taxes reduce demand?

The result of our high interest policy has been the enrichment of banks and other financial institutions, along with the tragic effects it has had at all levels of government, as you pointed out in your editorial.

Right now, interest alone ranks very near the top of all federal expenditure items. And it is higher on the lists of state and local governments than many of us realize.

Still, government officials, high and low, seem powerless to resist the lure of bond issues.

A local case in point is the current campaign for an $800,000 bond issue for the Tamalpais Valley Fire District. Even a county supervisor, brought to a recent meeting as a neutral moderator, could not hold himself back from enthusiastically endorsing this issue.

Yet, if that bond issue is passed, the cost to the Fire Protection District will not be $800,000. Assuming a 5 per cent rate and a bond-life of thirty years, the cost will be $1,400,000. . . .

Since both interest and principal must be paid, the average cost of servicing this bond issue will be $46,666 per year. For the next 30 years. . . .

Still, improvements are needed. In the Tamalpais Fire District and elsewhere. Your suggestion that governmental spending be cut has its limits, too.

Necessary maintainance and improvements, if delayed, only cost more when finally they must be financed.

There is an answer, it seems to me.

By levying exactly the same tax which would be necessary to retire the proposed bond issued described above, the Tamalpais Fire District Board could amass in less than 15 years an amount large enough to pay for the proposed improvements.

To say that 15 years is too long to wait is to gloss over the fact that such a reserve-building program could easily have been started 15 years ago. It is also to ignore the fact that the more pressing jobs could be done on a priority basis — the job need not wait until the entire sum is amassed.

Flood Problem Simply Solved

After too long a time of wonderment, I finally understand the Army Engineers (and I hesitate to use the term engineers).

Marty Kent Jones and her valiant co-workers were doomed to failure in their brave effort to save a lovely wooded stream. Because, in order to perpetuate available jobs, this department of the (not our) government must continue to denude the countryside, and thus create more flood areas. With the removal of century-old trees and their attendant vines and native shrubs, and replacement with concrete and cyclone fences (threaded with green vinyl) there is naturally a further runoff, and so the beaver complex is once again demonstrated.

In this past winter of double the normal rainfall, minimal flooding occurred. There were no treacherously high tides coinciding with a high level in our streams. So there always was a way for the rain-swollen creeks to empty into the bay.

If a catch-basin were provided, so that potential flood waters could be safely contained until the tide was low (as the marshlands used to function) and then released into the ocean, there would be no problem.

But, how could the army provide a career for their engineers (?) with a one-shot treatment of a simple problem? So, we in Marin must pay the terrible price of being in their busy-work area.

(Editor's note: The Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project, which includes concreting of the lower portion of Tamalpais Creek where it flows into Corte Madera Creek, was not proposed nor promoted by the Army Corps of Engineers. It was undertaken at the behest of Marin County, and through the efforts of Rep. Don H. Clausen — at the request of the county — in obtaining appropriation of funds.)

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — There is new evidence that direct election of the President could virtually be assured if Congress submits the amendment to popularly elected state conventions, as it has the right to do.

The new evidence is that public support for direct election is even higher in the smaller states — where many persons expected greater opposition — than in the big population states.

THE SITUATION is this:

But there are honest doubts as to whether three-fourths of the state legislatures — especially those in the smaller population states — would approve and this has caused some, including President Nixon, to turn away from the best solution to a second-best solution.

It is evident that no thorough consideration has been given to submitting a direct-election amendment to state conventions instead of to the state legislatures. Article V of the Constitution gives Congress that choice and it's been done before.

THE REASON Congress would be well advised to use the state convention method is that popular opinion is more likely to favor direct election of the Presdient than state legislative opinion, at least in the smaller population states, of which only 13 would have to oppose the amendment to defeat it.

But there has been one doubt on this point and now this can be cleared away. The doubt was this: even though the Gallup Poll shows that, nationwide, 81 per cent approve direct election, might not public opinion in the smaller population states, which get some advantage in the present system, be more evenly divided and more inclined to keep the electoral college?

After the Gallup Poll showed that the nation as a whole supported a direct election amendment by 81 per cent, we asked the Gallup organization if they had a sufficient state-by-state breakdown to determine whether 81 per cent national average varied greatly between larger and smaller states. They provided us with the following information:

Question: Would you approve or disapprove of an amendment to the Constitution which would do away with the electoral college and base the election of a President on the total vote cast throughout the nation?

National: Approve, 81 per cent; disapprove, 12; don't know, 7.

Twelve most populous states: Approve, 79; disapprove, 13; don't know, 8.

THIS REPORT resolves the central doubt about the advantage of submitting a direct-election amendment to popularly elected state conventions. The doubt was that public opinion in the smaller states might not parallel that of the nation and prove to be so divided as to exert little impact on state ratifying conventions.

This is now shown not to be the fact and makes the case for utilizing the state convention method of ratification impressive. It would seem that the supporters of direct election in Congress would be doing their own cause a great disservice by neglecting this approach.

AN EDUCATOR'S VIEW

Hiring Plan Forces Out Strong College Presidents

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
Professor of Education
San Jose State College

College presidencies are going begging these days. With the office virtually emasculated very few qualified candidates are willing to submit to the indignities required for survival in the job. Consequently, the number of vacancies in the position reported across the nation has reached an all-time high.

Deterioration of the office should not come as a surprise to anyone, who, through the payment of his taxes, defrays the salary of a college or university president. It has been obvious for several years that many of the chief administrative officers of the nation's colleges and universities have been unable to cope with their responsibilities. And for good reason.

TRUSTEES of these institutions of higher learning have increased the responsibilities of the presidents, but have gutted the office of president of the necessary authority. In fact, the authority has been given to or assumed by the tenure-sheltered faculties. Therefore, because they cannot overcome the handicaps of the vulnerable position in which they have been placed by trustees, college and university presidents, in droves, are abandoning their ships.

It takes no unreasonable stretch of the imagination to conclude that much of today's campus turmoil can be traced to the system by which chief school administrators are selected. The corrupt procedure has become widespread over the nation.

The plan is set in motion by a board of trustees authorizing a college faculty to elect members to a presidential selection committee. This is tantamount to giving the faculty authority to hire its own boss. And, where the system has been applied, the faculties have also presumed they have authority to fire a boss they have hired if he departs slightly from the faculty line.

PROPONENTS of the plan defend it with the pious platitude that a chief college administrator secured by a faculty screening and selection committee will thus become the faculties' president. But in practice he becomes the faculties' lackey.

A board of college trustees has no other function more important than that of hiring its chief school administrator. Its success in converting the public's mandates into reality depends on the quality of performance and degree of loyalty of the school executive they employ. However, in permitting faculty representatives to serve on presidential selection committees the trustees force the president's allegiance to the faculties. And when disputes develop, presidents cast their lot with the faculties — against the trustees. Thus, a crucial link in the chain of command between the trustees and its employees is broken. And the college campus soon becomes an enclave of anarchy.

IN ADDITION to faculty demands for representation on presidential selection committees, students are clammoring for the same privilege. Unless college and universi5y trustees and regents learn from the lessons of history, all of us will be forced to relive it.

No doubt an abrupt departure from the current hiring practice would elicit faculty weeping and wailing. But the alternative is continuation of campus subversion, revolution, and a general state of anarchy. After all, would it be unreasonable to expect school employees to channel all their energies and talents into the jobs for which they were hired? That is, would it be unreasonable to expect administrators to administer, teachers to teach, and students to study?

Never Ask A Tennis Player To Give Up Use Of The Court

The pundits say the 20th Century will go down in history as the space age. In reference to America, it should go down as the public opinion poll age. Today you can't sit down, stand up, get on or off a bus, buy a cereal, watch a television show, vote, not vote, get married or die without someone trying to collect a sampling of your opinion.

This seems to be particularly true this year in Marin County where organizations and public bodies are obsessed with obtaining the public's opinion, no matter whether it's valid or not.

AN EXAMPLE is the Reed School District, where three public opinion (or parent opinion, if you will) polls are currently underway. One is the long-planned, scientifically tested poll prepared by Mervin Field (of the California Poll) to be distributed by the district's citizens' committee on programs and finances. The second poll, nearly completed now, is being conducted by the Reed District Parents Club to determine parental attitudes toward the district and its programs. The third is a simple questionnaire to be distributed by the staff to find out whether parents are willing to pay school bus fares.

To one who resents questions categorically (particularly those that begin "is that your child?" or "is that your cat?") and believes the federal census is taken far too often, this obsession with opinion taking is nothing more than a waste of a lot of time and money.

However, one poll which, at least to me, appears valid and had interesting results (from the standpoint of idle curosity) is a questionnaire recently distributed to members of the Tiburon Peninsula Club asking attitudes on allowing club facilities to be used for community service projects, particularly by the Boys' Club of Southern Marin.

Of the 216 ballots returned, 60 per cent favored allowing the boys' club to use the peninsula club's swimming facilities and instructions for lessons. Members also supported having the boys club use the baseball diamond but refused them the use of the tennis courts.

THIS VOTE does not indicate any sort of weird discrimination ("We'll let them in the pool but not on the courts") but rather a practical response by tennis players to the problem of crowding of tennis courts, not only at the Tiburon Peninsula Club, but throughout the county.

Few things as quickly raise the passions in the human beast as threatening a tennis player's starting time. The only thing that comes close would be a conservationist's response when told the state has decided to pave over Mount Tamalpais and turn it into a parking lot for tourists going to Sausalito.

THE MILL VALLEY City Council was the cliche user's heaven Monday night as some of the worst cliches of the current group were uttered repeatedly throughout the evening.

"At this point in time" was by far the winner, with a Southern Marin supervisor whom we shall leave unnamed, using the phrase 12 times in a half-hour discussion with the council. The actual total use was higher because the mayor, at least two councilmen and a few members of the audience also got in their share of the phrase.

Others which cause this reporter to shudder are "I just have a couple of questions" (the favorite of audience participants), "guesstimate," and that old, all-time favorite" . . . wise" (planningwise, discussionwise, educationwise, etc.).

Let's everyone get off the dime at this point in time and get squared away, clichewise.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Fusselman

There are a number of clippings before me as I start to write. These particularly stand out and grab ones attention: "County Costs May Toughen Tax Bite," "Mitchell Claims Muzzle Attempt," "Manager Named For Fair-Marin," "Fair Marin To Rent Temporary Office Space," "County Planning Improvements Noted" (a letter to the editor by the lady member of the planning commission, which at first glance seems to be a reasoned defense of Paul C. Zucker, but which on second reading falls rather flat).

The threads running through the group of clippings are the silken ones you can see in the long green when peeling it off at tax time.

Last Friday Auditor-Controller Mike Mitchel tells it like it is or quite likely as it will be. The I-J carried an item recently that Mike was sitting in on the budget preparation with County Administrator Alan Bruce, so knowing Mike and his projections on these things, I would guess that he is pretty close to right, when he says there could be a hike in the tax rate of 21.5 cents, on the $100 valuation, over last year.

COMES IT THEN Bruce with a virtuous statement that it is "irresponsible and very misleading to the public to estimate a tax rate until there is solid information for an estimate to be made, and I am not going to participate in any such estimate." He played a different tune in former years. You know, some of us do remember things that are said from time to time.

He listed some "unknowns on which the tax rate must be based," such as the assessor's estimate of assessed values for the year which will not be known until later this month, and even when this is available, "the assessed values of the utilities, which are done by the state, will not be available."

He should know by now that the taxpayers are wise to his constant harping on tax rate and assessed values. One year he was crying that the assessments were not going to be as high as in former years, so he couldn't keep the rate down.

He is still refusing to talk factually about the dollars you have to pay in. The budget is what is important. If he okays ever higher budgets. You pay more dollars, irrespective of the rate. Then he talks about a carry-over. This year you can ask him "vas ist das?" It ain't. He also talks about budget review by the board and new legislation pending in both the Legislature and Congress — just doesn't want to admit that he is recommending more spending.

THEN FAIR-MARIN is having a manager at $16,000 per year (you know, like transit). And they are renting an office for six months at $128 a month and will hire a secretary. (There just isn't enough room in the administration building?) This is all new this year. Are they paying it, or are you? And $500,000 is needed to complete the auditorium building. (More on that soon.)

Fair-Marin has committed itself to raising $455,000 for seats and stage fixtures. If they pass the hat for that, it will be interesting to watch, after what happened in the attempt to raise funds for the Kent Woodlands creek bit.

Wat Takeshita in his Reporter's Notebook; "The one big hope for some tax relief is the sale of the old courthouse square, as the supervisors have assured that the proceeds would be applied to reduce taxes."

The promise was also made in '58-'59 that no tax money would be used to build and operate the fair grounds on the 80 acres out at Brasilia.

Creek Comment 'Ignorant Barrage'

Your editorial of April 30 has caused my wife, myself and, I sincerely hope, a sizeable number of Marin County residents a great deal of concern and aggravation. It is difficult to determine which specific statement of that obviously ignorant barrage of unthinking verbiage was most offensive. Surely the great mass of it was inaccurate and ill-advised.

I have lived in Marin County for eight years and have been appreciative of its natural beauty for much longer than that. In that eight years I have seen much of that natural beauty shorn away by bulldozers and replaced by concrete and asphalt and much worse than second rate architecture. . . .

Why is it necessary to destroy the great natural beauty which, to our benefit, God has lavished upon this very small portion of our earth?

The residents of Kent Woodlands (regardless of social status) have nothing more in mind than to preserve that beauty and when people such as the students of the College of Marin are called "confused" for volunteering their assistance in that crusade I say that you are violently remiss in your criticism.

Compulsory Water Fluoridation Feared

It is my understanding that Assemblyman John Vasconcellos of San Jose plans to introduce legislation in Sacramento to compel all Californians to drink fluoridated water.

Tooth damaging candies, soft drinks, sugar coated cereals, cakes and cookies, and all refined foods must share the blame for the mounting rate of dental caries.

I would like to ask why must the entire water supply be flouridated?

Why must we use fluoridated water for filling up our many swimming pools, for washing our clothes, our dishes, for watering lawns and shrubs and for fighting the numerous fires that occur? The water commissioner of one of our large cities, claims that for every $1,000 spent to fluoridate the water, only 56 cents worth is used for drinking purposes and only a portion of that by the children whose teeth it is supposed to benefit. . . .

Washington, D. C. water is fluoridated but a great quantity of spring water is delivered regularly to the state buildings.

Reader Uptight On Flood Control

It is simply impossible for me to imagine a more simplistic and destructive attitude than that expressed by the I-J in its editorial of April 30 headed "Creek Affair Exposes Shallow Student Causes." Instead of investigating such pertinent questions as (1) How did this concrete monstrosity come about? (The San Anselmo City Council was right — we were conned into it) (2) What can we do to see that this desecration of our lovely creek be halted immediately? The I-J chooses to bravely launch an attack against Marin's conservationist leaders and Marin's only natural resources — our environment and our children — the students! We should thank the good Lord that we have citizens who care enough to fight to save a few of the beautiful areas that were preserved for them by many of the early Marin Conservationists — such as the Livermores, Kents et al. and that we have a senator, Alan Cranston, who is brave enough at long last to take a stand against the concrete minds and plans of the Army Engineers.

As for your stand against the College of Marin students and your statement that "today's campus demonstrators really have little more deep social commitment than did the panty raids of yesteryears collegians," I can only say, you had better get with it! As the song says: "Something's happening, and you don't know what it is."

As a graduate student returning to U.C. after graduating from Stanford 20 years ago, I can assure you that I have never been more impressed with the utter seriousness and dedication of this generation of students. . . .

Car Theft Report Disturbs Mother

On the night of 28 April our son John George Smith was apprehended by the police in a stolen car. I cannot express the grief this act caused our family and John, because up to that time we had no problems with this boy or any of our seven children. John's humiliation was great and his punishment on his release was to be taken care of by Mr. Smith and I. On returning from the detention home we were deluged with telephone calls by people who had read your article printed in your daily paper. Most of the calls from young people from his school making a joke of this event.

Is news so scarce that a young person's address needs to be printed in a daily paper? You might also have printed that the citizen whose car was stolen had left it unlocked, ignition in the "on" position, and in gear, actually inviting a youngster to steal it. Did he not break a law also? . . .

(Editor's note: Suppose the name John Smith was printed without an address for further identification? How many John Smiths who had stolen no car would thus be wronged?)

Who Are You To Judge Commitment?

Your editorial ("Creek Affair Exposes Shallow Student Causes") hit a new I-J low in the opinion of our family.

There are several false implications in your editorial, which suggested that members of what you call the social "upper crust" led College of Marin students on a dubious conservation effort to save a streambed in a "privileged" area.

You are really out of touch with things in this decade. There is no "social register" worth mentioning in these days—just a people register. That some of these people have a commitment to preserve their environment deserves our deepest gratitude — whether their efforts protect poor or affluent sections of our country.

Your suggestion that College of Marin students are substituting a "shallow" interest in their community for the panty raids of the 40's also shows how retarded your thinking is. Who are you to judge the depth of others' commitments? . . .

Recruiting Students 'Bald-Faced Lie'

I wish to register a vigorous objection to your scurrilous editorial of 30 April, 1969. This opinionated and undocumented diatribe revolves around a bald-faced lie. The kernel of the attack is stated in the second paragraph, namely: "a few wealthy residents of Kentwoodlands have recruited College of Marin students for demonstrations against the Army Corps of Engineers' flood control project".

None of us older people, in what you describe as the "social upper crust", recruited any of the young people at the College of Marin in any way. . .

I am not a lawyer, so that I do not know my legal rights, but I am sure that I am justified in demanding from you a retraction and apology, to be inserted in a prominent place in your paper. Such smear tactics are deplorable in a newspaper and are, in fact, the reason that I have never subscribed to the Independent-Journal in twenty-eight years of residency in Marin County.

JOSEPH B. WHEELWRIGHT, M.D.

Kentfield

(Editor's note: If Dr. Wheelwright were a subscriber and regular reader of the Independent-Journal, no doubt he would have read the stories in the April 17 issue of Marty Kent Jones's appearance before a student group at the college to seek their assistance for the Ad Hoc Committee To Save Tamalpais Creek, and later of her appearance April 25 at a campus rally called by the Black Students Union for the same purpose. Reporters were present at both gatherings, and Mrs. Jones then and since was quite open in recruiting support from the students.)

Logic Attempt Takes Odd Trail

The logic used in your April 30 editorial, concerning the Tamalpais Creek affair was so fascinating I thought I'd try my hand at it. Let's see now — it goes something like this. . . .

If someone decides to use my back yard for a garbage dump, that's my problem. Besides, think of the money they save by not having to make that trip all the way to the dump.

If they want to fill in the bay or litter the freeways with advertising signs and beer cans, that's not my problem. After all, I don't happen to have a bay view, nor do I live next to the freeway.

Let them line our creeks with concrete. I don't have to look at it. While we're at it, why not string Mt. Tamalpais with colored neon lights? I can't see Mt. Tam from my window, and why should a privileged few get to enjoy its natural beauty? Besides, think of all the tourist revenue it would attract to beautiful Marin!

There Has To Be A Better Way

The I-J's editorial of last Wednesday (April 30) re students, residents of Kentfield and the flood control issue exposes its shallow understanding of the beauty of this county.

People stake their lives in Marin because of the trees, the trails, and creeks teeming with small life for children to explore. Those brave "militants" as you call them, like Marty Jones, have risked ridicule for all of us who love Marin. If there were more ridiculous people in the "over-30 generation" today's youngsters would be able to raise their families near something more than a concrete ditch filled with paper trash nine months of the year. (Why doesn't this concern students?)

Flood control, yes. But not at the expense of a major part of our ecology here. There has to be a better way. The Army Corps of Engineers has made a gross error and is in the process of cementing it for posterity . . .

Creek Protest For Benefit Of All

It saddens me to see your lack of sensitivity to the deeper meanings in the current events. You have the power to influence, and the means of expression in your press; you also have a responsibility to investigate why the people act as they do, to probe deeply and respond to man in his struggle to be a part of the formation of his own destiny.

There is something going on down here that is beautiful. The souls of Marinites have met, regardless of age, for a common good. There is no tangible benefit to any one of those people protesting. We are all trying to save something for the future, for the benefit of mankind. The long-term consequences of this controversy and potential benefits of mankind. The longterm consequences of this controversial and potential benefit to mankind (when we succeed) are enormous. From a mere handful of people this cause has been taken on by hundreds of concerned individual citizens. I can't (nor can anyone) force another person to do what he doesn't believe in. A good cause grows faster than the wind; it exhilarates and is joyful in the face of obstacles. Were the average reporter to report, instead of editorialize and distort by omission, democracy would be smoother. The people get frustrated when they feel they can't be heard.

We are an ad hoc committee of individuals. My name is there as secretary-treasurer to provide a contact for offers of help and suggestions; and also it necessarily is there for detractors to use as they will. Use it as you will, but get down here and talk to those human beings who have made a moral committment and who bore witness to the fact by being arrested. Seek the meaning of this. Beneath the cause there is love of nature; there is concern for humanity; there is brotherhood in action. This is creation, not destruction, and it drives people to take a stand and be counted. Listen and feel and delve without fear, open your eyes to both sides and take the risk of finding the truth from both sides before you detract. You too can create and have the means of the press to do so. We have only the one-to-one approach, but watch it soar!

Sausalito Critic Hides Behind Alias

In a letter which you published on April 16, one "Arthur Mentor," Sausalito, claimed to have been a member of the Sausalito Citizens Council. He went on to attack both the organization and our president, Arie Slikkerveer.

No "Arthur Mentor" has appeared on the membership records of this organization since it was founded in 1947; neither does such a person show on current or recent lists of registered voters in Marin, we are told by the county registrar of voters.

We will appreciate your help to set the record straight and to indicate hereby our support of our president.

Sausalito.

(Editor's note: "Arthur Mentor" apparently does not exist, and someone signed a fictitious name to a handwritten letter to the Independent-Journal. The address on the letter was 100 South Street, Sausalito, which is the Cote d'Azure Apartments. Thorough investigation has disclosed no "Arthur Mentor" living in those apartments. While Arie Slikkerveer, president of the Sausalito Citizens Council, is not a citizen, he does not hide behind an alias, as does the writer who signed his letter "Arthur Mentor.")

Marin City Fence Should Come Down

From the story which you did on the fence in Marin City passover to Sausalito, I think you had a very full report on the subject of the fence.

I think the fence should be taken down because it doesn't look good on the face, because students who live in Marin City don't like the fence. When they walk past they don't like the feeling of being fenced in like they are in a prison camp. . .

Nobody of Marin City was told that the fence was going to be put up . . . If everyone would have had some say about the putting up the fence there wouldn't have been arguments. The people in Marin City pay taxes and the money they used came out of their pockets without the advice or consent of the people of Marin City. . .

So now the fence is still up and they haven't started to take it down. They said that they were going to take it down, but haven't. So I wish that the working of taking down the fence would begin so that the students would feel a little better about walking to school.

Transportation Need Well Set Forth

I'm sure that the thousands of readers who read your editorial in Saurday's (April 26) I-J — those forgotten citizens of Marin County who have been without intra-county transportation for many years — were deeply grateful to you for your keen understanding of their problems.

It is beyond my comprehension how Marin County can, for example, erect such a beautiful Civic Center but make it accessible only to those citizens who have private transportation — what on earth did they have in mind.?

I am acquainted with many housewives who do not drive. Many who, even if they did, cannot afford a second automobile. I know other people with very realistic needs to supplement the family income who cannot because they simply cannot get to where the job is. I have friends whose lives would change considerably if they only had a way to get around — these are people who want to do volunteer work — call on sick friends, etc., etc. I could go on raving about this problem but it seems to me you hit the nail on the head so anything further that I could add would only be repeating what you so adequately expressed.

On behalf of all the people who are without transportation, I wish to thank you sincerely for your sensible editorial. Let's hope it reached the right persons and that they will really get the wheels in motion.

Antipay TV Film Resented

I willingly pay $2 to see a good film, but this week at two Blumenfeld theaters (Sequoia and Lark) I was forced also to sit through a commercial, anti-pay-TV propaganda in poor taste, calling pay-TV "a monster about to invade your living room." I was even solicited for my signature on a petition to ban pay-TV. The Blumenfeld commercial is also a gross misrepresentation, telling me I shouldn't pay for what I now get for free. I asked the manager of the Sequoia Theater about this and he admitted that the real reason for the commercial was so we would not pay at home for what we now pay for at the theater. The manager was vehemently upset when I signed the petition with a "No" after my name. I would certainly like to see some editorial comment on your part, sir.

One Step Farther On Interest Conflict

The I-J carried a very interesting article today by Paul Peterzell, about possible conflict of interest by Assemblyman Bill Bagley.

According to Peterzell, our legislator approached the Bay Conservation and Development Commission, a Legislature-established body, on behalf of a private client who desired a Bay fill permit. Peterzell identifies Ed Slevin as one commissioner approached, and notes that Slevin's proxy voted in favor of Bagley's client.

The discussion could have been carried a paragraph farther.

Commissioner Slevin happens to be a public relations man by trade, in fact, one who specializes in conducting political campaigns. One wonders whether or not Bagley has ever been a Slevin client himself in the past, although this may not be as significant as the fact that Assemblyman Bagley undoubtedly has a campaign for re-election coming up in 1970 — and Mr. Slevin is likewise looking for clients.

(Editor's note: Slevin has done some advertising work for Bagley in several campaigns, but Bagley's staff reported that he has not managed any of Bagley's campaigns.

Marin Women

A Mother's Care On The Stork Express

By BARBARA HOSMER

Generally the stork doesn't bring babies, but sometimes the Stork Express does. Last year it brought 52 from the Marin-Sonoma area.

Actually the Stork Express is a jitney service run by volunteer housewives to transport three-day old infants from local hospitals to the Children's Home Society in Oakland to be placed in foster homes until adoption.

Teams of volunteers from each of the six Children's Home Society chapters in the Marin, Sonoma and Napa areas keep layettes in readiness so that, like firemen, when the call comes in from the private adoption agency headquarters in Oakland they are ready to pick up the baby.

Two women usually make up the team—one to drive and one to hold the baby en route to Oakland.

"USUALLY BOTH want to hold the baby," and there's a good-natured argument over it, says Mrs. Thomas Burford of Novato, North Bay Council president for the Children's Home Society, and herself a Stork Express volunteer.

When the volunteers reach the hospital the baby's natural mother has already gone home.

The Stork Express volunteers meet the nurse in charge, who has been notified that the volunteers are coming, explains Mrs. Burford. Each volunteer has an identification card from the Children's Home Society authorizing her to receive the baby. The hospital provides bottles of formula to keep the infant well fed during the drive to the home in Oakland, and the women set off across the bay, one cuddling the baby as if her own.

THE VOLUNTEERS readily admit that they quickly become attached to an infant, and sometimes they will stay at the Oakland home to meet the foster parents who will take the child until his natural mother decides to keep him or relinquish him for adoption.

"I have five girls and was tempted to steal a boy baby once," Diane Burford said jokingly, but the Stork Express, which is statewide, has never lost a baby.

Sometimes the volunteers are asked by the Children's Home Society to take a baby on a plane flight to another city, where it is met by a caseworker and eventually placed with adoptive parents.

"We never know when we might have to make a sudden plane flight," says Mrs. Burford. "The stewardesses get involved, too, and usually announce about the baby passenger because people aboard are curious."

LAST AUGUST Mrs. James Kean of San Rafael and her daughter Terry took four babies to the airport and accompanied them to their destination in Santa Barbara.

"Mrs. Reuben Val Tierra drove us from the home in Oakland to the airport, where we really caused a scene," says Mrs. Kean. "The babies ranged from three weeks to three months old and people wondered how it was that we happened to have four babies.

"The airline men helped us carry them aboard and the stewardess was a great help. Some women at the airport rushed up to us and said, 'we know what you're doing—we did this last week.' They were other Stork Express volunteers," Treva Kean explained.

"When we got to the office in Santa Barbara the nurses were there and the temporary foster parents were all there and began to compare the babies' weights, ages and how long they were. Everybody was completely involved."

All together, the Keans spent about 10 hours transporting the tots to their new home. The babies were placed with foster parents for a week or 10 days until their adoptive parents were ready.

"On all these trips, from the nurses at the hospital to the caseworkers, doctor and nurses at the home, there is tremendous security for the child all the way," she says.

THE STORK EXPRESS picks up babies from all the local hospitals that have maternity sections. In Marin volunteers drive to Marin General, Novato General and Hamilton Air Force Base hospitals. In Sonoma Chicken Little Chapter of Petaluma and Rose Red Chapter of Santa Rosa provide the services, and the new Golden Goose Chapter runs the volunteer express from Napa.

But actually the women may drive much farther. Sometimes Santa Rosa and Napa volunteers go as far north as Yreka to fetch infants to be taken to Oakland. This saves the professional caseworkers time, so that they can devote it to processing adoptive parents and counseling natural parents to provide every child with a good, stable home, whether with his natural parents or adoptive couples.

Fairly often a caseworker can work out a second job or other financial arrangements to allow a natural parent to keep the child, especially in families where there are already three or four children and the problem is a strained budget

WARMTH AND SECURITY go along with a three-day old baby on the trip via the Stork Express to the Children's Home Society in Oakland for temporary foster home care. Housewife volunteers who are themselves mothers pick up the babies, such as this one at Novato General Hospital, and care for them as they drive them to the Oakland home, where foster parents are waiting. Marin volunteers here are Mrs. Jeanne Chapman, left, and Mrs. Thomas Burford, both of Novato.

NURSE MRS. Harold Avery hands the form for the release of the baby for home care to Mrs. Burford to sign, while Mrs .Chapman cuddles the infant. Stork Express volunteers for the Children's Home Society of California are authorized to sign the temporary release form and transport the infant to the society headquarters in Oakland. The baby's mother may either decide to keep her child or relinquish it to adoptive parents while it is being given foster home care. (Jim Kean photos)

Jennifer B. Shibley To Be Married In Santa Ana Ceremony On July 25

Jennifer Bovard Shibley will be wed July 25 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Santa Ana to Gary Myron Guilbert. Both are residents of Los Angeles.

The future bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bovard Shibley of Ross. She is the sister of Allison Shibley and Mrs. Rory Cameron of Bad Hersfeld, Germany. Jennifer bowed at the 1964 Marin Debutante Ball. She is a graduate of Redwood High School and the University of Southern California, where she was affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority.

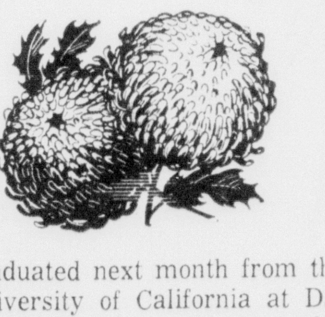
Mr. and Mrs. Myron O. Guilbert of Pauma Valley are the futured bridegroom's parents. He is the brother of Suzanne Guilbert and Mrs. John Ohlfest of Klamath Falls, Ore. Gary is also a graduate of USC, where he was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. He is employed by Computer Science Laboratory in Los Angeles.

JENNIFER BOVARD SHIBLEY

Pair Plan August Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Devoto of Santa Rosa have announced the engagement of their daughter, Frances, to Gerald Dixon of San Rafael. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dixon of San Rafael.

Frances is a graduate of Santa Rosa High School and Santa Rosa Junior College and will be graduated next month from the University of California at Davis. She plans to study toward a secondary teaching credential at San Francisco State College next fall.



Gerald is a graduate of San Rafael High School and the University of California and is a dental student at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

The couple plan an Aug. 9 wedding.

Back To Berkeley Campus

By MOLLY MARIN

Marinites heading back to Berkeley tomorrow to attend the open house at the Delta Delta Delta sorority house in Berkeley and tour the University of California campus with student guides include Mr. and Mrs. Henry Broderick of Tiburon; their son, Jon, and daughter, Christine; Mmes. Harriett Ballinger and Norma H. Tanner and her daughter, Alice, all of Tiburon; Messrs. and Mmes. Stewart Burmeister, David Brady, John Murphy and George Walsh, all of San Rafael.

The senior octet of the University of California Glee Club will present a program at the sorority house at 4 p.m.

Mrs. Edward Morrison has invited a group of friends, including Mrs. S. W. Fordyce of Belvedere, to a luncheon at her Berkeley home preceding the campus tours. A post-tour party is planned at the Blair Evans' residence in Berkeley.

THE DAVID J. Tirrells are planning a supper party at their summer home in Bolinas May 25 for Mr. and Mrs. Bonsal Segerman, who are moving East.

AN INFORMAL open house was given Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Weller Pierce of Greenbrae at their home on the occasion of Mr. Pierce's birthday. Friends and neighbors of the couple attended the gathering.

DR. AND MRS. RAYMOND Lutzker of Mill Valley are parents of a daughter, their first child, born Sunday in San Francisco.

Grandparents of the baby, named Sarah Dimity, are Mrs. Leone Pinker of Eastbourne, Sussex, England, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lutzker of Miami, Fla.

SEVERAL SHOWERS are planned this month for Lorel (Poppy) Eager, who will become the bride of Linwood Dully on June 14 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Eager of Kentfield. Tomorrow Poppy will be feted at a shower by Mrs. Peter Ribar of Kentfield, and on May 17 Mrs. Richard Boss and her daughter, Mrs. John Regli of Sacramento, will honor the bride-elect at the Boss home in Kentfield.

An unusual "great outdoors" shower will be given for Poppy by Mmes. Bernard Stone, James W. Barnett and David J. Dorward at the Dorward home in Kentfield. Guests will gather around the pool for picnic lunch and the couple, who are outdoors enthusiasts and Sierra Club members, will be presented with fishing, camping and hiking gear. Following their marriage they plan a summer of bicycling through Britain and Scandinavia.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'Why Not Ask Them?' Helen Responds To Reader's Query

DEAR HELEN:

Our neighbors use our dirt driveway to turn their car around in, instead of going about 50 feet further and turning in the cross street. They use it twice a day and, in rainy or snowy weather, it gets to be a real mess.

What can we do to stop this? —LOU

DEAR LOU:

This I'll never understand: Why do you folks write to a columnist on the other side of the country when a simple "Would you mind . . .?" could get the job done fast?

Try it! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'd like to know why they don't make it easier for a woman to get an operation so she would have no more babies? This seems a lot more sensible than pushing abortion laws.

I am 30, have three children, and we can't afford any more. I can't take the pill or use the coil as they both cause physical and medical problems. Other methods don't work.

If they'd make tying the cords easier, it would solve a lot of problems. —WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED:

The only difficult thing about this type of operation is the expense — it's major surgery and therefore not cheap.

A vasectomy for your husband is less costly, being minor surgery, but you must be sure you want no more children before he takes this route. The operation is often irreversible.

Why not talk the whole matter over with your doctor? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Why don't more department stores designate men's rest rooms? A woman can look at the directory and see "Ladies Lounge" but do you ever read "Mens Comfort Station?" No! And show me a man who will ask!

If you do have that kind of nerve, chances are you'll get a raised eyebrow and a vague direction to the employees' room out back, which you never find — or if you do, somebody takes you for a thief.

DEAR MIKE:

Right. I think. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

About your readers' explanations for how the world was populated. True, farther along in Genesis it says Adam had more sons and daughters, and lived to be over 900 years old, but it also says earlier that Cain went into the land of Nod and took a wife — this even before Seth was born.

Some people seem afraid when they hear there might have been other people on earth when Adam and Eve arrived. But if we read the facts as set down in the Bible, we must assume there were others here too. Nowhere does it state that Adam and Eve's children intermarried. When God said "Let us make man in our image . . ." I think He was speaking collectively . . . or perhaps there were others then on earth whom God did not create. — MRS. B.

DEAR HELEN:

In the Lost Book of the Bible and The Forgotten Book of Eden, we read that both Cain and Abel had twin sisters — Lulawa and Aklemia. Each married the other's twin and that's how the world began to multiply. — DOMINICK

DEAR EVERYONE:

Fascinating! So far I've received nearly 1,000 explanations of how the world began — an all-time high for responses to any one letter. God is not dead! —H.

CHAIN BELT popularity is at an all-time high. Designers feel it is the beginning of a waistline jewelry trend with an anything goes attitude. And anything that clinks, slinks or links will add life to last year's shift.

St. Laurent Belt Starts Chain Reaction In Style

It's just like trimming the Christmas tree. But this season you wind the tinsel round and round the waist. This latest of fashion pastimes all started with St. Laurent's chain belt of several collections back.

The chain belt was just the beginning of what has come to be called waistline jewelry. Waistline jewelry starts with anything clinky, slinky or linky. It buckles, wraps, sashes or ties . . . at the waistline, or thereabouts.

Waistline jewelry can be a series of gold or silver coins or discs linked together. It can be chunky gems set on a chain. It can be rows of tasseled cords or colorful ropes, or scarves strung through a chain. It can be a heavy waistline cuff or a string of buckles or medallions. It can be a complex of chains worn like a harness. It can even be a simple belt.

There are also bogus belts on the scene. They clip across the waistline front instead of circling it. Another new belt-look features an alphabet of gold-plated letters suspended from a chain. One favorite summer waistline jewelry item is an updated version of a pop-it bead set. The beads mix and match in colors, can be worn in a single strand or built row on row for a hip-to-rib cinch.

Whatever your choice, making waistline jewelry a part of your wardrobe will add the perfect finish to new layered costumes and will give new life to last year's shift.

Janet Pedersen Engaged To David Alan Walter

A family dinner and a candle ceremony were the occasions for announcing the engagement of Janet Marie Pedersen and David Alan Walter, both of Kentfield. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pedersen, and the future bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walter.

Janet and David are graduates of Redwood High School. Janet is a student in the San Jose State College nursing program, where the candle was passed to announce her engagement. She has attended the University of California, where David is now enrolled.

The bride-elect is the sister of Ardith, Virginia and Kenneth Pedersen, all of Kentfield. Her grandmothers are Mrs. P. I. Pedersen of San Jose, formerly of Mill Valley, and Mrs. Frederik Gervolstad of Piedmont.

David is the brother of Sharon, Mark and Gary Walter of Kentfield and the grandson of Mrs. Louise Stokes of San Rafael and Mr. and Mrs. Joachim Rudiger of San Francisco.

Roaring Twenties In Sausalito To Be Recalled At Speak-Easy

"Sausalito in the 1920's" will be the theme at the Sausalito Woman's Club tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Members will be admitted by password to a waterfront speak-easy featuring entertainment and music in the 1920's style, with the Sweet Adelines directed by Steve Carrick.

Chairman Mrs. Patrick Taylor is being assisted by Mmes. Edward Bronson Jr., Michael Graham, Walter Guthrie, Allan Hayes and Robert Thompson, decorations; Justin M. Day, W. M. Haynes and Garret Hodgson, food; and Gordon H. Douglas, Patrick Flynn, A. W. Gallagher, Charles Henderson, George Kowski, James Muldoon, Clifford Raisbeck, S. C. Stapp and D. W. Shitaker, entertainment.

TOMORROW starting at 9 a.m., the Educable Mentally Retarded Class at Sinaloa Junior High School is sponsoring a rummage sale to be held in the school gymnasium. The proceeds will be used for a trip to Disneyland for the 10 students of this class.

Clothing, furniture and records are among the items on sale to raise funds.

THE GOLDEN GATE Chapter of Clipped Wings will sponsor tomorrow night's performance of "The Impossible Years" by the Ross Valley Players at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Proceeds will go to Project HOPE, the international hospital training ship.

Benefit chairman is Mrs. Warren Vincent of Kentfield. Reservations for tickets may be made by calling the Ross Valley Players.

SAN RAFAEL ASSEMBLY 195, International Order of Rainbow for Girls, will hold a meeting tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the San Rafael Masonic Hall. Election of officers will be held and appointed officers announced.

In the afternoon a luncheon and degree honoring the mothers of the members of San Rafael Assembly will be held.

BICYCLE OWNERS may register their bicycles from 8:30 a.m. to noon at the Bike Rodeo at San Rafael City Hall on Fifth Avenue.

Registration chairmen Mmes. James Reese and Edward Lankenau of Peter Pan Chapter of Children's Home Society remind owners that bicycles must be brought and a small fee is charged.

A complete description of each bicycle is recorded for the permanent file which is available to local law enforcement agencies in the event of a reported lost or found bicycle.

THE MARIN COUNTY Foster Parents Association will sponsor a Mother's Day pancake breakfast on Sunday at the social hall of the Blessed Sacrament Church, 160 North San Pedro Road, San Rafael, from 8 to 11:30 a.m.

Proceeds will support the program for foster children in Marin County.

A "Mother's Day Make Believe Tea" is planned on Sunday. For this non-event a large mailing, with each envelope containing a tea bag, a napkin and a return envelope asking for a nominal contribution, is being sent. The donation will be used for research.

Mmes. Fred Frauens, Donn Lando and Elmo Pieri are co-chairmen and Mrs. Joseph Ramblas is handling publicity.

GREEK PASTRIES made by the Greek Women's Auxiliary of Marin County, will be sold tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at three locations: Long's Drugs in Novato; Scotty's Market, Terra Linda, and the Marin Co-op, Corte Madera. costs--gasoline, bridge tolls and incidental costs.

Each volunteer is given a physical checkup and each year has a tuberculosis test. The chapters each have Stork Express chairmen and a group of volunteers. In smaller chapters the whole membership may take turns running the transport service.

The volunteers' enthusiasm, whether they are with Peter Pan, Jolly Rogers and Tom Thumb chapters of Marin, Rose Red, Chicken Little or Golden Goose in Sonoma and Napa, is what makes the Express work. They're always eager to be "on the road again," fussing good-naturedly about who gets to hold the baby.

Students To Be Wed

MERRIE ANN MAJOR

The future bride is the daughter of Mrs. Edward E. Major of Santa Rosa and the late Mr. Major. Ed Major is her brother. She is a graduate of Ursuline High School and is in her sophomore year at Sonoma State College.

Robert, who is also a student at Sonoma State, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Marshall of Dunsmuir. He is a graduate of Dunsmuir High School and College of Marin.

Chicken And Turkey Top List For Abundant Meats

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that food shoppers will find good displays of meat and poultry and adequate supplies of some fresh fruits and vegetables in food stores and supermarkets this second weekend in May.

Heading the list of abundant meats are broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys. Among the beef cuts in more than ample supply are roasts and steaks and ground beef.

On USDA's plentiful foods list for May, in addition to turkeys, onions, and Maine sardines, are canned and frozen green beans, canned and frozen corn, canned beets, and canned tomatoes and tomato products.

IN THE WEST:

Eggs are lower in all markets and turkeys are slightly higher in Los Angeles.

Beef prices are advancing while pork prices are mixed in all markets. All sizes of eggs are lower in all markets. In Los Angeles turkeys are higher and fryer chickens are higher in Portland.

Choice beef cuts are higher in all markets and other beef cuts are higher.

Veal is higher in Portland and calf is higher in California markets.

Pork loins are lower in all markets except Los Angeles where they are higher. Spareribs are higher in all markets and fresh picnics are lower in Los Angeles. Slab bacon is higher in Portland and lower in Los Angeles. Sliced bacon is lower in San Francisco. Smoked hams are lower in Portland and higher in San Francisco.

FRUITS AND vegetables in best supply include apples, bananas, avocados, grapefruit, emperor grapes, oranges, strawberries, cabbage, carrots, lettuce, onions and potatoes.

Arabs

Miss Hofmann To Wed After Trip To Europe

The engagement of Suzanne Michele Hofmann to Paul H. Rabwin is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hofmann of San Anselmo.

Paul and Suzanne are students at the University of California at Santa Cruz. During the fall quarter she will study in France while he assists with the casting and designing of a musical production in Europe.

SUZANNE HOFMANN

Joss Boothby Is Engaged

The engagement of Josselyn Boothby of Greenbrae and Stephen Michael Robertson of San Francisco has been announced, and the couple plan a July 12 wedding in Sausalito.

The daughter of Mrs. Virginia Boothby of Greenbrae and John B. Boothby of San Francisco, Josselyn is the sister of John T. Boothby, a student at the University of California, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Lydia Boothby of El Cerrito and Mrs. Lloyd J. Thayer of Carmel.

She was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and the University of California and received a teaching credential from San Francisco State College. She is a teacher with the San Francisco Unified School District.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Robertson of San Francisco, Stephen is a Lowell High School and the University of California graduate. He was just graduated from Hastings College of Law in San Francisco. Stephen is the brother of Edward Robertson of San Francisco.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Two Finesses Must Be Made To Make Difficult Contract

You've often taken two finesses in the same suit through the same opponent. For example, when you hold A-Q-10 of a suit you try a finesse with the ten and later try another finesse with the queen. Today's hand is unusual because declarer must try two finesses in the same suit, but one against each opponent.

Opening lead — ♠ J

SPOTS TROUBLE

South wins the first trick with the king of spades, noticing that he has seven tricks in top cards. He can easily develop one additional club trick, but the ninth trick is harder to find.

The diamonds are out of the question. If South gives up one diamond, back will come a spade to the ace. When the opponents get their other diamond trick they will defeat the contract with the rest of the spades.

South cashes the top hearts since dummy's ten will supply the ninth trick if the jack of hearts drops. When there is no luck in hearts South must win three club tricks to make his contract.

MANY POSSIBILITIES

South can develop three clubs if either opponent has the singleton or doubleton king of clubs or if East has the king of clubs but not the ten. Declarer can play for all of these possibilities by leading a low club to start the suit.

When West plays a low club, declarer tries a finesse with dummy's nine. If this drives out the king, South is home. If the nine loses to the ten of clubs, South must cash the ace of clubs next in the hope of dropping the king of clubs. This takes care of all singleton or doubleton king combinations.

GUARDED WELL

As the cards lie, the king of clubs is well guarded but the ten of clubs is in favorable position. If East takes his king, South easily wins three club tricks. If East refuses the trick, dummy's nine wins. Declarer then leads the queen of clubs from dummy for a finesse, making a total of three club tricks when this second finesse succeeds.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 2-no-trump (22 to 24 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ 6 4
♥ 10 6 5 2
♦ 8 6 4
♣ Q J 9 2.

ANSWER: Pass.

You need four points in high cards or an unusually long suit to respond to an opening bid of 2-no-trump.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, May 9, the 129th day of 1969 with 236 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1502 Christopher Columbus set sail from Cadiz, Spain, on the fourth and last trip to the New World.

In 1926 Commander Richard Byrd and Floyd Bennett became the first men to fly over the North Pole.

In 1946 King Emmanuel III of Italy abdicated. The throne was yielded to his son, Crown Prince Humbert.

Last year Russian troops began moving near the Czech border. The Czech president said his nation would continue its reforms.

34 Will Join In 'Paper Fair'

Thirty-four organizations will participate in the second annual "Paper Fair" tomorrow through May 17 at the Co-op Marin, 71 Tamal Vista, Corte Madera.

The fair will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday. It will include displays, demonstrations, informational tables, fund-raising booths and book sales, according to Mrs. Helen Anderson, chairman.

The cast of the Mountain Play will appear Saturday to distribute information on its forthcoming production.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael library.

FAMILY

"African Safari" — Story covers a span of 5 years in central and East Africa of capturing live animals and snakes for zoos. Photographer records awesome scenes. Incredible — a must-see.

"Guru" — A group of entertainers and hippies make a pilgrimage to India to study music and Hinduism under their favorite Guru. Authentic indoor and outdoor locations makes film well worth seeing.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Buona Sera, Mrs. Campbell" — For their 20th reunion, three fliers and their families return to an Italian village. Each flier has been paying generous child support to an Italian woman for her illegitimate daughter. Risque comedy.

"Charly" — Poignant dramatiziation of a fictional case history of first human subject of a new type of brain surgery on a mentally retarded young man. Thought - provoking, sensitive performances from the cast.

"Killer's 3" — A returned veteran fights poverty in North Carolina by bootlegging and bank robbing. Scheme leads to wholesale violence and murder. Killers are sentimentalized.

"Romeo and Juliet" — The great tragedy is made vividly new and immediate in a superlative production.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"The Incident" — A psychological drama of violence that underscores the current problem of public fear and apathy where crime is rampant.

"The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie" —Story of the unethical and uninhibited conduct of a teacher in a girls school in Scotland in the 1930s. Her behavior is presented as amusing and acceptable. Nudity and sex are explicit.

ADULTS ONLY

"Week End" — Revolutionary oratorio of French film maker, Jean Luc Godard, provides bitter denunciation of contemporary society. English titles. (Parents Magazine)

"Thomas Crown Affair" — Criminal and investigator become involved in a torrid love affair. Crime pays well in this case. Very modern treatment; all phases of immorality are taken for granted.

"Two for the Road" — Sophisticated comedy has several explicit love scenes and extremely frank dialogue.

Grenade Kills Young Trainee

FORT ORD (UPI)—A young infantry trainee was killed yesterday when a hand grenade exploded as he was about to throw it out of a training bunker.

Army authorities identified the victim as Stephen W. Rowe, 21, son of David G. Rowe of San Francisco and Mrs. Coreen M. Rowe of Pacoima, Los Angeles County.

The father is a newsman for United Press International in San Francisco.

Military authorities opened an investigation of the premature hand grenade explosion. Rowe, who joined the Army in January, was in the seventh week of advanced infantry training.

Invitation To Join In Annual Show

Painters, sculptors and graphic artists from the Bay Area have been invited to participate in the Marin Art and Garden Fair's annual art show, July 2 through 6, in Ross.

Cash awards will total $375, with $150 going for the best-in-show and other awards of $100, $75 and $50, reported Mrs. Marcelle B. McCoy, fair manager.

Entry cards must be in the Marin Art and Garden Fair office, Box 437, Ross, by June 18, Mrs. McCoy said. Entries must be delivered to the Frances Young Gallery at the fairgrounds June 21 sometime between 10 a.m. and 8 p.m.

The nonrefundable entry is $1 per work and no more than two works can be submitted by any one artist.

The show is open to residents of Marin, Alameda, Contra Costa, Napa, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Solano and Sonoma counties.

Bus Falls, 6 Die

MANILA (UPI) — A bus plunged off a 20-foot cliff in Leyte province in the southern Philippines yesterday, killing six persons and injuring 22.

Safeway Picket Plans Defended By Lawmakers

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The picketing of Safeway Stores planned for tomorrow by striking California farm workers won the endorsement of 16 Democratic state legislators yesterday.

The United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, has designated tomorrow as "International Boycott Day" and will attempt to force the supermarket chain to stop selling California table grapes. The union is conducting a nationwide boycott of the grapes as part of its strike against grape growers.

The legislators issuing the statement were Sens. George Moscone of San Francisco, Mervyn M. Dymally of Los Angeles, Nicholas C. Petris of Oakland and Albert S. Rodda of Sacramento and Assemblywomen Yvonne Brathwaite of Los Angeles and March K. Fong of Oakland and Assemblymen Willie L. Brown Jr. of San Francisco, Bill Greene of Los Angeles, Leon Ralph of Los Angeles, David A. Roberti of Los Angeles, Alan Sieroty of Beverly Hills, L. E. Townsend of Gardena, John Vasconcellos of San Jose, Charles Warren of Los Angeles, Henry A. Waxman of Los Angeles and John L. Burton of San Francisco.

'I ENJOYED IT'

Teacher Nears Retirement After A 44-Year Career

By JOANNE GRANT

There is more unrest now, but basically children haven't changed much in the last 44 years, said teacher Frances Collens, looking back over her long career in the classroom.

"Seventh and eighth graders are apt to try to copy what they read about," Mrs. Collens explained.

"But they still try to worm out of things sometimes," she smiled, comparing her first days as a teacher in Northern Minnesota with her present duties as a mathematics teacher at Davidson Junior High School, San Rafael.

Mrs. Collens will be leaving that post at the end of the semester. On July 1, she and her husband, Vernon J. (Jack) Collens, will retire to Fort Bragg.

The children have not changed, but the curriculum has, Mrs. Collens said, noting the major difference in her field was the coming of "new math."

She approves of the change, pointing out "much of it helps to clarify some of the rules" which children formerly just memorized. "It twlls how to do the work and why," she said.

Mrs. Collens has been teaching math at Davidson for the past eight years. Before that she was a sixth grade teacher at Oliver Hartzell School, San Rafael, and before that was in Oregon and Minnesota.

The highlight of her abundant memories of hundreds of children is the results, she said. "Kids come back to you even after they've gone to college."

Mrs. Collens said she had always wanted to be a teacher and liked her work, except for checking papers. The hardest part, she added in an interview at her home at 116 Picnic Avenue, San Rafael, is "having to give grades — having to decide whether it's an A or a B."

She explained that sometimes she knows the child knows the material but has made a minor mistake in arithmetic. One of the advantages of new math is that there sometimes can be more than one answer, she said.

Mrs. Collens has taught for so many years because "I enjoyed it," she said. She also has no children of her own and no particular interest in "just staying home and playing cards."

Her husband maintained it is because she is dedicated. "She was so busy teaching she only stopped to get married 15 years ago," he said.

The couple plans to move to Fort Bragg simply because they like the area. She plans to "enjoy freedom for awhile." "No bells," she smiled.

She will also help her husband who handles and gathers mushrooms, an interest she has acquired from him.

"They have a lot of mushrooms, a lot of varieties" around Fort Bragg, she said, obviously looking forward to the new hunting ground.

Larkspur Trustees Weigh Substitute Teacher Pay

The Larkspur School District board last night pondered how to finance a nearly 38 per cent increase in substitute teachers salaries, then decided to put the request in with other salary increase requests for 1969.70, Supt. Milton S. Cohen reported today.

The request from the Marin County Substitute Teachers Association is that salaries be hiked from $24 to $33 per day.

In other salary matters, the board adopted a resolution asking that health and welfare benefits be included in the computation of classroom teacher salaries.

Trustee Curtis P. Kamai reported that salary negotiations with the Larkspur Teachers Association are continuing and the board said it plans to take final action on the 1969-70 salary schedule at its regular meeting May 22.

Trustees went into closed session to discuss hiring teachers for 1969-70 but held over action until May 22.

Larkspur School District Board Also:

SUMMER SCHOOL — Heard that more than 400 pupils have registered for summer school to be held June 18 to July 18 at Neil Cummins School with Alfred Kerr as principal.

FEDERAL FUNDS — In a state Department of Education, letter, was advised that, contrary to rumors that National Defense Education Act funds are being terminated, sone funds will be forthcoming in the latter part of May.

COMPENSATORY EDUCATION — Was informed by the state Department of Education that Larkspur School District is one of 30 California districts chosen for its successful compensatory education programs.

Tomales Board Sets School Dedication Date

Tomales Joint Union High School District trustees last night set Aug. 24 for the dedication of its new $995,400 high school and named themselves as a citizens committee to plan the fete.

The board will be dissolved June 30 when the district is absorbed by the Shoreline Unified School District.

Supt. Anthony Matulich, who also was named to the planning committee, said the new school is now scheduled for completion by June 1.

The Tomales Joint Union High School District Board also:

ACCREDITATION — Reviewed an accreditation report on Tomales High by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges which granted the school accreditation through June 30, 1974, the first time the school has been given a full five-year, instead to three-year, accreditation. Matulich said a limited number of the reports are available from the district office in Tomales.

LECTURES — Approved a request by the Pacific Marine Station for a summer lecture series at the school

AUTO — Received a report from Matulich that negotiations are underway for a new drivers education car to replace the old one which was wrecked two weeks ago.

MEETING — Set its final meeting for 8 p.m. June 12 at the school.

Committee Slates Drug Abuse Talks

The five-member Belvedere-Tiburon committee studying drug abuse in the Reed School District will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in Belvedere City Hall to plan for the community drug abuse workshop to be held June 7.

Time and place of the workshop will be set, according to Kenneth Wells, committee publicity chairman.

Auto Plunges Into Bay, Driver Dies

Alexander Edmond Williams, 59, of 10 Locust Avenue, was pronounced dead at Marin General Hospital at 8:30 p.m. after a tow truck pulled his car from the five-foot-deep water and pried the doors open with a winch to release him.

Mill Valley police said William's car was southbound at 7:50 p.m. on the Redwood Highway frontage road past Sabella's restaurant and plunged straight ahead where the road curves under the Richardson Bay bridge. It vaulted over a guard rail and landed upside down in the water. Two policemen suffered minor cuts trying unsuccessfully to free Williams from the submerged car.

It was not known, pending autopsy, whether Williams suffered a seizure before the accident, drowned when the car went into the bay, or died of crash injuries. Police said there was no sign the car had braked or tried to turn.

Williams, one a San Francisco schoolteacher, had been a partner since 1938 of Mary Lathrop (Molo) Williams in a craft school which was in San Francisco for many years and moved to Mill Valley in 1964. They were married in 1967 and Molo died last year.

Williams recently remarried and is survived by his wife, Ethel C. Williams of Mill Valley. He was a native of California.

If listed as a traffic fatality, William's death will be the 12th to date in Marin this year. There had been eight traffic deaths by this date last year.

Funeral is pending at Russell and Gooch mortuary, Mill Valley.

Marin Bicycle Championships Open Tomorrow

The 1969 Marin Bicycle Championships for boys and girls age 7 through 12 will be held tomorrow and May 17. Events will include a bicycle safety check and obstacle riding.

Preliminary competition will be held at 8:30 a.m. Saturday with five winners to be selected at each of six schools.

Youngsters from Novato, Hamilton Air Force Base and Ignacio will compete at Novato High School; those from Marinwood, Terra Linda and San Rafael at San Rafael City Hall; those from San Anselmo, Fairfax and Ross at Wade Thomas School, San Anselmo; those from Larkspur, Corte Madera and Greenbrae at Neil Cummins School, Corte Madera; those from Mill Valley, Belvedere and Greenbrae at Edna Maguire School, Mill Valley, and those from Sausalito at Central School.

Winners of the preliminaries will compete at 8:30 a.m. May 17 at San Rafael City Hall.

The contest is sponsored by KTIM, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Schwinn dealers. The top three winners will receive bicycles.

Mendoza To Head Milk Producers

Other officers named were Wilfred LaFranchi, vice president; George Rogers, secretary, and Louis Zanardi and Kenneth Kehoe, re-elected to the board of directors. The meeting was held Saturday at the West Marin Community Center.

Woman To Prison On Checks

Francille Ann McGee, a 22-year-old San Francisco woman who has had a penchant for using fictitious names, today was sentenced to a one-to-14-year state prison sentence for two counts of possessing stolen checks with intent to defraud.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court made the sentence concurrent with other prison terms Miss McGee has to serve, including a federal six-year sentence. She is also awaiting sentencing in Alameda County for the same type of offense.

Miss McGee, who pleaded guilty to the Marin charges, allegedly was the check passer for a San Francisco man who specialized in "fencing" stolen checks.

She appeared in court today wearing a gold knit suit and with her hair modishly arrayed, matching the description police gave of her when they arrested her March 7 in Mill Valley driving a 1969 Cadillac.

She was at that time sought on earlier charges and was attempting to cash $250 in stolen travelers checks at a Mill Valley bank.

She fled when bank officials became suspicious but was caught by pursuing bank employees.

Ross Trustees Set Session On Hiring

The Ross School District board will meet in closed session at 7:30 p.m., Monday, to discuss hiring of employees for the 1969-70 school year, then reconvene in open session at 8:30 p.m. to discuss the overall 1969-70 budget.

Supt. Robert D. Gowan will report on the statewide testing required in sixth grade.

Daughter Tells Of Letter Dictation

The trial in which the heirs of an octogenarian are attempting to regain property and cash given by him to two young women continued today with the old man's daughter calling upon her "beautiful mother to rise from the grave," if she weren't being truthful.

Adeline Bootzin Rodriguez resumed the witness stand in Marin Superior Court to testify belligerently about a letter sent over her father's signature to his protegee, Charmaine Klenman.

Max Bootzin did not dictate the letter, which was "aimed at setting things right with the girls," Mrs. Rodriguez said today, but rather the letter was the work of Miss Klenman.

Mrs. Rodriguez, who was unable on cross-examiniation to spell words in the letter, referred to the letter-writing occasion as having taken place "after Miss Klenman hit my father on the head with a lamp."

The letter, which was later typed and sent to Miss Klenman by an attorney, expressed appreciation of the old man for the "friendship and companionship" which Miss Klenman and her friend Joan Saylor had given to Max Bootzin.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson, who is hearing the case without jury, smilingly said he was convinced that neither Mrs. Rodriguez or Max Bootzin had authored the letter.

Mrs. Rodriguez and her two brothers, Robert and Morris Bootzin, are attempting through the executor of her father's estate, Vincent Hallinan, to regain the house in Mill Valley which Max Bootzin gave Miss Klenman.

Miss Klenman, Miss Saylor and the old man lived together in house for several years before his death in 1966.

The threesome had a number of spats, according to testimony, and after a tiff over the old man's refusal to add a third bedroom to the house, he moved out and filed suit against the women to recover his property.

Teen-Ager Turns Self In After Burglary Episode

An 18-year-old Corte Madera youth, Robert Edward Decker, of 14 Serra Street, turned himself in last night to Ross police in connection with the burglary of a Ross home, and a 17-year-old companion was arrested today.

Decker was booked into Marin County Jail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today, and his companion, Michael Richards of 147 Meernna Avenue, Fairfax, was booked into juvenile hall, both on suspicion of burglary.

Ross police reported that Mrs. Laurence B. Higbie returned to her home on Makin Grade at 2:4 p.m. yesteray to find Richards loading household goods into a car parked outside. On receiving a vague explanation from him, Mrs. Higbie jotted down the license number of the car, which proved to have been borrowed by Decker from a friend and loaned in turn to Richards.

Decker, police said, turned himself in at 11 p.m. after being persuaded to do so by the father of the car's owner, to whom he went for advice. Richards was arrested at 1 a.m. today at his home.

Missing from her home, Mrs. Higbie said, were a .22 caliber semi-automatic rifle, a portable TV set, and a stereo radio with two speakers. No estimate of value was made.

the "i" and "s" out of the word "axis" and then gave the rest to DeGaulle will not soon be forgot, for 'tis on that day that we discovered this truly outstanding, immaculate 3 Bdrm., 2 Ba. & Fam. Rm. ranch-style-residence. Owner's pride shines spotlessly thruout from the handsome combination of exterior red brick & shake roof to the wrought iron railinged sunken L. Rm. to the relaxed "have-fun" atmosphere of the spacious Fam. Rm. with its brick fireplace. 30 min. to G.G. Toll. Don't let your pride prevent you from taking advantage of the sizable, assumable 5¼% G.I. loan; an outstanding value & opportunity here! Just Listed!

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

School Administrator Ratio Bill Is Upheld

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill setting definite ratios of administrators to teachers in the state's school districts was pressed in the Legislature today as a way to save up to $111.5 million for education.

"Education takes place in the classroom," said Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, D-Burlingame.

Ryan, chairman of a joint legislative committee on teacher licensing and public school employment, made public a report on a study of the number of administrators in the schools of the state—and what they do.

"This report proves what has long been common knowledge to thoughtful people," he said. "Pupil achievement, pupil progress, pupil gain do not correlate with a high number of administrators."

Ryan introduced a bill earlier in the year that would set the definite ratios of administrators to teachers and said the joint committee report "substantiates" the bill.

As a result, the report showed, the schools would have 8,579 fewer administrators for a potential savings in salary of $111.5 million.

The report shows there are now 25,112 adimnistrators in the schools of the state—4,965 in elementary schools, 2,340 in high schools, 996 in junior colleges, 7,810 in unified districts, 490 in high school-junior college combination districts, 1,041 in elementary-high school combination districts and 7,470 in other unified districts.

VIEWS ON CAMPUS

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto says Gov. Ronald Reagan should deal separately with "students who want disruption for its own sake" in handling campus disturbances.

Alioto, a potential Democratic candidate for governor next year, told the Sacramento Rotary Club Reagan should use "something more than repressive force" in dealing with such unrest.

Alioto said he believes both he and Reagan agree on using policemen to control campus riots.

"But I am not so sure he is willing to work quite as intently on keeping some stability and keeping separate those students who want disruption for its own sake, the hardliners, against those legitimate educational issues which are totally involved," he said.

CAL-VET FUNDS

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill authorizing the sale of revenue bonds as an alternate means of financing Cal-Vet home and farm loan programs was killed yesterday by the Assembly Government Administration Committee.

Assemblyman Ernest N. Mobley, R-Sanger, said his measure was designed to keep the Cal-Vet program on firm financial footing because the state is having difficulty selling general obligation bonds to pay for the programs.

Mobley said the banks and savings and loan companies worked behind the scenes to have his bill defeated because "they wouldn't be able to make any money of the Cal-Vet program if it were funded by revenue bonds. They're protecting their self interests and no more . . ."

REAGAN RAPPED

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman John P. Quimby, D-Rialto, says Gov. Ronald Reagan's administration opposes his bill to provide college scholarships for children of policemen killed in the line of duty.

Qpimby said Thursday the Department of Finance sent him a letter announcing its opposition to the measure which allot $1,500 a year for each child qualified to attend college.

The lawmaker described the letter as "a cold and calculating expression of the Reagan administration's confused attitude which speaks of supporting the policemen but not supporting his bereaved family."

FLOOD PLAN HIT

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Assembly Democratic leader Jess Unruh told a U.S. Senate Committee today that Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin is disregarding the law in failing to provide surplus food programs for all California counties.

In testimony prepared for the Senate Committee on Hunger in America, Unruh urged the panel to seek transferring the food programs from the Department of Agriculture to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

He noted that three California counties are not participating in such federal programs five months after the Agriculture Department was ordered by a federal court to implement the programs in those counties.

The Inglewood Democrat told the committee only a small portion of the 400,000 California school children eligible for the federal free lunch program are getting the food.

Panel Suggests Closing Borders

ANAHEIM (UPI) — Four panel members at the California Water Pollution Control Association conference yesterday suggested limiting the state's population and raising taxes to protect the ocean waters.

The panel suggested closing California's borders to all future immigrants, encouraging the use of birth control pills and assessing higher taxes to slow the effects of the state's ever increasing population on offshore waters. However, panel member Dr. Wheeler North, professor of Marine Biology at Cal Tech, said he had serious doubts the "ocean would ever win" if a vote were taken between saving the sea and limiting the state's population.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

A 50-year-old author wrote to us on a subject that bothers many people. "My physician wants me to have a periodic chest X-ray as part of my annual examination. So much is written about too much radiation that I want to know if this procedure does more harm than good."

To fully understand the risks it helps to know some background material. The roentgen (R) is the basic unit of radiation exposure. In discussing this problem, most authorities refer to 1-1000 of a roentgen (mR), which is an extremely small amount of radiation.

A CHEST X-RAY exposes the body to 10 milliroentgens, of which 1 mR passes through and escapes from the body.

What is the amount of radiation to which a person can be safely exposed? For those older than 18 years of age, the level is 5,000 mR per year. According to this calculation, it is obvious that 10 mR annually is a fraction of what is considered safe. Furthermore, the 5,000 mR figure is based on genetic considerations. But the gonads are not in the direct path of the beam, and less than 1 mR reaches the pelvic area in a chest X-ray.

ALL OF US are exposed to evironmental radiation every day. Cosmic radiation coming from the sun adds 5 mR per year. Terrestrial radiation from rocks, houses, food, and the earth contributes 50 mR yearly. Radioactive fallout is the third source; at present it contributes 5 mR per year.

If all of these are added to the 10 mR of the chest X-ray, we get 100 milliroentgens, which is minute when compared with the 5,000 mR allowed.

Other X-rays may be substantially larger. Dental X-rays vary from 300 to 3,000 mR; ankle, 150 mR; and pelvis, 3,000 mR. Exposure of 500,000 to 1 million mR to the whole body is fatal. In treating cancer, a localized area may receive from 5 to 8 million milliroentgens.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

BOY, 2, CHEWS WOOL

Mrs. H. writes: For more than a year my 2-year-old son has been chewing on anything with wool in it, especially blankets. Does his diet lack something?

REPLY

This may represent pica, a condition in which the person has an abnormal craving for chalk, cigarette butts, wool, clay, and other inedibles. As a rule it is a passing stage in development.

BRANDY AND STERILITY

Mrs. P. writes: Does drinking brandy regularly make a man steril?

REPLY

Not when used in moderation. However, too much alcohol may reduce libido, but has no effect on sperm production.

39 High School Seniors Given College Scholarships

Thirty-nine high school seniors from Marin and Southern Sonoma counties have been awarded Frank P. and Polly O'Meara Doyle Scholarships for the 1969-70 academic year at Santa Rosa Junior College.

Individual awards range from $100 to $1,000 and total $80,550 for the 241 scholarships that have been awarded.

Cotati Studies Ways To Improve Water System

The Cotati City Council last night studied possible methods of improving the city's water system.

Robert Heid, city engineer, presented plans on how the city could make improvements to its existing water well system, or could hook into the Coyote Aqueduct which supplies water to Rohnert Park and the rural areas.

Noting general dissatisfaction in the community with the high content of minerals in the well water, the council said it would give serious consideration to joining the Coyote system.

Heid said the costs of both types of improvements would be about the same and estimated them at $25,000. The city council, anticipating the improvements, set aside that amount last year.

The Cotati City Council also:

LOT SPLIT — Granted the lot split request of Cofego Enterprises to reduce a 175 foot by 1,442 foot lot into two lots with the smaller being 175 by 327 feet.

TAXI CAB — Granted the request of Paul O. Huffman to operate a taxi cab in the city. The rates were set at 50 cents for first one-quarter mile; 50 cents for each additional one-fifth mile, and $4.50 per hour for standby time. Huffman also operates a cab in Rohnert Park.

Five Years For Berkeley Drug Peddler

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A 25-year-old Emeryville man, described as "a major supplier" of illegal drugs in Berkeley, got little sympathy when he told the judge he was peddling narcotics to get a start in the business world.

"You are sentenced to five years in prison. That is the maximum sentence because this is a maximum case," Judge William T. Sweigert told Arthur Hill Standfield Jr. in federal court yesterday.

The judge, unimpressed by Standfield's pleas for a stay of sentence, ordered the 6-foot, 9-inch youth into custody.

"He told government agents he had made $50,000 in previous years from selling drugs," said the judge, who characterized Standfield as "a major supplier of drugs in the Berkeley area."

The youth's attorney, Richard Werthimer, said his client wanted to become a successful businessman and used the profits from his drug sales to start a clothing store in Berkeley and to make films.

Even though the clothing store failed, Werthimer said, the youth "quit the drug business when his other businesses started to show a profit."

Motorists Urged To Observe Work

James Bowler, resident engineer in Marin for the division, said the lanes will be narrowed and restriped between the Mission Avenue viaduct and North San Pedro Road from 3 to 8 a.m. The work is part of the highway widening project.

Reed Board Talks On Budget Cuts

The Reed School District Board last night discussed program and staff cuts totaling $149,000 but reached no decisions after two hours and postponed further discussion to May 20.

The staff has recommended cuts for 1969-70 totaling $114,000 in art, music, Spanish and "more able learner" programs and cuts of $35,000 in nonteaching personnel. The cuts are to meet a budget squeeze in the coming fiscal year.

In other business, the board hired a replacement for Harold Bickel, counselor at Del Mar School, who has been given a leave of absence, and approved a program to hire a counselor for fifth and sixth grade pupils through a $9,000 federal grant.

The Reed School District Board also:

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Elaine Grinell, humanities teacher at Del Mar School, who has taken another teaching job.

A $25,000 Boost For Marin Housing

The Ecumenical Association for Housing in Marin, which is campaigning for low and moderate rent housing, will get a $25,000 grant from the San Francisco Foundation for one year's operation.

The housing association, initiated by the Human Rights Commission's crisis committee, now has a membership of 24 organizations, each pledging $200 to start the campaign for housing.

Chairman James O. Quiett, who did not attend last night, was re-elected chairman for another year by unanimous vote. Bella Aaron was re-elected vice chairman, and Richard D. Harding was appointed to the executive committee as its third member, succeeding Arthur L. Brown.

The Human Rights Commission also:

BUDGET — Heard from executive director Austin J. Thompson that he will ask for a 1969-70 budget of $67,721, which would provide for an assistant director and a half-time stenographer to be added to his staff. This year's budget is $47,000.

POLICE TRAINING — Heard from Mrs. Aaron that the Marin County Police Chiefs Association is supporting the police comunity relations training proposal, and local attorneys, psychiatrists, educators, and law officers have offered their professional services.

New Arrest For Suspect In Burglary

Mark Jefferson Lee, 20, already facing sentence next week on a second degree burglary conviction, was arrested again yesterday on suspicion of possessing heroin and petty theft, San Rafael police said today.

Police said Lee was arrested at 4:30 p.m. by security men at the Emporium in Northgate Shopping Center after he allegedly shoplifted a $3 pair of sunglasses.

He was searched and police found a vial containing a white powder which, they said, Lee told them was heroin. He had fresh needle marks on his arms, police said.

Lee was held at Marin County Jail in lieu of $500 bail for a court appearance this afternoon.

He was scheduled to be sentenced Monday in Marin Superior Court on the burglary conviction. He pleaded guilty in April to the attempted burglary of the Greenbrae Pet Hospital last Nov. 3.

Fairfax Planning Next Congress

The project committee for the 1969 Fairfax Congress for Community Progress last night selected Oct. 11 for the second annual congress.

Details will be set later, according to Ross Parkerson, chairman of the publicity committee.

Project committee officers elected last night were Joseph Walla, chairman; Carol Steigler, vice chairman, Eleanor Harvey, secretary; Edward McGee, treasurer, Parkerson, publicity committee chairman, and Dorothy Olson, chairman of the questionnaire committee.

The committee decided to meet the second Thursday of each month at 8 p.m. at the Women's Club.

Elderly Inmate Faces Napa Trip

A 67-year-old man, claiming he was the universal spirit, was to be sent to Napa State Hospital for psychiatric commitment after Sausalito police arrested him on Bridgeway yesterday for a narcotics offense, police said.

Joseph James Cloud was reportedly "acting strangely" yesterday afternoon. Police arrested him on suspicion of being drunk or under influence of a drug.

Police said they found five capsules of an unknown white powder in Cloud's pockets and booked him at Marin County Jail on suspicion of possessing narcotics.

Jailers said today Cloud would be sent to Napa.

Water Directors' Meeting Advanced

Final payment for Phoenix Dam rehabilitation will be considered by the Marin Municipal Water District board at 1:30 p.m. Monday in the district offices in Corte Madera.

The board's next regular meeting would have been Wednesday, but Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger will be out of town.

Goldilocks Invaders Forgiven

An Olema woman, who became angered when her ranch house had been invaded in the manner of Goldilocks and friend, warmed up in Northwest Marin Justice Court and forgave the appealing wayfarers.

Mrs. Dennis Wisby filed a complaint with the Sheriff's Department after she learned that Robert L. Del Tredici, 30, and Toby Cytryn had eaten her food, taken baths and rested in her home on March 28, then left behind a note with their names and addresses and $3 to cover the cost of the "porridge." The Sheriff's complaint charged them with trespassing.

Del Tredici and Miss Cytryn both of San Francisco, told Judge David R. Baty Wednesday that they became lost whie hiking on March 27 near Pelican Lake.

"They walked most of the night, stopping to rest now and then. Miss Cytryn lost her shoes and cut her feet and Del Tredici carried her for a while, he said. on the following afternoon, exhausted, they arrived at the Wisby house and — finding no one home — took shelter. On leaving, they left $3 for the food they had eaten.

Mrs. Wisby returned home, she told the court, found someone had been eating her food and then, she said, "I went upstairs and found that someone had slept in my bed."

The court found the pair not guilty Wednesday because of the extreme circumstances, clerk Stella Phillipscheck reported. The judge asked Mrs. Wisby what he should do with the $3 taken into evidence. "Return it to them," Mrs. Wisby told the court.

30 Flee Blaze At Berkeley Lab

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—Thirty persons fled to safety yesterday when a $300,000 fire ate through the roof of the Berkeley Medical Instruments Co., causing it to collapse on the firm's laboratory.

No one s injured in the two-alarm blaze which was brought under control in 30 minutes by a force of 50 firemen.

Elks Lodge Team Is State Ritual Winner

A ritual team from San Rafael Lodge 1108 has won the California-Hawaii Elks championship and will compete in the finals with other state winners in Dallas, Tex., on July 13.

The San Rafael team defeated 15 other district champions at the California-Hawaii State Elks Association convention now underway in Palm Springs. The team won the Northwest District championship two weeks ago, beating the Fairfield lodge.

Members of the team are Frank S. Armato, exalted ruler; Louis S. Nelson, leading knight; Joseph J. Sousa, esquire; John R. Kunst, inner guard; John H. Oliva, loyal knight; Arthur J. Roberts, lecturing knight, and Alfred J. Dalacio, chaplain.

Armato, Nelson, Sousa and Kunst also won first prizes in individual competition, while Oliva, Roberts and Dalacio finished no lower than third in individual categories.

The last San Rafael team to win state honors was in 1948. That team finished second in the national competition.

James M. Sanford of San Rafael served as the candidated for membership when the San Rafael team performed the initiation rite. Coaches of the champions are James W. Farhner and Eugene T. Morrison.

The team will be honored at a party tomorrow evening at the Elks Lodge.

No Charge Yet In Silver Case

No complaints were filed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court againts two San Rafael men arrested Wednesday in San Anselmo for allegedly carrying a pillow case full of apparently stolen silverware.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Gary T. Ragghianti said that the district attorney's office is still investigating the matter.

In the meantime, Paul Danny Cassidy, and George Edward Myers, both 22, were released.

In another development, Myers' father, Edward, said yesterday his son does not live at the address he gave to booking officers at the time of his arrest — 35 Martens Boulevard, San Rafael. Myers said that is his (the father's) office address and he does not know where his son lives.

Best Shows For Today

Best bets on television tonight:

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 7:30 p.m. — "Riddle of the Mayan Cave" is an hour-long documentary on an expedition to the Guatemalan highlands to hunt evidence of the great Mayan culture that thrived from 300 to 900 A.D. Peter Jennings narrates.

KQED (9), 8:30 p.m. — "NET Playhouse" presents "The Journey of the Fifth Horseman," Ronald Ribman's award-winning drama, starring Dustin Hoffman. Based in part on Ivan Turgenev's novel "The Diary of a Superfluous Man," the production is performed with the original Off Broadway cast.

KTVU (2), 9 p.m. — "Shoecase" offers "Portrait: Milton Berle," and takes a look at the comedian who has risen through silent films, vaudeville, talkies and radio to become "Mr. Television."

KPIX (2), KXTV (10), 9 p.m. — Tony Randall, Anita Ekberg and Robert Morley star in the movie thriller, "The Alphabet Murders," based on Agatha Christie's popular mystery novel, "The A.B.C. Murders." British performers Maurice Denham, Guy Rolfe, Sheila Allen and James Villiers are also featured in the film, set in London.

Proposed Hike

Corte Madera's tax rate, under the preliminary budget presented to the town council this week, would require a 19-cent increase next fiscal year to a total of $1.14 per $100 assessed valuation. A story in yesterday's Independent-Journal reported the correct increase, but a headline said nine cents instead if 19.

Stanford Youths Vote Boycott

STANFORD (UPI)—The militant April 3rd movement wants Stanford students to boycott classes Monday and Tuesday and instead hold group discussions on the school's war-related research on and off campus.

About 400 students voted for the boycott almost unanimously last night in a meeting. They plan to spend the intervening time trying to convince the 11,000 other students to join them.

Professor Harold Kahn, speaking for a group of 30 teachers, indicated his group would seek to have the faculty cancel their classes on those two days.

Israel Steps Up Operation Against Arabs In Jordan

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel stepped up operations against Arab guerrillas in Jordan in the past 36 hours with a commando raid that killed three Arabs and blew up 12 houses and two air strikes.

Israeli commandos dashed a mile and a half beyond the Jordan River last night in the first such raid in nine months. They attacked houses in Wadi Jabis which Arab saboteurs were believed to have used.

An Israeli spokesman said the village 20 miles south of the Sea of Galilee was abandoned. He said it had been the target of artillery attacks in the past.

The spokesman said there were no Israeli casualties.

Earlier yesterday, Israeli jet fighters bombed and strafed Bir El Harir, an Arab guerrilla camp in southern Jordan 20 miles south of the Dead Sea, the Israelis reported. A spokesman said all planes returned safely.

A military spokesman in Amman, the Jordanian capital, said there were no casualties among Jordanian troops, but did not say anything about guerrillas.

Israli planes hit the same target late Wednesday, but the Jordanians said ground fire drove them off.

Firing broke out again early today between Egyptians and Israelis along the Suez Canal, but Israeli spokesmen said there were no casualties. A spokesman said firing last night at both ends of the waterway killed two Israeli soldiers and wounded three others, but both sides said the exchange was light compared to previous days.

Although it included a blast at Israeli leaders, Malik's statement was taken by some observers to be aimed at Egypt, which has said the cease-fire is no longer applicable along the canal because Israel has built up its fortifications there.

In Lebanon, the explosive dispute between the caretaker government and the Arab guerrilla organization called Al Saika continued. Official sources said hundreds of armed commandos remained encamped in the hills overlooking Hasbaya, in southern Lebanon, where the Lebanese army and the guerrillas clashed earlier this week.

The guerrillas are believed to be members of Al Saika, which is affiliated with the Syrian government, but Al Saika issued a statement saying it had not been involved in the clashes with the Lebanese army. It called for an investigation.

The Syrian government also denied it was in any way involved in the troubles in Lebanon and said the guerrilla organizations formed their own policies.

$115 Stereo Theft

Mike Cummesky of 2 Circle Drive, San Rafael, reported to San Anselmo police at 3:30 p.m. yesterday that during the day someone stole $115 in stereo equipment from his car parked at Sir Francis Drake High School.

MUSIC REVIEW

'George M!' Fresh Piece Of Nostalgia

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

SAN FRANCISCO — The San Francisco Civic Light Opera Association launched its 32nd season last night with a sometimes sparkling musical about America's Yankee Doodle Man, George M. Cohen.

And, too, it's a nostalgic look into the past history of the musical theater, for George M. Cohan was one of the first to throw off the shackles of European-oriented musicals, giving the theater an Americanized flavor.

Grey abounds with energy — typical of the late George M., who wrote, sang, danced, directed and produced his own string of smash hits. When the impish-looking Grey belts out "Give My Regards to Broadway," "Over There," or "You're a Grand Old Flag," there's a feeling the ebullient Irishman really didn't die, but has been in hiding all these years.

The high-stepping Grey, who was last seen on a San Francisco stage as Littlechap in Anthony Newely's "Stop the World, I Want To Get Off," is matched with a highly polished chorus of dancers and singers led by youthful Gene Castle, who nearly stopped the show with his high-kicking dance in the first act's "Popularity" number.

Again and again the dancers lifted the sometimes overly sentimental script with a sustaining freshness in such other production numbers as "Push Me Along In My Pushcart" and "Nellie Kelly I Love You."

Giving more than adequate support to Grey's highly-polished performance are Betty Ann Grove as Nellie Cohan; Jerry Dodge as Jerry Cohan, his father; Pamela Peadon, as Agnes Nolan; Bill Gerber as his partner Sam Hassis; Jennifer Wiliams as Josie Cohan and Judy Knaiz as Ethel Levey, Cohan's first wife. Special support was also given by Jacqueline Alloway as Fay Templeton, the sexy siren of early-day Broadway who delivered a very believable "Mary."

Costumes and lighting matched the unusual approach in the settings, giving the look of the pre-World War I era.

Without the sterling performance of Joe Layton, the show's director and choreographer, the show simply woundn't hang together as well as it did. A Tony Award winner for staging this production, Layton has chosen well in selecting such a youthful cast.

"George M!" is the first of the association's three productions of the season, running at the Curran for eight weeks.

Inmate Testifies In Murder Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A witness testified yesterday that John Lynn and Larry Taylor, accused of murdering a Lake County deputy during an escape attempt, talked of overpowering a guard and grabbing his gun just days before the fatal shooting took place.

The witness, Carroll Jolly, also told the court that Lynn and Taylor, both 24 years old, and other prisoners tried to escape prior to the killing by using a file smuggled into the jail by a trustee to cut through prison bars.

Jolly was an inmate of the Lake County jail along with the defendants.

Lynn and Taylor are charged with killing Deputy William D. Hoyt on Oct. 11, 1967 as he and another guard led them from the Lake County jail to the court house.
